Hotele

His week arrived here three Barques from the Ille of Ferfey, where they left all things in a quiet and thriving posture, but tell us that the French Coafts are much infested by the Privateers of Or fiend, who take many Prizes, and fo terrify the French Merchants that few of them dare adventure to Landon, Captain Green Commander in the place of the former Captain descaled during his Voyage for Guista from whence with 8 or 9 more in company he touched at Berbe-does, and about 8 weeks fince, with a Fleet of 52 fail, came thence for England; of which number, 12 are gone up St. Georges Channel bound for Briffel and Barnflapie, the rea are making in for this Harbor, whereof four or five more are already arrived and the rest following. They met with ill weather by the way, which occasioned the foundring of two of their number, one a Veilel of Pinnouth, all her men as well as goods loft; another an Irish Vessel perished, but the men faved. Yefterday the Eagle met with a Dutch Merchant ship, at whom she made a shot, having not before heard any news of the Peace, but upon information, cealed from farther hostility and parted friendly.

Plymouth, Nov. 15. This evening were forced into this Port about 16 or 18 fail of Dutch Merchant thips laden with Wine and Brandy. Here also arrived a vessel of this Town

Newcastle, Nov. 15. On Wednesday last arrived bere 16 fail of light ships, most of them from Tarmouth. Some others appeared the last evening at the Bar, but the night having proved very flormy, we fear they may have run much Weymouth, Nov. 16. The 13th instant arrived here a French Barque from Bour deaux, laden with Wines and Prunes, bound for St. Valery, but by ill weather forced into this Port. On the 19th past she left in the Harbour at Bourdeaux about 400 fail of Merchents loading for several Countries. On Thursday came into Portland Road a Vesfel of Rechefter from France, with Brandy and Prunes, bound for London.

Venice, Nov. 4. Our latest Letters arrived from the Le-Court to recall the Grand Visier from the Siege of Candia, the great Ministers giving out that he is to be employed with a numerous Army against the Persi ins, who notwithstanding the War they have already with the Mogul, have drawn a great force together, intending to recover Bagaist and some other places formerly taken from them by the Turks, but tis tather believed the Grand Seignior being distatissed with the Vitier for the little success he has had against the City of Candia, having not in five months time gained any confide able Post, nor made any advance answerable to the vast exence of moneyes and men, intends under this pretext to call him home, where he may probably lose his head, which he engaged for the conquest of that place.

From Candia we are adviced that the Janisaries and Spahi being tired out with the ill fuccels against the Town, which had reduced their Army from 60 to 20000, were relolved to drawn off to Retime, and that the Viner had before this flighted his Batteries against the Fort Sabioscra for want of

That the Turks continue flill to beat the Town with their Ordnance, and frequently appear in final Companies Before the Ontworks 3 amongst other late adventures, about ad of our Gally. Slaves being employed in one of the Ontworks, and discovering a party of one hundred Turks that were advanced near them, one of the Slaves called Briffare, known that the contract his Country one of the Slaves called Briffare, known raging his Companions, taking up such weapons as came first to hand, made himself Captain of the rest, and boldly issuing out upon the Turks, in little time killed 30 of them, and worm. ding many of the reft, forced them to fave themselves by flight; Ereffano having in this Sally thewed extraordinary courage, killing fixteen of them with his own hand. The Captain General being at that Inftam upon the Walls, and observing what had parts sent for him, and commending his Valour, immediately rewarded him with a Chain of Gold and a Company of Foot, liberally bestowing moneyes amongst the rest of the Slaves, and enrolling them into a Com-

We are also informed that the Grand Visier, wholly difcouraged in his attempts on that City, had left the Seige, and that the Beneged had made a front Sally out of the Fort Panigra, and much difordered them in their retreat, in which one Nico atto had much fignalized his Valor, and was by the General rewarded with a Company of Foot, of which we daily expect the confirmation.

Viennis Nov. 5. On Saturday last appeared at the Course the Duke Ulrich of Wurtembergs and the second Instant had his Audience from the Emperous, in which he produced a Letter lent to him by his Most Christian Majesty, inviting him to espouse his Interest and to take an employment in his service, which he promised should be equal to his quality and merits; but the Duke remembring himself to be a Prince of the Empire, thought it an incumbency upon him as his Duty to acquaint his Imperial Majesty with things of that nature $ which free and open dealing has much endeared him to the Emperor who as ill referts the proceedings of Prince Philip Palatine of Sultzback, on whom he had conterred the charge of Calonel of a Regiment of Foot, with the Title of Lieute-nant General, Field-Marshal, and a Pention proportionable to his Charge and Dignity; but this notwithstanding, he has left the Emperors fervice, fending the refignation of his charge to the Court, and is now feeking an employment under his Most Christian Majesty. The Regiment is not yet disposed of, but 'tis believed will be given either to the above named Duke of Wartembe g, or to the Prince of Holftein to whom the first vacancy was formerly promised.

The Muscovite Ambassador has defired some Commission

ners may be appointed to treat with him about the concernments of the Czar his Mafter, which the Emperor has granted, and given Commission to the Baron Van Walenderf Vicechancellor, the Count de Kening march and the Baron He-cher Chancellor of the Court, to attend him attendingly.

Yesterday the Councel of War came to a resolution for the recruiting of 25 Regiments of Horse and 1 oots each Regiment to sonlift of ten Companies, and every Company to have an addition of 25 men. The new Levies are still under debate, they being not yet fully agreed either of the num ber of Regiments, or the places out of which they are to be

The Spanish Ambassador has by a Courier lately arrived f om Milan, with a Gentleman from Naples, received Letters of Exchange for two Millions, and tis believed will fuidealy give out his Commissions to the Officers designed for raising men for the succour of the Netherlands.
