NOTICE TO MARINERS.

Cromarty Point and Chanonry Point Lighthouses.

Edinburgh, 15th April 1846.

THE Commissioner: of the Northern Lighthouses hereby give notice, that a lighthouse has been erected upon Cromarty Point, in the county of Cromarty, and another upon Chanonry Point, in the county of Ross, the lights of which will be exhibited on the night of the 15th May 1846, and every night thereafter, from sun-set to sun-rise.

The following is a Specification of the Lighthouses, and the appearance of the Lights, by Mr. Allan Stevenson, Engineer to the Commissioners.

1. Cromarty Point Lighthouse is situated in N. latitude $57^{\circ} 40' 58''$, and W. longitude $4^{\circ} 2' 7''$, within the entrance of Cromarty Frith. The light will be known to mariners as a fixed light, of a red colour. The lantern, which is open from W. N. W. round to S. E. by E. $\frac{1}{4}$ S. in a northerly direction, is elevated 50 feet above the level of the Sea; and the light, being red, should not be expected to be often seen beyond the distance of 9 miles, and at lesser distances, according to the states of the atmosphere.

2. Chanonry Point Light is situated in N. latitude $57^{\circ} 34' 32''$, and W. longitude $4^{\circ} 5' 28''$, at the entrance of the Frith, leading to Inverness and the Caledonian Canal. The light will be known to mariners as a fixed light of the natural appearance. The lantern, which is open from W. $\frac{1}{2}$ N., round to N. by E. in a southerly direction, is elevated 40 feet above the level of the Sea; and the light will be seen at the distance of 11 miles, and at lesser distances, according to the state of the atmosphere.

And the Commissioners hereby further give notice, that, by virtue of a warrant from the Queen in Council, dated 13th September 1845, the following tolls will be levied in respect of this light, viz.

And if the same exceed 50 tons, for each additional 50 tons, or part of 50 tons, a like toll of six pence.

And double the said respective tolls for every foreign vessel sailing as aforesaid, not privileged as aforesaid.
