No hackney carriages will be admitted within the gates.

For all persons having the privilege of the entrée, tickets will be delivered at the Board of Green Cloth, on Tuesday next, from eleven till three o'clock; their carriages are to pass through Constitution-hill-gate into St. James's park. Those belonging to the Ambassadors and Foreign Ministers are to set down in Marlborough-court, at the east end of the Palace, and wait there till called. Those belonging to the Cabinet Ministers and Great Officers of State are to set down in the Ambassadors'-court, and wait there. carriages of all other persons having the entrée are likewise to set down in the Ambassadors'court, and wait in Stable-yard, or St. James'spark, till called; they are then to take up in the same order as they had set down, and pass away up St. James's-street.

No carriage will be admitted with company a second time with the same ticket, to prevent which, it must be produced at Constitution-hillgate, and Stable-yard-gate also, where a corner of it will be torn off by the Marshalmen in attendance; and no person can be allowed the privilege of the entrée by any other approach to the Palace than as above directed.

FORTESCUE, Lord Steward.

Buckingham-Palace, May 12, 1848.

This day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and a Deputation of Her Majesty's Commissioners of Lieutenancy for the city of London, waited upon Her Majesty with the following Address, which was read by the Honourable Charles Ewan Law, the Recorder, and which Her Majesty was graciously pleased to receive on the Throne:

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen. and the rest of your Majesty's Commissioners of Lieutenancy for the city of London...

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and the rest of your Majesty's Commissioners of Lieutenancy for the city of London, humbly approach your Majesty, to offer the tribute of our most sincere and dutiful congratulations upon the birth of a Princess, and your Majesty's renovated health.

Under circumstances of great moment, as they affect the welfare of our country at home and abroad, we rejoice that the occasion is presented to us of testifying our devoted loyalty and attachment to the Throne, and the unshaken confidence we repose in the free institutions of this highly favoured land.

Your Majesty's Commissioners of Lieutenancy comprehend no inconsiderable class of British merchants, bankers, and traders of this great metropolis, of members of the learned profession, united in one aim and object the earnest desire steadfastly to uphold the great machine of a well ordered, free, monarchical government.

We fervently pray, that our country may ever continue to exhibit, uuder the mild sway of a beneficent and constitutional Sovereign, an example to the whole civilized world, of the benefits that inhere in the stability of this ancient monarchy, whose foundations are laid in the freedom of its institutions, and rest on the affections of a dutiful, faithful, and religious people.

May your Majesty long live the care of a Divine Providence, united with your Royal Consort in the enjoyment of health, of every domestic comfort, every public felicity, to transmit in the fulness of time to your Majesty's descendants, in its lustre and integrity, the hereditary sceptre By order of Court, of these realms.

Henley Smith, Clerk and Treasurer.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

" I thank you very sincerely for these gratifying expressions of loyalty and affection.

"I entirely participate in your unshaken confidence in the free institutions of this highly favoured land, upheld as they are by the tried attachment of my faithful subjects.

"I earnestly pray, that by the continued blessing of Providence on this country, peace, security, and happiness may be largely enjoyed by all classes of my people."

Buckingham-Palace, May 29, 1848.
