"Your Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that having taken into consideration all the circumstances of the parish of Saint Germans, in the county of Cornwall, and in the diocese of Exeter, it appears to them to be expedient that particular districts should be assigned to the consecrated churches of Saint Anne, at Hessenford, and Saint Luke, at Tideford, in the said parish of Saint Germans, under and by virtue of the power or authority for this purpose contained in the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled 'An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes;' and also in the third section of an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the second and third years of your Majesty's reign, intituled 'An Act to make better provision for the assignment of ecclesiastical districts to certain churches or chapels augmented by the Governors of the Bounty of Queen Anne, and for other purposes;' or under and by virtue of any and every other power or authority in this behalf vested in your Majesty's said Commissioners by the Church Building Acts, and that such proposed districts should be respectively named or called 'The District Chapelry of Hessenford' and 'The District Chapelry of Tideford,' and that the respective boundaries thereof should be those hereinafter mentioned; that is to say:

"The district chapelry of Hessenford is bounded on the north and north-east by the turnpike-road leading from Liskeard to Torpoint, on the south-east by the parish of Sheviocke, on the south by the English Channel, and on the west by the parishes of Saint Martin and Morval, as such district chapelry is more particularly delineated on the map or plan hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured yellow.

"The district chapelry of Tideford is bounded on the east by the parish of Landrake, on the north partly by the parish of Quethiock and partly by the parish of Menheniot, on the north-west by the said parish of Menheniot, and on the south-west and partly on the south by the turnpike-road from Liskeard to Torpoint, as far as the point where the said road meets the road leading to the village of Tideford, and on the south is bounded by the latter road and the stream, as far as the said parish of Landrake, as such district chapelry is more particularly delineated on the said map or plan, and thereon coloured green.

"Your Majesty's said Commissioners beg leave further to represent, that it also appears to them to be expedient that banns of matrimony should be published, and that marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials, should be solemnized or performed in the said church of Saint Anne, at Hessenford; and also that banns of matrimony should be published, and that marriages, baptisms, and churchings, and likewise burials (upon a burial ground being provided) should be solemnized or performed in the said church of Saint Luke, at Tideford, and that the fees to arise therefrom (except those from marriages) should be forthwith paid and belong to the respective incumbents for the time being of the said churches at Hessenford and Tideford; and that the fees from marriages should be paid and belong to the incumbents for the time being of the said churches at Hessenford and Tideford, upon and after the next avoidance of the parish church of the said parish of Saint Germans.

"That the consent of the Right Reverend Henry, Bishop of the said diocese of Exeter, has been obtained thereto, as required by the Acts and sections hereinbefore mentioned, in testimony whereof he has signed and sealed this representation.

"Your Majesty's said Commissioners therefore humbly pray, that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to your Majesty in your royal wisdom shall seem meet."

Her Majesty having taken the said representation, together with the map or plan thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed assignment be accordingly made; and the recommendations of the said Commissioners, in respect of the publication of banns, and the solemnization of marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials, and the fees arising therefrom, be carried into effect, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts; and Her Majesty, by and with the like advice, is pleased to direct that this Order be forthwith registered by the Registrar of the diocese of Exeter.
