

the truth of the matter may be best known, you diligently inquire whether or no it will be to the damage or prejudice of us, or any other, if we should grant to the Right Honourable and Most Reverend Edward Lord Archbishop of York, the Right Honourable William Earl of Devon, and James Loch, devisees under the will of the Most Noble Francis Duke of Bridgewater, deceased, and the Right Honourable Francis Egerton, commonly called Lord Francis Egerton, tenant for life in possession of the estates devised by the said will, licence that they, the said Lord Archbishop of York, Earl of Devon, James Loch, and Lord Francis Egerton, may enclose and stop up a common street or public highway, situate in the several parishes of Saint Martin in the Fields, and Saint James's, Westminster, in the said county of Middlesex, and called or known by the name of Catherine Wheel-yard, leading from Cleveland-row, in the said parish of Saint James's, Westminster, to Little Saint James's-street, in the said parish, in the said county of Middlesex; the said common street or public highway, so to be inclosed and stopped up, beginning at the north west corner of a garden belonging to a house, the property of the said devisees and Lord Francis Egerton, and late in the occupation of the Right Honourable Thomas Grenville, situate on the west side of Cleveland-square, and ending at the north eastern corner of certain coach-houses and stables, situate in Catherine Wheel-yard aforesaid, the property of the Right Honourable John Charles Earl Spencer, and containing in length 380 feet or thereabouts, and in breadth 20 feet or thereabouts; and that the said devisees may hold the said way, so enclosed and stopped up, to them and their heirs for ever; so that, instead of the said way, the said devisees and Lord Francis Egerton do make in their own land another carriage way, or carriage ways, as convenient and commodious for carriages, passengers, and travellers, as the said way so to be stopped up and enclosed as aforesaid; and if it will be to the damage or prejudice of us or any other, then to what damage, or to what prejudice of us, and to what damage or to what prejudice of any other, and of whom and how, and in what manner, and how much that way, to be held by the said devisees as aforesaid, doth contain by number of perches or feet of land, as well in length as in breadth; and that you return the inquisition thereof distinctly and plainly made without delay unto our Chancery, under your seal, and the seals of those by whom it shall be taken, together with this writ.

Witness ourself at Westminster, the 11th day of April, in the sixth year of our reign.

Bentall.

By Sir Frederick Pollock, Knight, Attorney-General of our Lady the Queen.

Notice is hereby given, that the inquisition on the said writ will be taken at the Tavern, called Fenton's Hotel, in St. James's-street, Westminster, on Saturday the 8th day of July next, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, when and where all parties interested are to attend.
