By the King,

A PROCLAMATION.

JAMES R.

WHEREAS in the time of the late Rebellion, We, upon just Grounds, gave Order for the Apprehending of Henry Lord De la Mere; to the end he might enter into Security to Us for keeping of the Peace towards Us and Our Subjells during that Rebellion; And although he had notice thereof, and was severall times Advertised to Render himself; yet in Contempt of Our Authority, and to render Our Commands for the Preservation of the Peace of Our Kingdoms ineffectual, did abscond himself, and yet doth abscond himself, contrary to the Duty of a Good Subjell, whereby he hath given Us good Cause to suspect his Fidelity towards Us. We therefore, with the Advice of Our Privy Council, do Command, Rubjish, and Declare by this Our Proclamation, That the said Henry Lord De la Mere do, within Ten days after the Date hereof, appear before Us in Our Privy Council, upon pain of being Proceeded against for his Contempt to Our Royal Commands, according to the Laws of this Our Kingdom.

Given at Our Court at Whitehall, the 19th day of July, 1685. In the First Year of Our Reign.

Genova, July 10. The French Gallies, according to the last advice we had of them, were still at Leghorn, expecting to more from Marsailles to joyn them. The last week sailed from hence the Advice and Sarah for Palermo, the Scanderberg for Lisbon, and the Valentine for Cadix.

Venice, July 2. They write from Dalmatia that the Bassa of Bosna, to repair the Disgrace the Turks lately suffered at Duare, having been forced by the Troops of this State to retire from thence in great disorder, had drawn all the Force he could together, and was marching with a resolution to renew the Siege of that Fortress; And that the Proveditore General Falier having notice of it, was likewise marching to oppose him. We have advice by a Vessel arrived here from Brindiss, that Captain General Morosini is sailed with the Fleet under his Command towards Lepanto. They write from Zant that a Brigantia was arrived there from Suda, the Master whereof reported, That the Turkish Fleet consisting of 50 Gallies, and several Men of War, was still in the Port of Soia, and that the Captain Bassa had been forced to disarm 10 of those Gallies, the better to Man the rest. There are Letters from Constantinople of the 15th of the last month, which tell us, that the Grand Visier had sent a Chapan with a sum of Money to Argiers to fit out there 10 Men of War. That 3500 Spances were arrived at Trebisonde; and that 4000 more were expected from the Black Seas having been raised on the Frontiers of Persia. That Abraham; formerly Bassa of Babylon; and now of Damus, was come to Adrianople with 1500; but had immediately after his arrival, his Government was taken from him; and that he himself was in great danger of being Strangled, for that he had not brought with him 3000 men, according to the Grand Signior's order.

Warsaw, June 29. The Court continues at Villahoua, and many begin to think the King will not go into the Field this Summer, but that he will leave the Command of the Army to the Rux Marschal, and himself take a journey towards Prussia to settle several Affairs which want his Presence there. The Troops in the meantime marching to the General Rendezvous, but so slowly, that it will be towards the end of the next Month before they are in a Body. The Great Marschal and most of the General Officers are still here; They had this week a Conference with the Popes Nuncio, who has received a very considerable sum of Money from Rome for the Service of this Campaign, but he seems unwilling to distribute it without some assurance that the War will be more vigorously prosecuted this Summer than it was the last. The General of the Cossacks that are Tributary to the Port, having written to Mohila, who commands those under the Protection of this Crown, to persuade him to quit the Service he is in, and to put himself into that of the Grand Signior, assuring him in that case of great Preferment and Reward, the said Mohila hath sent this Letter to the King, accompanying it with Protestations of his unalterable Fidelity to him and the Crown of Poland. Since which the said Mohila has, we hear, attacked 10000 Tartars that had posted themselves near Ratukaw; and routed them, killing many of them upon the place; and obliging the rest to repass the Niesler in great disorder. The States of Prussia are to meet the 11th of the next month at Graudentz, to agree about the way of raising their proportion of 10 nine Millions of Livres which the Dyet granted in their last Session, for the supporting the present War against the Turks.

Vienne, July 5. The Letters from Hungary tell us, that the Imperial Parties had taken several Persons which came out of Newbeusel, and among these an Officer who in the disguise of a Peasant was going to Buda with Letters from the Bassa of Newbeusel, who therein gives the Visier of Buda an account of the great distress the Garisons in. That they had eaten the flesh of Horses, Dogs, &c. since the beginning of the last month; and that they could not defend the place without a speedy relief. The Turks have not yet this Summer, that we hear of, passed the Bridge of Essek in any considerable Body; And at most they will not have above 60000 men in Hungary this Campaign; And of these the greatest part are raw and undisciplined Men. The Imperial Army was the first Instant within a mile of Newbeusel, so that the place is by this time formally Besieged; The Duke of Lorraine intended to post most of his Horse and some Foot to secure the Passages of the River Gran; And has put a good Garrison into the City of that Name, where they continue to work with great diligence on their new Fortifications. The Troops of Bavaria which had their Winter-quarters in Upper Hungary, are marching to join the Imperial Army.

