AT the Court at Windsor, the 16th day of October 1852,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS Her Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches have, in pursuance of the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes," as enlarged and extended by the twelfth section of an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the first and second years of Her present Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual the Church Building Acts," or under and by virtue of any and every other power and authority contained in the Church Building Acts, duly prepared, and laid before Her Majesty in Council a representation, bearing date the fourth day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty-two, in the words following, viz.:

"Your Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that when the last census was taken, the parish, or distinct and separate parish, of Blurton, in the county of Stafford, and in the diocese of Lichfield, contained a population of two thousand one hundred and eighty persons, and that besides the parish church, which will accommodate three hundred persons, including two hundred on free seats, there is a consecrated chapel, situate at Normacot, in the said parish of Blurton, which will accommodate four hundred persons, including one hundred on free seats.

"Your Majesty's said Commissioners beg leave further to represent that the said parish, or distinct and separate parish, of Blurton, was originally formed by a division of the parish of Trentham, in the county and diocese aforesaid, under the powers and authorities contained in the Act and section firstly hereinafter mentioned, and in conformity also with an Order in Council of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, bearing date the tenth day of August one thousand eight hundred and thirty-one.

"Your Majesty's said Commissioners beg leave further to represent, that having taken into consideration all the circumstances of the said parish, or distinct and separate parish, of Blurton, it appears to them to be expedient that there should be divided off therefrom a distinct and separate parish for the said chapel at Normacot aforesaid, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, under and by virtue of the power or authority for such purpose contained in the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled 'An Act for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes,' as enlarged and extended by the twelfth section of an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the first and second years of your Majesty's reign, intituled 'An Act to amend and render more effectual the Church Building Acts,' or under and by virtue of any and every other power and authority in this behalf contained in the Church Building Acts, and that the same should be named of called 'The Distinct and Separate Parish of 'Normacot,' and that the said chapel at Normacot should be and become the parish church of the said distinct and separate parish of Normacot, and that the boundaries thereof should be as follow; that is to say: the distinct and separate parish of Normacot is bounded on the north and north-east by the parishes of Stoke-upon-Trent and of Caverswall; on the east by the consolidated chapelry of Forsbrook as far as the turnpike-road from Stone to Cheadle; on the south by the parish of Stone, to a point near where the highway to Gravelly Bank is approached, and where the said parish of Blurton abuts; it is then bounded on the south-west and west by a line proceeding at the back of the cottages and gardens now or late belonging to Rebecca Simpson, and along the eastern fence of the highway from Gravelly Bank, to the north-western corner of the Grange Wood, after proceeding along the northern fence of the said wood for the distance of forty yards, it passes behind the cottage and cowhouse belonging to Richard Walklate until it joins the last mentioned highway, proceeding along which until it joins the turnpike-road from Sandon to Leek, it goes southward along the road for the distance of one hundred and fifty yards, and then, proceeding west, it takes the fence which divides the property of the Duke of Sutherland and John Bailey for the distance of one hundred yards, again proceeding southward at right angles along a fence through the said John Bailey's property until it joins the fence that separates the property of Thomas Emery, then along such fence westward until it reaches the turnpike-road from Longton to Stone, crossing which and entering the property of the said Duke of Sutherland and still proceeding westward until it meets the watercourse or ditch in the hollow ground, it then proceeds in a north-western direction along the watercourse or ditch which runs through the Copshurst Farm, and crossing the highway from Cocknage to Normacot at the bridge under it, still keeping the watercourse, to a short distance south of the site of the Sprotslade Mill, it then takes a northern direction along the fence behind the mill pool until it reaches the turnpike-road from Trentham to Normacot, proceeding towards Normacot for the distance of eighty yards, it takes the line of an intended fence until it meets the Longton and Stone Turnpike-road, along which it passes to a point where a small stream crosses, it then proceeds along the stream in a north-eastwardly direction to a point where the parish of Blurton and the parish of Stoke-upon-Trent join, as such distinct and separate parish of Normacot is more particularly delineated on the map or plan hereunto annexed, and is thereon coloured pink.

"Your Majesty's said Commissioners beg leave further to represent, that the glebe land belonging
