

spective boundaries thereof should be those hereinafter mentioned; that is to say:

"The boundary line of the district chapelry of Saint Michael, Shrewsbury, commences at the bound stone on the western side of the road leading to Market Drayton, at Bow Bridge, and proceeds along the boundary line separating the parish of Saint Alkmond, Shrewsbury, from the parish of Saint Mary, Shrewsbury, in a north-westerly, westerly, south-easterly, and again in a westerly direction, until such boundary line meets the boundary line of Saint Julian's Parish, Shrewsbury; then follows that line of boundary westerly and southerly until it reaches the southernmost corner of the boundary line of the said parish of Saint Julian and westerly of Bagley Brook; from which said corner the boundary line of the said district chapelry of Saint Michael, Shrewsbury, proceeds in a straight line about one chain south-easterly to Bagley Brook, and then follows the course of that brook in a southerly direction to the boundary line of the said parish of Saint Alkmond, and proceeds south-easterly along such boundary to the corner of the Red Lion Inn, in Castle Foregate-street, and up that street northerly to the corner of the Plough Inn Yard; then easterly along the street leading to Gas House Bridge, and from thence along the wall at the south side of Birches-buildings as far as Beacall's-lane, then along that lane southerly to the point opposite the terrace wall on the north side of the gaol, and along such wall as far as the walk leading to the steps on the river Severn side from the Daria; then along the said river easterly and north-easterly as far as the northern corner of the field, called Jenny Woods Field, where it meets the boundary line of the said parish of Saint Julian (following such line in a south-westerly direction as far as Robin Hood Inn); then proceeds north-easterly up the road leading to Market Drayton as far as the bound stone at Bow Bridge aforesaid, where the said district chapelry of Saint Michael, Shrewsbury, commenced, and as the same is more particularly delineated on the map or plan hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured green:

"The boundary line of the district chapelry of Little Berwick, Shrewsbury, commences at the southern corner of the middle Purditches Field, adjoining the river Severn, and proceeds north-easterly along the fence of that field to the point where it meets the road leading from the Shrewsbury-road to Gravel-hill, and then turns south-easterly along that road to its junction with the said Shrewsbury-road, up which latter road it proceeds northerly as far as the south-western corner of the fence separating the lands belonging to the Honourable Henry Wentworth Powys from the lands belonging to Messieurs Braine and Bather, and then north-easterly along the said fence to the south-east corner of the field called the Anvils; thence to the division of the townships of Coton and Almond Park, where the boundary line of the said parish of Saint Mary, Shrewsbury, meets the said parish of Saint Alkmond, and proceeds along the boundary line separating the two parishes northerly and north-easterly until they meet the parish of Battlefield at the south-east corner of the fence of the field called Little Huffle Leasow; then northerly along the boundary line separating the said parish of Saint Mary, Shrewsbury, from the said parish of Battlefield as far as the south-east corner of the fence of the field called Perril Meadow; then northerly along the eastern fence thereof to the northern extremity thereof, and turning westerly proceeds along the northern fences of fields called Perril Leasow, Steen Lane Piece, Little Wollascott Piece, and Big Wollascott Piece, crossing the line of the Shrewsbury and Chester Railway to the northern corner of the fence of the field called Wollascott Slang; then south-westerly along the fence of that field, and then westerly along the northern fences of fields called Far Well Leasow, and Near Well Leasow, as far as the road leading to Preston Gobalds, and then westerly along the boundary line separating the township of Great Berwick from the townships of Wollascott and Leaton until it reaches the river Severn, and then follows the course of that river southerly until it reaches the southern corner of the middle Purditches Field, where the said district chapelry of Little Berwick, Shrewsbury, commenced, and as the same is more particularly delineated on the map or plan hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured pink.

"Your Majesty's said Commissioners beg leave further to represent, that it also appears to them to be expedient that baptisms, churchings, and burials should be solemnized or performed in the said church of Saint Michael, and in the said chapel at Little Berwick, and that the fees to arise therefrom should be paid and belong to the ministers or incumbents thereof for the time being.

"That the consent of the Right Reverend John, Bishop of the said diocese of Lichfield, has been obtained thereto, as required by the Acts and sections hereinbefore mentioned, in testimony whereof he has signed and sealed this representation.

"Your Majesty's said Commissioners therefore humbly pray that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your royal consideration, and to make such Order in respect thereto as to your Majesty in your royal wisdom shall seem meet."

Her Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the map or plan thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed assignment be accordingly made, and the recommendations of the said Commissioners in respect of the solemnization of baptisms, churchings, and burials, and the fees arising therefrom, be carried into effect, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts; and Her Majesty, by and with the like advice, is pleased to direct that this Order be forthwith registered by the Registrar of the diocese of Lichfield.
