

Act, or the said Act now in recital; and such district shall be under the immediate care of the curate appointed to serve such chapel, but subject, nevertheless, to the superintendence and controul of the incumbent of the parish church; and all such curates shall be nominated by the incumbent of the parish to the bishop for his licence, except where the right of nomination shall already be legally vested in any other person or persons, and in every such case by the person or persons possessing such right of nomination, subject to all the laws in force relating to stipendiary curates, except as to the assigning of salaries to such curates; provided always, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, with the consent of the bishop of the diocese, to determine whether any and what part or proportion of the fees or dues for marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials shall be assigned to any such curate, and whether banns of marriage shall be published, and marriages or baptisms, churchings or burials, shall be solemnized or performed in any such chapel or not; and in any case in which marriages shall be allowed in any such chapel, the Commissioners shall cause the boundaries of the district assigned to such chapel to be enrolled in the High Court of Chancery, and in the office of the Registry of the diocese, any thing in the said recited Act to the contrary notwithstanding; and no such chapelry shall become a benefice by reason of any augmentation of the maintenance of the curate, by any grant or bounty under the provision of any Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, for augmenting small-livings, any thing in such Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, to the contrary notwithstanding."

And whereas by another Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, made and passed in the first and second years of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled 'An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" and also by another Act, made and passed in the second and third years of His said late Majesty, intituled "An Act to render more effectual an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled 'An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect:

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to Her Majesty in Council, bearing date the twenty-sixth day of April one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, in the words following, viz.

"Your Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches, appointed by virtue of an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" continued by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and further continued by an Act, passed in the first year of your Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to prolong, for ten years, Her Majesty's Commission for building new churches;" beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending the parish of Mold, in the county of Flint and diocese of Saint Asaph, it appears to be expedient, that particular districts should be assigned to the chapels at Gwernafield, Nerquis, Pontblyddyn, and Bistre, in the said parish, under the provisions of the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and that such districts should be named, respectively, "The Chapelry District of Gwernafield," "The Chapelry District of Nerquis," "The Chapelry District of Pontblyddyn," and "The Chapelry District of Bistre," with the following boundaries, namely:

"The chapelry district of Gwernafield is to consist of the township of Hendrebiffa, and part of the township of Gwernafield, and is bounded, on the west and north, by the parish of Cilcain; on the east, by the township of Gwsaney; on the south east, by the remaining part of the township of Gwernafield, called Rluall Tythe Township, and the township of Mold; on the south, by the townships of Broncoed and Arddynwent, all in the said parish of Mold; and on the south west, by the parish of Llanferres, as shewn on the map hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured yellow:

"The chapelry district of Nerquis is to consist of the townships of Nerquis and Arddynwent, and is bounded, on the north, by the township of Hendrebiffa; on the west, by the parishes of Llanferres and Llanarmon; on the south, by the township of Treiddyn; on the south east, by the township of Leeswood; and on the east, by the township of Brencoed, as shewn on the map hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured green:

"The chapelry district of Pontblyddyn is to consist of the township of Hartsheath, part of the township of Leeswood, and those small parts of the township of Bistre which lie south of the river Alun, bounded on the north west by that part of the township of Leeswood which comprises Tynewydd and Pentrehobin farms; on the north west, by the township of Nerquis; on the south, by the township of Treiddyn; on the south east, by the parish of Hope; and on the east, by the township of Bistre and the river Alun, as shewn on the map hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured pink:
