NOTICE is hereby given, that application is intended to be made to Parliament in the ensuing session, for an Act to alter, amend, enlarge, and extend the powers, provisions, and regulations, or some of them, of an Act passed in the first year of the reign of Her present Majesty Queen Victoria, intituled "An Act for supplying with Water the town of Bury, and the several townships of Walmersley-cum-Shuttleworth, Bury, and Elton, all in the parish of Bury, in the county palatine of Lancaster;" or otherwise to repeal the same, and to grant further and other powers, and to make other provisions and regulations instead thereof.

And it is also intended by the said Act to obtain power to take, divert, impound, store, and use the water arising from, and flowing in, into, or through divers brooks, and rivulets, springs, streams, and sources, in the several parishes, townships, or extra-parochial, or other places of Bury, Walmersley-cum-Shuttleworth, Elton, Middleton, and Birtle-cum-Bamford, all in the said county of Lancaster, or some of them, that is to say, the White Carr Brook, at or near a certain field in the township of Walmersley-cum-Shuttleworth aforesaid, called the Slubbs, part of the Cross Hall Farm, in the occupation of Noah Fishwick, and which said brook thence flows to and into, or unites with the Cross Hall Brook hereinafter mentioned, and thence to and into, or unites with Mather Brook, and thence to and into, or unites with Pig's Lee Brook, and thence to and into the river Irwell; the Cob-House Brook, at or near a certain lodge or reservoir of water, called the Coal-Pit Lodge, situate in the said Cross Hall Farm, in the township of Walmersley-cum-Shuttleworth aforesaid, and which said brook, after feeding or supplying the said Coal-Pit Lodge, thence flows to, and into, and unites with, or otherwise assumes the name of Cross Hall Brook, and which said brook unites, and thence proceeds with the said brook or stream called White Carr Brook, in manner hereinbefore described, to and into the said river Irwell; the Gindel's Brook, and the White-Wall Brook; at or near their point of junction, in the townships of Walmersley-cum-Shuttleworth and Birtle-cum-Bamford aforesaid, or one of them, and which said brooks thence flow to and into or unite with, or otherwise assume the name of Bentley Brook, and thence flow to and into or unite with, or otherwise assume the name of Lumn Brook, and thence flow to and into and proceed with the said Pig's Lee Brook, in manner hereinbefore described, to and into the said river Irwell; the Black Carr Brook, at or near Barn Field otherwise Black Carr Field, and Gin Hall Farm, both in the occupation of Robert Butterworth, and situate in the said township of Walmersley-cum-Shuttleworth, and which flows thence to and into the said river Irwell; the Park Brook, at or near a certain place called Park Chapel, in the township of Walmersley-cum-Shuttleworth aforesaid, which thence flows to and into the said river Irwell; and which said brooks or streams, or some or more of them, supply or feed certain reservoirs, ponds, or lodges of water, or some of them, called or known by the several names or descriptions following, that is to say, the said Coal-Pit Lodge in Cross Hall Farm, partly occupied by the said Noah Fishwick, and partly by Edmund Grundy, Esquire, and others; the Higher Mill Lodge, the Mathers or Tabernacle Lodge, three several spring water lodges, and the Friezing Mill Lodge, all in the occupation of Edmund Grundy, Esquire, and others; the Lower Mill Lodge and Fish Pond, both in the occupation of Richard Ashton, Esquire; the Higher Plumpton Lodge, in the occupation of Messieurs John Hoyle and Samuel Hoyle; the Lower Plumpton Lodge, in the occupation of John Bevin; the Long Croft Lodges or reservoirs in the occupation of John Whitehead, Esquire; the Lumn Lodges or reservoirs, in the occupation of Messieurs Edmund Dixon Milnes and Nicholas Milnes; a pond or reservoir of water at or near the brewery in the occupation of James Chadwick and Robert Chadwick; the ponds or reservoirs of water at Spring Side, in the occupation of Daniel Grant, Esquire; and the ponds or reservoirs of water at Nuttall Hall, in the occupation of John Grant, Esquire.

And for the purpose of affording such supply of water as aforesaid, it is further proposed by the said intended Act to authorize the construction and maintenance of a reservoir or reservoirs, with all proper embankments, sluices, drains, and other works in connection therewith, at or near the places following, or some of them, that is to say, at or near to the said lodge or reservoir called the Coal Pit Lodge, situate in the said Cross Hall Farm, in the township of Walmersley-cum-
