Admiralty-Office, June 24, 1846.

DISPATCHES were this day received at this Office from Captain Charles Graham, of Her Majesty's ship Castor, addressed to the Secretary of the Admiralty, of which the following are copies:

Her Majesty's ship Castor, Kawakawa River, Bay of Islands, New Zealand, January 13, 1846.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to forward to you, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, copies of my letters, No. 6 (of the 9th January 1846), and No. 7 (of this date), to His Excellency the Commander in Chief on this station, agreeable with the Admiralty instructions, page 89, article 56.

I have the honour to be, &c.

C. GRAHAM,

Captain and Senior Officer at New Zealand.

To the Secretary of the Admiralty, London.

Her Majesty's ship Castor, Kawakawa River, Bay of Islands, New Zealand, January 9, 1846.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report to your Excellency, the proceedings of the squadron under my command since my last communication, dated the 15th December 1845.

His Excellency Governor Grey arrived here on the 18th ultimo, and it being his wish and intention to advance into the country to punish the rebel chief named Kawitti, stationary in a Pah, as mentioned in my last letter, No. 4, I immediately landed the seamen and marines of this ship, with proper officers, amounting to one hundred and eighty-eight (188) persons, with arms, ammunition, rockets, &c. &c. and ordered Lieutenant Otway, who commanded them, to place himself under the immediate command of Commander Hay, of the Racehorse, whom I instructed (or rather confirmed the orders of Sir Everard Home) to act with all the naval force, under the direction of Colonel Despard.

Her Majesty's ship Calliope arrived at the Bay of Islands on the 31st December, and I have, according to your orders, detained that ship.

I have ordered the Osprey round to the Hokiauga river, to protect British subjects, who are under considerable alarm from the unsettled state of the country.

I shall feel it necessary to detain the Calliope, North Star, and Racehorse for the present; and, in coming to this decision, I have to inform your Excellency, that I do so, after due consultation with His Excellency the Governor, from whom I learn that affairs in the south of this island are in such a state, as may possibly require an extraordinary force and exertions to quell insurrection, even if our proceedings in this district are successful; and peace results.

Her Majesty's steamer Driver has not yet arrived; but I shall take the earliest opportunity, after warlike affairs in this part of the island are over, to establish coal depôts for any steam vessel of war which may arrive.

I send a copy of this letter to the Secretary of the Admiralty, agreeable with the Admiralty instructions, page 89, article 56.

I have the honour to be, &c.

C. GRAHAM, Captain.

To His Excellency Rear Admiral
Sir T. Cochrane, C. R. Commander in Chief, &c. &c.

Camp, in front of Kawiti's Pah, New Zealand, 12th January 1846.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to acquaint you, for the information of his Excellency the Commander in Chief, that, in obedience to orders from Captain Sir Everard Home, of Her Majesty's ship North Star, whose orders you confirmed on your arrival, I landed with 130 seamen under my command, on the 13th ultimo, and placed myself in communication with Colonel Despard, commanding the land forces, at the head of the Kawa Kawa river, destined to march to attack the Pah of the rebel chief Cawiti, situated in a thick forest on a mountain, fourteen miles inland from the head of the river. Two thirty-two-pounders and one eighteen-pounder gun were landed from Her Majesty's ship North Star, and a twelve-pounder howitzer from the Honourable East India Company's ship Elphinstone.

Our whole force advanced on the 22d ultimo to a position about half way to the Pah; on the 23d I received a re-inforcement of 150 seamen from the Castor, under your command, with another twelve-pounder howitzer. On the 27th, the forces advanced, and the guns were brought forward, with astonishing exertion on the part of the officers and seamen, through a most difficult country, to a position about 900 yards from the enemy's Pah; shells and rockets were thrown in occasionally until the 8th instant, when another thirty-two-pounder was brought up, and roads having been cut through the forest by the pioneers, two stockades were erected by them, assisted by the seamen and troops. Breaching batteries in the stockade were erected, the one distant 300 yards, the other 140 yards from the Pah. On the 10th, at eleven A.M. fire was opened from the batteries, served by seamen, under the direction of Lieutenant Maxwell Falcon, of the Castor, Alleyne Bland, of the Racehorse, and Leeds, of the Honourable East India Company's ship Elphinstone, with the howitzer, and Mr. John Nops, Master of the Racehorse, with the eighteen-pounder, Lieutenant Egerton, of the North Star, directing the rockets. The fire was continued with little intermission till nine A.M.; on the 11th, when our friendly natives having ascertained that the two breaches were practicable, waved us on to advance; an assault was instantly made by the seamen under my command, in conjunction with the land forces and natives; we were scarcely in the Pah, when the enemy made a desperate attempt to regain it, and a severe action ensued, which lasted nearly four hours; they were finally repulsed in the most gallant manner, and retreated to the wood. I enclose a list of the seamen and marines killed and wounded, and regret much the loss of so many brave men. I beg to bring before the notice of his Excellency the Commander in Chief, the following officers who accompanied me to the assault, with their respective divisions of small arm men, and made themselves otherwise extremely useful: Lieutenant Robert J. Otway, First of the Castor; Alfred J. Curtis, of the North Star; Arthur R. Henry, of the Racehorse; Eden and Ralph, of the Honourable East India Company's ship Elphinstone; and Mr. Lock, Mate of the Castor; Mr. Charles S. Forbes, Midshipman of the North Star, attached to the rocket party; and Mr. Grove, my Aide-de-Camp; also Assistant Surgeon Broughton, of the Elphinstone; and the following medical officers, who attended to the wounded in camp: viz. Mr. John Kidd, Surgeon of the Castor; Mr. William M'K. Saunders, Assistant Surgeon of the North Star; and Mr. Pritchard, Assistant Surgeon of the Castor.

