AT the Court at Windsor, the 19th day of December 1846,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN’s Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS Her Majesty’s Commissioners for building new churches have, in pursuance of the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled “ An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, “ passed in the last session of Parliament, for “ building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes,” duly prepared and laid before Her Majesty in Council a representation, bearing date the seventeenth day of November one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, in the words following, viz.

“ Your Majesty’s Commissioners for building new churches beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances of the parish of Finchley in the county of Middlesex, and within the diocese of London, it appears to them to be expedient, that a particular district should be assigned to the church, called Trinity Church, recently erected and consecrated and situate in the said parish of Finchley, under and by virtue of the power and authority for such purpose contained in and by the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled “ An Act to amend and render “ more effectual an Act, passed in the last session “ of Parliament, for building, and promoting the “ building, of additional churches in populous “ parishes,” and that such district should be named, “ The Chapelry District of the Holy Trinity, Finchley,” and be bounded on the east and south east by the parish of Hornsey; on the south by the parishes of Saint Pancras and Hampstead; on the west by the parish of Hendon; and on the north west and north by the remaining part of the parish of Finchley, from which it is separated by proceeding along the brook between the demesne lands of the Bishop of London and the estate of the Reverend Edmund Philip Cooper; from the brook the boundary takes a northerly and easterly direction between the said demesne lands of the said Bishop of London and the estates of the said Reverend Edmund Philip Cooper; from thence the boundary proceeds, at an acute angle between the estates of Thomas Frentham’s devisees and the estates of the said Reverend Edmund Philip Cooper, till it reaches the road leading from East-end to Crouch-end, Finchley; the boundary then proceeds in a north westerly direction, along such last-mentioned road, till it reaches a lane leading therefrom to Broad-lane, which first-mentioned lane forms the division between the lands of Samuel Henry Cullum and Child, Esq. on one side, and the estates of the said Reverend Edmund Philip Cooper on the other; the boundary proceeds thence in a north westerly direction, along Broad-lane for a distance of four chains or thereabouts, from whence it diverges along the division between the lands of the feoffees of Finchley