Wamburg, July 6. The Letters from Stockholm give an account of the death of Prince Ulric, the King of Sweden's youngest Son. They write from Berlin that the Envoy of Poland had taken his leave of the Elector of Brandenburg in order to his return home. That his Electoral Highness has ordered 1200 Horse and Dragoons, of his Troops quartered in Prussia, to march for Poland, besides the 2000 men he has already sent to the assistance of that Crown; And that he has offered the King of Poland his Mediation for the Composing the Differences that Crown has with the Moscovites concerning their Limits. The Marquis de Forcy Envoy Extraordinary from his Most Christian Majesty to the King of Denmark, parted from hence this day for Norway, where the King of Denmark at present is. The Marquis de Villars, Ambassador from France, is arrived here from Copenhagen in his return home.

Ratisbon, July 12. The Imperialists are now before Newbeusel, which they hope in a very short time to be Masters of. The Advices we receive in the mean time of the condition the place is in differ; Some assure us, that the Garrison is reduced to 1200 men, and that they are in so great want of Provisions that they cannot subsist much longer, while others tell us that there were still 1500 resolute Men in the place, and that the Bassa had not yet opened the Magazines, which he reserved for the Siege. We are told that an Officer who came from Buda with 100 men, had endeavoured to put himself into Newbeusel, but that he and most of those with him were taken by the Imperialists. It's said that the Imperial Army is as yet only composed of the Regiments of Horse of Saxe Lawembourg, Caprara, Dunewalt, Falsh, Lodron, Gondola, Salms, Picolomini, Neubourg and Heusler, and of the Regiments of Foot of Stadel, Mausfeldt, Metternich, Souches, Scherffemberg and Grana, which with the Troops of Lunenburg make about 30000 men. The Elector of Cologne's Troops are arrived at Donawert, from whence they will pass by Water to Hungary.

Cologne, July 6. The Letters from Francfort tell us, that 3300 Men of the Troops of the Elector of Saxony who are going to serve the Republick of Venice, had passed by Nuremberg. And that the Troops of the Circle of Franconia were to begin their march the 7th of this month for Hungary. They write from Spire that the Infantry of the Upper Rhin were on their march to Friedberg in Weisteravia, where their Rendezvous was appointed; that from thence they would pass through the Country of Tulda and of Eysenach, and so through Bohemia towards Hungary; And that the Cavalry would follow the same way. We are told from Heydelberg that the Corps of the late Elector Palatin would be Interred the 10th Instant; And that their present Elector was expected there 3 or 4 days after with a Train of 300 Persons. The Letters from Hungary inform us, that the Duke of Lorraine had been with 3000 Horse to observe the situation of Novigrad, and that a small Party advancing without his Highnesses order too near the place, they were attacked by some Janissaries who were posted in an Enclosure, and several of them wounded, among which were two French Volontiers; That the Duke of Lorraine being returned to his Camp, a Council of War was held, where it was resolved to defer for the present the design of attacking Novigrad, and to Besiege Newbeusel, and that accordingly the Army, consisting in between 30 and 40000 men. was set down before that place; That there would be three Attacks, one by the Imperial Troops, another by those of Bavaria, commanded under the Duke of Lorraine by the Count de Scrini, and the third by the Troops of Lunenburg, commanded by Monsieur Chauvet.

Brussels, July 18. The Baron Del Val who was sent by our late Governor to the Court of France returned hither on Monday last, and hath given his Excellency Don Francisco Antonio d'Agurro an account of his Negotiation. The Duke d' Aerschot arrived here this day from Spain, having parted from Madrid within few hours after he had the news of the death of the Marquis de Grana his Brother in Law; The King of Spain hath given him the Order of the Golden Fleece. Our last Letters from Vieuna told us, that such care has been taken by the Commissary General, that Forage and all manner of Provisions are very plentiful in the Imperial Army; That several Prisoners have been taken, who came out of Newbeusel, and that they all report that the Garrison consists of about 1200 men, and that they are in great want of Provisions, but that they are encouraged by the assurance the Bassa gives them that the Serasquier is marching with 100000 men to relieve them. Besides the Army commanded by the Duke of Lorraine, the Emperor will have 10000 men in Upper Hungary commanded by General Schultz; and 20000 in Croatia, which last are to act in three distinct Bodies.

Portsmouth, July 16. His Majesties Ships the Bristoll, the Tiger, the Charles Gally, the Garland, the Centurion, the Reserve, and the Fanfan, are arrived at Spithead from the Westward.

Exeter, July 15. Yesterday Richard Goodenough was brought hither, having been taken with divers others of the Rebels about Ilsecombe; he will be carried to London; And we doubt not but in a day or two Ferguson and Wade will be likewise taken.
