

years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for the further amendment of the Church Building Acts," or under or by virtue of any other power or authority vested in the said Commissioners by the Church Building Acts, duly prepared and laid before Her Majesty in Council a representation, bearing date the first day of February one thousand eight hundred and forty-nine, in the words following, viz.:

"Your Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches, beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances of the parishes of Rotherfield Greys, Henley-on-Thames, and Rotherfield Peppard, in the county and diocese of Oxford, it appears to them to be expedient to unite and consolidate certain contiguous parts of the said parishes, and to form the same into one consolidated chapelry for all ecclesiastical purposes for the consecrated church of the Holy and Undivided Trinity, situate in the said parish of Rotherfield Greys, under and by virtue of the power or authority for this purpose contained in the ninth section of an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the eighth and ninth years of your Majesty's reign, intituled 'An Act for the further amendment of the church building Acts,' or under or by virtue of any other power or authority in this behalf vested in your Majesty's said Commissioners by the church building Acts, and that such proposed consolidated chapelry should be called 'The Consolidated Chapelry of the Holy Trinity, Rotherfield Greys,' with boundaries as hereinafter mentioned:

"The proposed consolidated chapelry is bounded on the north east and east by the parish of Remenham, on the south by the parish of Harpsden, as far as the point No. 1, where the boundary line of the latter parish crosses the Hop Garden-lane, up which lane the boundary of the proposed consolidated chapelry will then proceed in a north-westerly direction until it reaches Grey's-lane, along the middle of which latter lane it then proceeds north-easterly, as far as the point No. 2, where it enters the footpath which leaves Grey's-lane and runs in a north-westerly direction under the fence on the western side of the Club-house Garden, along which said footpath it then proceeds north-westerly till it enters a field called Pit-ground, at the point No. 3, which said field it crosses by the said footpath, in a north-easterly direction, about ten chains, and continues to follow the course of the said footpath to the point No. 4, at which the said footpath meets the boundary of the parish of Henley-on-Thames; the consolidated chapelry is then bounded on the north by the boundary line which separates the parish of Henley-on-Thames from the parish of Rotherfield Greys as far the north-eastern corner at the point No. 5 of the garden attached to the Royal Oak Public-house, from which place it follows the course of the Town-ditch to the point No. 6, at which point the said ditch empties itself into the river Thames, and thence to the centre of the river, where it joins the boundary of the Parish of Remenham, as such proposed consolidated chapelry is more particularly delineated on the map or plan hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured green, yellow, and pink.

"That the consents of the Right Reverend Samuel Lord Bishop of Oxford (as Bishop of the diocese), of the President and Fellows and Scholars of Trinity College, within the University of Oxford, as the patrons of the parish church of the said parish of Rotherfield Greys, of the Right Reverend George Lord Bishop of Rochester, as the patron in right of his see of the parish church of the said parish of Henley-on-Thames, and of the Principal and Fellows of Jesus College, within the said University, as the patrons of the parish church of the said parish of Rotherfield Peppard, have been severally obtained to the formation of the said proposed consolidated chapelry, as required by the Act and section hereinbefore mentioned, in testimony whereof the said Samuel Lord Bishop of Oxford, and the said George Lord Bishop of Rochester, have severally signed and sealed this representation, and the said President and Fellows and Scholars of Trinity College, and Principal and Fellows of Jesus College have caused their common or college seals to be hereunto affixed.

"And your Majesty's said Commissioners beg leave further to represent, that it has been mutually agreed between the said President and Fellows and Scholars of Trinity College, the said George Lord Bishop of Rochester, and the said Principal and Fellows of Jesus College, as such patrons as aforesaid, testified as aforesaid, with the approbation of your Majesty's said Commissioners, testified as hereinafter mentioned, and of the said Samuel Lord Bishop of Oxford, (as the Bishop of the diocese, testified as aforesaid), that the right of presentation and appointment of an incumbent or perpetual curate to serve the said new church, called Trinity Church, and proposed consolidated chapelry of the Holy Trinity, Rotherfield Greys, should be vested in, belong to, and whenever occasion may require, be (for the first two turns only that may arise) exercised by the said Samuel, Lord Bishop of Oxford, and his successors as Bishops of Oxford, and that such right of presentation and appointment should for ever afterwards, be vested in, belong to, and whenever occasion may require, be exercised by, the Rector for the time being of the said parish church of Rotherfield Greys.

"Your Majesty's said Commissions therefore humbly pray that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto, as to your Majesty in your royal wisdom shall seem meet."

Her Majesty having taken the said representation, together with the map or plan thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed formation into a consolidated chapelry be accordingly made; and the agreement in respect of the right of presentation and appointment of an incumbent or perpetual curate to serve the said church and consolidated chapelry, be carried into effect, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts; and Her Majesty, by and with the like advice, is pleased hereby to direct that this Order be forthwith registered by the Registrar of the diocese of Oxford. C. C. Greville.
