

seven pieces of Cannon and four Mortars from Battery's staid on the Hills of St. George and St. Thomas; The first Instant the Enemy advanced their Trenches, but several of their Cannon were dismounted by shot from the Castle. The second the Begged made a Sally, in which they killed above 200 of the Enemy. The third the Turks attackt the Lower Town, but were repulsed with the loss of 300 Men killed upon the place, and several prisoners taken. In the mean time the Duke of Lorraine having held a Council of War, It was resolv'd to march with the Army to fight the Enemy, leaving 16000 Men to make good the Siege of Newbeusel; And the Count de Lamberg was sent hither to acquaint the Emperor with the resolution they had taken, which his Imperial Majesty approving of, the said Count was sent back with Orders to the Duke of Lorraine to pursue the same: Upon his return to the Camp all things were disposed for the march, but because a Body of the Enemy was posted at Novigrad, with design, when the Army had pass'd the Danube, to attempt the relief of Newbeusel, his Highness caus'd several Retrenchments to be made for the security of the Camp, and deferred his march till they were finish'd; The Imperialists all this while carried on their attacks against Newbeusel, with all possible vigor, and the besieged found themselves so streitened, that the Bassa who commands in the place, offer'd to surrender it upon condition, He might march out with the Garrison and all the Christian slaves, with their Arms Baggage and all the Cannon, and with Drums beating Colors flying, &c. but these conditions the Duke of Lorraine would not hear of.

Comorra, August 9. The 7th Instant the Imperial Army being compos'd of 39 Battalions and 92 Squadrons, making together about 40000 Men, besides the Hungarians command'd by the Count d' Esperhass, encamp'd near this place; Yesterday they pass'd the Danube upon the Bridges of Boats which the Duke of Lorraine had caus'd to be laid over that River; And this day the Army marches towards Dotin; The Elector of Bavaria having taken the command of the left Wing, and the Duke of Lorraine of the Right. A great many Boats laden with Provisions and Ammunition pass down the Danube as the Army advances, as likewise a Bridge of Boats to be made use of as there may be occasion.

Vienne, August 12. The 7th Instant the Elector of Bavaria and the Duke of Lorraine march'd from the Camp before Newbeusel, leaving 12000 Foot and 6000 Horse to make good that Siege under the command of General Caprara and the Duke of Croy; The 8th they pass'd the Danube near Comorra; The 9th they march'd in Battle to Dotin, otherwise call'd Thata, from whence they intended to advance towards the Enemy, and to attack them in their Camp before Gran, if they came not out to fight. The Turks in Newbeusel perceiving the Christians begin to march, and believing they were going to raise the Siege, express'd their joy with loud shouts accompanied with a sort of Musick us'd by them, but they were undeceived by several Volleyes of Small Shot, and a continu'd Fire from our Batteries. Since which time the Besiegers have carried their Galleries almost to the Wall of the Place, and have endeavour'd to Lodge the Miner; The Flanks of the two attackt Bastions, and great part of the Curtains are quite bearen down into the Ditch; And the Enemies Cannon is all dismounted, but they have made several Retrenchments within the said Bastions, The Count d' Esperhass arriv'd the 8th Instant in the Camp before Newbeusel with 4000 Hungarians, of which he left 2000 there, and march'd with the rest to follow the Imperial Army. The Garrison in Gran makes in the mean time a very brave defence; And the Turks have not yet been able to make themselves Masters of the Counterscapoor of the Lower Town. The Letters from Croatia confirm that General Leslie is march'd with Forces under his command towards the Bridge of Esseck to burn it. And from Upper Hungary we have an account that General Schaltz has Besieged Esperies with 8000 men. An Express is arriv'd here with Letters of the 10th Instant from the Imperial Army, which was then encamp'd within 8 hours march of the Enemy, who continued in their Camp before Gran, which they had Fortified; The Elector of Bavaria and Duke of Lorraine were resolv'd to attack them there, having with them 42 Pieces of Cannon and six Mortars; And when this Courier came away, Colonel Heuster was marching with the Vanguard. The Visier of Buda and 3 other Bassa's are Encamp'd with a Body of men near Novigrad, with a design as is believ'd to Succor Newbeusel; But the Forces left before that place, who are reinforced with 4000 Recruits, are strong enough to oppose them.

Paris, Aug. 25. The 22th Instant my Lord Presbore Envoy Extraordinary from His Majesty of Great Britain, had Audience of Leave of the King at Versailles, as he has since had of the Dauphin and Dauphiness, and the Duke of Burgundy, and Duke d' Anjou, being Conducted thierunto in the usual manner by Monsieur de Boneuil Introducer of Ambassadors. On Wednesday last the Duke of Orleans entertain'd the King and whole Court at St. Cloud. And we are told his Most Christian Majesty has fix'd Thursday next for his Journey to Chambor. I. s. said a Courier is arriv'd from Germany, with the news that the Turks upon the approach of the Imperial Army were retir'd from before Gran.