I cannot conclude this dispatch without expressing my admiration of the conduct of every officer and seaman engaged, which is fully confirmed by the General Order of the Colonel Commanding, of this day's date, a copy of which I enclose.

Mr. George Don Murray, Midshipman of Her Majesty's ship North Star (the only officer struck), was severely wounded early in the action, when leading his subdivision of seamen.

The arrangements for the victualling of the naval portion of the force engaged was conducted by Mr. Kenneth L. Sutherland, Paymaster and Purser of Her Majesty's ship North Star, to my perfect satisfaction. I beg to add, that I have received the greatest assistance from Lieutenant Otway, of the Castor, and second in command of the naval brigade.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) GEORGE JAS. HAY,
Commander of H.M.S. Racehorse.

THE Officer commanding the force acting against the rebel chiefs Heke and Kawiti has the greatest satisfaction in congratulating the whole of the force, at the brilliant success that has attended their operations of the last few days.

The capture, by assault, of a fortress of such extraordinary strength, and defended by so brave and determined an enemy, is of itself sufficient to prove the intrepidity and gallantry displayed by all concerned, whether seamen, marines, troops of the line, artillery of the Honourable East India Company's service, and the volunteer pioneers; and it will be a most pleasing part of his duty to bring such conduct to the notice of his Excellency the Governor of New Zealand, and through him to that of Her Majesty and his Grace the Commander in Chief.

The Colonel cannot conclude this order, without expressing his admiration at the brave and intrepid conduct displayed by our native Allies on every occasion since these operations commenced, and more particularly during the assault of the Pah, on which occasion their bravery was fully equal to what might be expected from the bravest of Her Majesty's troops.

The Colonel Commanding feels the greatest regret at the loss of so many brave men as have been killed and wounded on this occasion; but it will be considered as an alleviation by their friends, that they have fallen while nobly performing their duty to their Queen and country.

By order,
(Signed) C. P. O'CONNELL, A. B. M.

*H.M.S. Castor, Kawa Kawa River,
Bay of Islands, 13th January 1846.*

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to forward to your Excellency a copy of Commander Hay's letter to me, descriptive of the services of the naval and marine force under his command at the operations against the insurgent natives in this neighbourhood; and, in doing so, it is my pleasant duty further to report to your Excellency that, although I was not present myself in the Pah at the successful capture of it, but in one of the batteries, still, from having been in the camp during the last three weeks advancing, and having constantly witnessed the great exertions of the officers, seamen, and marines of the ships under my command, and those of the Honourable East India Company's ship Elphinstone, in assisting in getting up the guns through a very hilly country, and other heavy work in erecting batteries and conducting the firing from them in breaching, shelling, and rocketing the Pah, &c., and the weather having been very wet, causing the roads (which had to be cut through woods and over hills in a hitherto untraversed country) to be very difficult, also all hands having had to live under what shelter they could temporarily contrive out of the bush, I consider their conduct worthy of the warmest admiration.

The unwearied zeal, exertions, and attention to their respective departments exhibited by Captain Sir Everard Home, Bart., C.B. (to whom I appointed the duty of defending a Pah, at our landing-place, six miles up the river and twelve from the Pah destroyed; also to keep up the communication with the ships, which the rebels were expected to attempt to cut off, by Commander Hay, of Her Majesty's ship Racehorse, and Capt. Young, of the Honourable East India Company's sloop Elphinstone, demand my thanks to them; and it is my pleasant duty to report the same to your Excellency.

I have equal satisfaction in corroborating the statements made by Commander Hay, respecting the officers and men under his orders, as I placed him in command of the whole naval party, acting under the directions of Colonel Despard, the military Commander of the operations.

It is melancholy that so many fine young men have fallen in this successful affair; and it is only due to Mr. Kidd, the surgeon of this ship, to report his great attention and aid, not only to our wounded people, but also to those of the friendly natives.

I have, in conclusion, to acquaint your Excellency, that reports from the officers appointed to command the various different parties connected with these brisk operations invariably gratify me, by reporting most favourably on the conduct of the respective officers and men under them; but it would be unjust for me to forward particular cases, when all hands have done their duty gallantly and willingly through this very rough service.

The force landed from Her Majesty's ships, previous to my arrival on the 13th December last, was 171, including officers and marines; the Castor landed 188; the Elphinstone 54; when the Calliope arrived, the Osprey's men were sent to their vessel (her services being required for the protection of the British residents on the Hokianga river), and were replaced by 40 seamen and all the marines of that ship, making a total of those engaged in the affair from the ships about 340, 93 of whom were marines, who were brigaded under Captain Langford, R.M., of the North Star, with the military, and consequently it is not der my exact province to report upon their proceedings; but having witnessed the exertions of the officers and men belonging to that distinguished corps on this occasion, I trust your Excellency will hold me excused for bringing the same to your notice.

I have the honour to be, &c.
