Venice, July 27.

WE have Letters from our Fleet by the way of Otranto of the 2d Instant, which give an account, That they had taken Calamata, and that they afterwards attackt Coron, which they hoped in few days to be likewise Masters of, though the Garrison which consisted as they were informed of 1600 Men, made a very vigorous defence. Upon the first approach of our Troops to Coron the Enemy made a Sally with 300 Men, but they were so well received that most of them were cut in Pieces; and on our side the Count de San Vitale a Knight of Malta and some others were killed; after which our Troops took their Posts round the place, made their Lines of Circumvallation, and opened the Trenches under the Conduct of the Count de St. Paul; and when these Letters were written they were advanced to the Ditch of the Place, and our Cannon and Bombs had laid part of the Town in Ashes, which put the Inhabitants into a great consternation. While the Siege was thus carried on, Captain General Moskovski sent out several parties to make Incurfions into the neighbouring Provinces, but with exprefs command not to do any harm, to the Greeks, who appear very desirous to put themselves under the Protection of the Republick. The Providitore General Walter was according to our last advices at Almissa in Dalmatia, and Signior Michieli General of the Horse at Duare; The Heydukes of Cliffa have made an incurfion into the Territory of Singa, where they took many Prisoners, and a great deal of Booty.

Warsaw, July 15. The Troops of this Kingdom and those of the Great Dutchy of Lithuania are marching to the general Rendezvous; but so slowly that it will be the middle of the next month before they are in a Body; The Army will be commanded by the Crown General, the King not enjoying his health well enough to go into the Field himself. We have a very sad account from Podolia, Volinia, and the lesser Russia, of the late Incurfions of the Tartars, who have burnt a great many Towns and Villages and destroyed a great number of people, besides those they carried away with them, so that those greche Provinces, which had already very much suffered in the former Campaignes, will take in a long time, be able to repair the Damage they have now sustained by these Incurfions. An Envoy is arrived here from Michael Abassi Prince of Franckfort; he said he comes to assure the King of the good intentions of his Master, and that he will not join his Troops with the Turke this Campaign; and from hence he has orders to go to Vienna to give the Emperor the same assurances; which we think here do not deserve any great regard. The Court continues at Vilhanova.

The Great Chancellor of this Kingdom is preparing for his Embassie to France, and we are told he will begin his journey thither the next week; And that the King of Poland is sending the Prince of Labomirski to the Emperor to acquaint him with the occasion of this Embassie.

Vienna, July 26. The 18th instant arrived here from the Camp before Newbusek the young Count de Cuningseck, being sent by the Duke of Lorraine to compliment the Elector of Bevaria upon his Marriage. He gave the Emperor and his Electoral Highness a very good account of the Siege, and among other particulars informed them, That on the 15th they finished a Battery of Three great Pieces of Cannon, and the night following posted themselves on the edge of the Ditch on the right and the left, the Enemy not perceiving them, by reason of the darkness of the night and a thick rain; but at break of day finding, with a great deal of surprize, how far the Besiegers had advanced their Works, they fired upon them without intermission, and killed and wounded 50 of our men; the Baron de Alfi and the Lieutenant Colonel of the Regiment of Grana were likewise killed, and a Captain of the Regiment of Saden was wounded. The 16th the Besiegers fired from another Battery against the Palisades before the Gate, to oblige the Turke that were posted behind them, to retire. And when Count Cuningseck came from the Camp they were raising a Battery of 24 great Pieces of Cannon, and two others near the Ditch of six Pieces each, besides a Battery of 19 Mortars. The 21th we received Letters from the Camp, which said that the great Battery was finished, and that the Duke of Lorraine having received advice, that the Turkish Army marched towards Grana, he had sent out Colonel Heuster with 600 Horse, and 1000 Hussars commanded by the Count de Zaborz with orders to pass the Bridge at Barkan and to march towards Wagrad, to learn in what posture the Enemy was; and that at the same time his Highness commanded the Count de Strum to pass the Bridge he had caused to be laid over the Danube near Comorra, with a Regiment of Dragoons, and to post himself near Grana.

