

to the north of the said line shall be constituted a new archdeaconry, and shall be and be called the archdeaconry of Lindisfarne; and all that part of the said county of Durham which lies to the north of the said county of Northumberland, shall be included in and form part of the said archdeaconry of Lindisfarne.

“ And we further recommend and propose, that the limits of the deaneries of Alnwick, Bamburgh, Corbridge, Morpeth, and Newcastle-upon-Tyne, in the existing archdeaconry of Northumberland, shall be newly arranged, and that the same shall be respectively divided, and out of the portions thereof four new deaneries shall be constituted, which shall be and be called respectively the deaneries of Norham, Rothbury, Bellingham, and Hexham; and that the deaneries of Bellingham, Corbridge, Hexham, and Newcastle-upon-Tyne, shall be in the archdeaconry of Northumberland, and the deaneries of Alnwick, Bamburgh, Norham, Morpeth, and Rothbury, shall be in the archdeaconry of Lindisfarne; and that the said deaneries respectively shall contain and consist of the several parishes set against their respective names in the schedules hereunto annexed, marked A. and B. respectively.

“ And we further recommend and propose, that all parishes, churches, or chapelries locally situate within either of the said archdeaconries, but subject to any peculiar jurisdiction other than the jurisdiction of the Bishop of Durham, shall be only subject to the jurisdiction of the Bishop of Durham for the time being.

“ And we further recommend and propose, that the said Edward Bishop of Durham may and shall forthwith collate some fit and proper person to the dignity or office of archdeacon of the said archdeaconry of Lindisfarne; and that the right of appointing the archdeacon of Lindisfarne shall be vested in the said bishop, and his successors bishops of Durham, for ever.

“ And we further recommend and propose, with the consent of the said Edward Bishop of Durham, testified as aforesaid, that the canonry in the said cathedral church of Durham which shall next become vacant shall, immediately upon the vacancy thereof, become and be annexed and united to the said archdeaconry of Northumberland, and be held by the archdeacon of Northumberland for the time being, so long as he shall hold such archdeaconry, and no longer; and the then and every future archdeacon of Northumberland shall, as such archdeacon, be entitled to installation to the same canonry, and shall be invested with, and so long as he shall remain archdeacon of Northumberland, but no longer, shall hold and enjoy, all the rights, privileges, and emoluments of a canon of the same church; subject, nevertheless, to the provisions of an Order of your Majesty in Council, bearing date the eleventh day of August last, relating to the revenues of the dean and certain canons of the said cathedral church.

“ And we further recommend and propose, that, from and immediately after the annexation of such canonry as aforesaid to the archdeaconry of Northumberland, the rectory of Howick, now annexed thereto, shall be disannexed therefrom, and shall be a benefice with cure of souls in the patronage of the said Bishop of Durham, and his successors bishops of Durham for ever.

“ And whereas the vicarage of Eglington, within the limits of the said archdeaconry of Lindisfarne, and in the patronage of the see of Durham, has been represented by the said Edward Bishop of Durham, and appears to us, to be a suitable endowment for the said archdeaconry:

“ We, therefore, with the consent of the said Bishop, testified as aforesaid, further recommend and propose, that the said vicarage of Eglington shall, upon the next vacancy thereof, become and be annexed and united to the said archdeaconry of Lindisfarne; and that the then and every future archdeacon of Lindisfarne shall, as such archdeacon, become and be vicar of the said vicarage of Eglington, and shall possess and enjoy all rights, privileges, and emoluments belonging to the said vicarage, so long as he shall remain archdeacon of Lindisfarne, and no longer.

“ And we further recommend and propose, that, until the time of such last-mentioned annexation, there shall be paid by us, out of the common fund in the secondly-recited Act mentioned, to the archdeacon of Lindisfarne for the time being, the annual sum of one hundred and eighty pounds, on the first day of January in every year, and every such annual payment shall be made only upon production to us of a certificate,
