Naples, March 5.

Colonel Vespaſiano has already raiſed 300 Men in this Kingdom for the Service of the Republick of Venice, (which he has ſent to the Levant) and hopes before the end of this month to have quite finiſhed the Levy he is to make.

Genova, March 9. We have an account from Leghorne, that ſix Gallies, and three Gallots, are fitting out there with great diligence, which are to ſerve with the Pope's Gallies, and thoſe of Malta, againſt the Turky. By a Veſſel arrived from Cadiz, we are informed, that Sixteen Spaniſh Men of War are ordered to go and meet the Gallons that are expected home in June next. The Letters from Provence confirm that the French Gallies are fitting at Marseilles, and a Squadron of Men of War at Toulon, which are to join together under the Command of the Duke de Mortemur. The Sieur d'Obbeville, Envoy from France, had this week Audience of the Doge, but we do not know the Subject of it. The Maſter of a Veſſel which arrived here this week from Corſou, aſſures us, that the Venetian Fleet would be ready to ſail from thence before the end of this Month, and that it was believed the Captain-General would begin the Campaigne with the Siege of Mordon or Laria. The Advices from the Levant ſay the Turks make great Preparations for the Campaigne in Hungary. The Count de Fuenſalida is expected here the next Month from Sardinia, in his way to Milan; and in the mean time the Palace of Prince Doria is preparing for him.

Venice, March 15. By a Veſſel which came lately from Zara, we are informed, that before her departure from thence, ſeveral Gallies arrived there from Corſou, to take on Board the Venetian Troops that have had their Winter-quarters on that ſide. And by Letters of the 30th of the laſt Month from Corſou we are informed, that the Captain-General hath ſent a Squadron of Men of War to cruize in the Archipelago, under the command of Signior Pisani, and that he would part from thence himſelf with the whole Fleet, ſo ſoon as the great Convoy he expected from hence was arrived there. On Thursday laſt Count Coningmarks, General of the Forces of this State by Land, had Audience of the Senate: He will part from hence ſuddenly for the Levant. The Troops of the Silaneze are embarked; and thoſe of Hanover are expected at the Lido before the end of this month. On Monday laſt arrived here a Barque from Spalatro, with advice, that the Sangiac of Albania having aſſembled what Troops he could, has marched with them towards Paſtorich with ſign, as was believed, to attack that place; and the Venetian Forces in thoſe quarters did before draw together to oppoſe him. The Vicere General Cornaro is preparing for his departure to go and take poſſeſſion of his Government of Dalmatia. This week was made a trial of ſeveral Fire-works, invented by the Ingenier Vetri, which ſucceeded ſo well, that the Senate have given him a yearly Penſion of 400 Ducats.

Vienna, March 17. An Officer arrived here yeſterday from Upper Hungary, who ſays General Caprara was before Montax with 4000 Foot, 500 Horſe, ſix Mortars, and as many pieces of Cannon for Battery; and that there was in the place a ſtrong Garriſon, who ſeemed reſolved to defend it to the laſt, having had freſh aſſurances of Relief from Count Teckley; but if we may give Credit to the Advices we have as well from Cathaw as Zolnocks he has promiſed them what he can perform for though the Turks may be able to draw together from Great Waradin, and the Neighbouring Garriſons, a Body of 5 or 6000 Men, to aſſiſt him for the ſuccoring of that Fortreſs, yet being very narrowly obſerved by the Imperialiſts, who have their quarters on that ſide under the Command of Lieutenant General de Mercy, and Major General Hueſler, they can no ſooner begin to move (as they have more than once attempted during this Winter) but theſe will be ready to oppoſe them. The Herz Grunckau, the Brandenburgh Commiſſary, will part from hence to morrow, to return to Berlin, having finiſhed the Commiſſion he was ſent hither upon; He has aſſured the Imperial Miniſters, that the Brandenburgh Forces will be in Hungary by the 15th of April, which is confirmed by the Letters we have from Berlin; They will be 8000 fighting Men, beſides a conſiderable number of Gunners and Fire-workers. We had a report here the laſt week, that the Turks being very much diſſatisfied with Teckley, had carried him back to Belgrade, to keep him there, till they had the Grand Signior's farther Orders concerning him; but the laſt Letters from Upper Hungary make no mention thereof, but on the contrary ſay, that according to the freſheſt News they had of him, he was ſtill at Great Waradin, having with him about 800 Hungarians, who have returned to him ſince his Liberty. The Viceroy of Croatia has had this week ſeveral Conferences with the Prince of Dietrichſtein, Preſident of the Chamber of Graz, with others of the Emperor's principal Miniſters, with whom, it's ſaid, he has concerted the matters he came hither about, concerning the Forces that are maintained by that Countrey for the Emperor's Service, ſo that it's believed he will ſoon in few days return to his Government; The Marquis de Parella, who has a Regiment in Croatia, is likewiſe on his departure. General Caraffa has ſent an account hither, that he has received for Contributions from the City of Debrecen 200000 Florins, and 1000 Sacks of Corn; And that the Baſſa who commands the Ottoman Forces on the other ſide of the Taiſſe, has had the Title of Seraſquier conferred upon him