Vienna, July 29. The 27th arrived here by Water 2500 Foot of the Forces of the Circle of Ernaconia who came ashore to refresh themselves, and having exercised in the presence of the Emperor, they embarked again yesterday and continued this way to Hunary; the Horse taking their March within three miles of this place. The Prince de Labomirski is arrived here, being sent by the King of Poland to communicate to the Emperor the Reason of his sending the Great Chancellor of Poland with the Character of his Ambassador Extraordinary to the Court of France. An Envoy is arrived here by the way of Poland, from the Prince of Transylvania, but we do not yet know what his Errand is. The Letters from the Camp before Newbusek of the 28th said that their Bombs and Carcasses had done great execution quion, having laid the greatest part of the Town in Ashes, and particularly the great Church, which the Turks have turned into a Mosque; That their Cannon had made very large breaches in the Walls of the place; that they had dried the Ditch, and begun the 27th to fill it, and that they had fixed their Miners at the foot of the Bastion. The Enemy in the mean time made a very stout Defence; and in a Sally they made on the 24th surprized a small Redoubt, where they cut in pieces 100 men, a Lieutenant Colonel, and two Captains of the Troops of Suebia. The Count de Bouchamb Lieutenant Colonel of the Regiment of Souches was killed there in the Trenches. Colonel Beuffer and Colonel Zabor were come back, having defeated a small Party of Turks near Gran, and taken some Prisoners; by whom they were informed, that the Seraskier was with an Army of between 50 and 6000 men near Buda, having positive orders from the Grand Signior to relieve Newbeusel. That the Duke of Lorraine had likewise received advice, that 1200 Tatars and 8000 Turks were posted near Novigrad; and that he had sent 3000 Horse to secure the passage of the River Gran.

Cologne, July 31. The Elector of Trier and the Duke of Fuliers are appointed by the Emperor to execute his Decree against this City, in case they do not submit to the Imperial Commission which hath been several times presented to them; And our Magistrates have received a Summons to send Deputies to these Princes to hear what they have to propose to them on this subject; but they have not yet resolved to comply with it, and it's believed they will not.

Brussels, Aug. 14. The Letters from Vienna of the 11 instant tell us, they had an account from the Camp before Newbeusel, that the Besiegers had the 27th at night begun to fill the Ditch, which they continued the night following, when they likewise began a Gallery to pass the Ditch. That the 27th the Turks made a Sally, and ruined part of the Besiegers Works, by which they let the Water out of the Ditch, but it was quickly repaired, and a Redoubt was made to secure the same against the Enemies Sallies. The 28th the Besieged made another Sally, and burnt part of the Gallery, which was repaired the night following. All the Cannon in the Town were dismounted, the Breaches were very much enlarged, and several Miners were preparing, which would be ready in a day or two. The Elector of Bavaria was arrived in the Camp, the Count de Serini having been several Miles to meet his Electoral Highness with 3000 Horse. The Troops of Cologne and Flandria was arrived at Comorra, and had received orders from the Duke of Lorraine to hasten their march, for that his Highness was preparing to go and meet the Seraskier, who he had advice was marching towards Gran.

Hague, August 14. The English and Scotch Regiments are come back from England, the first arrived at Rotterdam the 7th, and the latter the 11th Instant; and they are now marching to their respective Quarters. The States of Holland are again adjourned for two or three Days. The freshest Letters from Vienna, which are of the 4 instant, say, that the Seraskier was marching with an Army of 50000 men to attack Kisegrad or Gran, to give the Christians a diversion; and that at the same time 20000 Turks and Tatars were come to Novigrad, with design to attempt the Relief of Newbeusel in case the Duke of Lorraine passed the Danube to meet the Seraskier; which his Highness was resolved to do so soon as the Troops of Cologne and Franconia were come up, when he would be able to march with 35 or 40000 men, and leave 50000 under the command of Prince Waldeck to continue the Siege.
