“ And whereas the Bishop of London, for the time being, is patron of the rectory of Saint Catharine Coleman, which is now vacant, and of the perpetual curacy of Saint Thomas, Charterhouse, and both the said benefices are in the said diocese of London :

“ And whereas, by an Order of your Majesty in Council, duly made and gazetted, and bearing date the twentieth day of May last, ratifying a scheme prepared by us under the said recited enactment, the income of the said rectory of Saint Catharine Coleman was apportioned in the manner therein mentioned, and the said income was thereby reduced to the average annual sum of seven hundred pounds :

tithes, rent charges, dues, profits and emoluments whatsoever which of right do, shall or may belong to the said rectory, or to the rector thereof, for the time being, as such rector; and that if any vacancy in the said perpetual curacy shall happen on any other day than the first day of January or the first day of July, the then next half-yearly payment shall be apportioned between and paid to the perpetual curate making such vacancy, or his personal representatives, and the succeeding perpetual curate.

“ And we further recommend and propose, that nothing herein contained shall prevent us from recommending and proposing any other measures relating to the matters aforesaid, or any of them, in conformity with the provisions of the said Act, or of any other Act of Parliament.”

And whereas the said scheme has been approved by Her Majesty in Council ; now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her said Council, is pleased hereby to ratify the said scheme, and to order and direct that the same, and every part thereof, shall be effectual in law immediately from and after the time when this Order shall have been duly published in the London Gazette, pursuant to the said Act; and Her Majesty, by and with the like advice, is pleased hereby to direct, that this Order be forthwith registered by the Registrar of the diocese of London.
