

old irregular line of hedge-row at the back of the said place; thence northerly, keeping the irregular line to Hornsey-lane, about fifty feet east of Appleby-place and Brand-street; thence towards the east, to the south-east corner of Hornsey-lane on the north-east side thereof; thence nearly in a north-east direction, by the irregular line of water-course, till it meets another watercourse in a north-westerly direction, forming an angle in the boundary; thence inclining a few points to the eastward, by the same line of watercourse to Highbury-vale, and on by the same course through the archway under the New River, to a culvert passing under the Occupation-road; and thence by the line of road and brick-wall in a north-easterly direction, to the main-road leading from London to Enfield, about fifty-six feet northward of a bridge crossing the New River under the said road; thence in a southerly direction by the line of the latter road to another bridge across the New River, about seven hundred and eighty feet south of the third mile-stone from London; and thence nearly in the same direction by the irregular line of the New River to a point given by a measurement of thirteen hundred and ten feet from the south-western pier of the aqueduct of the New River, passing over the Birmingham and Blackwall Railway, in the district parish of Saint Paul, Ball's Pond; thence from the latter point in a westerly direction by an imaginary line, about eighteen hundred and ten feet in length, to Highbury-grove-road, at the south corner of the garden ground shewn in the said map; from thence southerly by the line of Highbury-grove, in the middle thereof, to the curve at the junction of the same with Hopping-lane; thence westerly by the line of the latter road to about one hundred and fifty feet from the western side of Saint Mary's-road; and thence southerly in an imaginary line to the north-west corner of Canonbury-terrace, then westward to the north-east corner of Canonbury-square; thence to the south-east, on the eastern side of the square, to the south-eastern corner thereof; thence westerly, on the southern side of Canonbury-square, by the edge of the footpath to the south-west corner thereof; thence southward in an imaginary line through the gardens between the houses No. 1, Canonbury-square, and No. 1, Canonbury-lane, continuing in the same direction to the north end of Sable-street, continuing southward in the line of Sable-street and Sebbon-street, and crossing Spencer-street in an oblique direction to Allan-street; thence eastward through Allan-street into Halton-street; thence southward through Halton-street, in the middle thereof, to the Lower-road, crossing the Lower-road to Elder-walk; and thence to the east, by an imaginary line, in the rear of the houses in Elder-walk, to Popham-terrace; thence northerly to the west end of South-street; thence easterly by the water-course, on the south side of South-street, to its junction with the New North-road; thence to the south-east, in the New North-road, to the northern side of the bridge across the canal in the New North-road; thence in a southerly direction to the south-eastern side of the Regent's Canal; thence, in a south-westerly direction, by the boundaries of the parishes of Islington and Saint Leonard, Shoreditch, to the bridge crossing the Regent's Canal from Saint Peter's-street; thence in a north-westerly direction by the rear garden walls of the houses on the north east side of Saint Peter's-street, about one hundred and ten feet from the middle of the street crossing Rheidol-terrace, at the south end of River-lane; from thence, nearly in the same direction, at the back of the houses in River-lane, and the distance of one hundred and ten feet from the middle of the road on the north side thereof to the Lower-road; thence southerly in the Lower-road, and on the eastern side of Islington-green, to the High-street; thence, nearly in the same direction, to the junction of the High-street and the Liverpool-road; and which said parish of Saint Mary, Islington, is more particularly delineated on the said map hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured blue:

"That the consents of the said Charles James Lord Bishop of London (as the Bishop of the diocese), of the Venerable George Hodson, Archdeacon of the archdeaconry of Stafford, the Reverend Charles Richard Pritchett, of Little Hallingbury, in the county of Essex, Clerk, the Reverend Henry Venn, of Highgate, in the county of Middlesex, Bachelor of Divinity, the Reverend John Hambleton, of Compton-terrace, in the said parish of Saint Mary, Islington, Clerk, and the Reverend Daniel Wilson, of Barnsbury-park, in the said parish of Saint Mary, Islington, Clerk, as the patrons of the church of the said district parish of Saint Paul, Ball's Pond, and of the Reverend John Sandys, Master of Arts, as the incumbent of such last-named district parish, and also of the said Daniel Wilson, as the patron and incumbent of the parish church of the said district called Saint Mary's District, otherwise the parish of Saint Mary, Islington, as aforesaid, have been obtained to the hereinbefore-proposed alteration of the boundaries of such district parish of Saint Paul, Ball's Pond, and of the said district called Saint Mary's District, otherwise the parish of Saint Mary, Islington, as aforesaid, as required by the before-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the third and fourth years of your Majesty's reign; in testimony whereof the said Charles James Lord Bishop of London, George Hodson, Charles Richard Pritchett, Henry Venn, John Hambleton, Daniel Wilson, and John Sandys, have severally signed and sealed this representation:

"Your Majesty's Commissioners beg leave further to represent, that on the twenty-third day of July one thousand eight hundred and thirty-nine your Majesty's said Commissioners, with the consent of the said Charles James Lord Bishop of London, (signified under his hand and seal,) made a representation to your Majesty in Council, that it appeared to them to be expedient, and therefore humbly prayed that particular districts might be assigned under the provisions of the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His said Majesty King George the Third, intituled 'An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes,' to certain consecrated churches in the said parish of Saint Mary, Islington, and amongst others, to the new church called Saint Stephen's Church, situate in such last-mentioned parish; and that such district should be named 'Saint Stephen's District,' with boundaries as follows; that is to say:

"Saint Stephen's District is bounded on the north-west and south by Saint Mary's District, and on the east by Saint Paul's District, as the boundary thereof is hereinafter more particularly described; namely:—commencing at the east end of Marquis-terrace, Canonbury-square; thence by an imaginary line to the south-west angle of the said square; thence by the line of the west boundary wall to the rear wall of No. 1 in the said