

SUPPLEMENT
TO
The London Gazette

Of TUESDAY the 26th of JUNE.

Published by Authority.

THURSDAY, JUNE 28, 1855.

War-Department, June 23, 1855.

LORD PANMURE has this day received two Despatches and their Enclosures, of which the following are copies, addressed to His Lordship by Field-Marshal the Lord Raglan, G.C.B.

Mr Lord,

*Before Sevastopol,
June 14, 1855.*

YOUR Lordship will be concerned to learn that the army still suffers from cholera, and that it has increased since the last report.

The men in general, however, look healthy, and I hope that the duration of this sad malady will not be long.

The reports of the state of the Sardinian army are to-day a little more satisfactory.

I have, &c.,
RAGLAN

The Lord Panmure, &c. &c. &c.

My Lord,

*Before Sevastopol,
June 16, 1855.*

I HAVE the honour to acquaint your Lordship that Lieutenant-General Sir George Brown and Admiral Sir E. Lyons, returned from Kertch yesterday, having fully and successfully accomplished the objects of the expedition to that part of the Crimea.

I have the highest satisfaction in drawing your Lordships' attention to the manner in which the Lieutenant-General conducted the duties I entrusted to his charge; and I entertain no doubt that if he had encountered the resistance which I was led to expect he would have met with, the result would have been equally advantageous, and would have reflected the same credit upon his arrangements, whilst the efficiency and gallantry of the troops would have been brought into stronger light. But it is a matter of great joy that so much should have been done without the loss of a life.

He feels greatly indebted to General Daumemarre and Reschid Pasha, who commanded the French and Turkish troops respectively, for their ready cooperation and assistance.

It has afforded me the most sincere pleasure to have the opportunity of personally congratulating Sir E. Lyons on the success of the expedition, for which he was from the first so warm an advocate, and to which he always attached the highest importance, and on the result of the attacks upon the enemy's possessions in the Sea of Azof. The excellence of the arrangements for the bombardment of Taganrog does infinite honour to Captain Lyons, of H.M.S. Miranda, and at once testifies his ability, determination and gallantry.

The progress of the works against Sevastopol since I reported to your Lordship on the 12th, has been perfectly satisfactory, and new batteries are completed, which will enable both the English and the French armies to resume the offensive with the utmost vigour.

I enclose returns of the casualties which have arisen to the 14th instant.

I have, &c.
RAGLAN.

The Lord Panmure, &c. &c. &c.

P.S. I have just received a letter from Colonel Shirley, in which he expresses his regret at having omitted the name of Captain Peel, 34th Regiment, who was severely wounded in the successful attack of the Quarries on the 7th ultimo, where he highly distinguished himself.

RAGLAN.

Admiralty, June 28, 1855.

DESPATCHES, of which the following are copies, have been received from Rear-Admiral Sir Edmund Lyons, Bart., G.C.B., Commander-in-Chief of Her Majesty's Ships and Vessels in the Mediterranean and Black Sea.

OPERATIONS IN THE SEA OF AZOF.

Royal Albert, Straits of Kertch,
June 12, 1855.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to enclose, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, copies of three letters from Captain Lyons, of the Miranda, reporting the destruction of Mariaupol, Ghiesk, and Kiten near Arabat, of immense quantities of grain, flour, and hay, destined for the supply of the enemy's army in the Crimea; so great was the quantity that in some cases the conflagration had not entirely subsided when last seen on the eighth day.

2. Thus, in the space of a fortnight, the Sea of Azof has been swept by the Allied squadrons under Captain Lyons's orders, and the enemy deprived not only of the supplies which already existed in the different depôts, but also of the means of transporting the coming crops.

3. I have also the honour to enclose a copy of a letter from Captain Lyons, speaking in terms of high praise of the officers and men employed in the launches of the fleet, and in the Danube and Sulina tenders.

4. Considerable skill, vigour, and promptitude have characterised these operations, and I trust that their Lordships may consider that credit is due to all employed in them. Opportunities offered for individual distinction, which were eagerly seized by the officers whom Captain Lyons particularly mentions, and whom I beg leave to recommend to their Lordships' favourable consideration.

I am, &c.,

(Signed) EDMUND LYONS,
Rear-Admiral and Commander-in-Chief.

To the Secretary of the Admiralty.

Her Majesty's ship, Miranda,

SIR,

Mariaupol, 5th June, 1855.

I HAVE the honour to inform you that having anchored yesterday evening off this place with the ships under my orders, and six French steamers, I sent Lieutenant-Commander Horton of the Ardent, accompanied by a French officer with similar orders, at daylight this morning, to demand the surrender of the place, on exactly the same terms as those offered by us at Taganrog; and I desired him to express to the authorities, the earnest hope of myself and of the French senior officer, that they would not oblige us to resort to measures, which would endanger the whole town, as our object was to destroy all contraband of war, but to respect private property.

2. At the expiration of the delay granted, no authorised person appearing, I sent the line-of-battle ships' launches (lent to the squadron) and the boats of the ships under my orders, with all the marines under Lieutenant Macnamara, R.M.A., the whole commanded by Lieutenant J. F. C. Mackenzie, of this ship, to effect our object by force; the French boats accompanying ours.

3. On the marines and a body of French small-arm men landing, under cover of the launches' guns, 600 Cossacks, commanded by a Colonel, evacuated the town, and the marines and the French small-arm men advanced and took possession of it; the very extensive stores of grain were fired and destroyed by parties under the directions of Captain Lejeune, of the French Navy, and of Lieutenant Swinburne, of this ship, every care being taken to cause as little damage to the town as possible.

4. Thus was a considerable town on the military high-road from the provinces of the Don to the Crimea (the only one left since our occupation of this sea), held unmolested possession of by a small body of British marines and French small-arm men, for five hours, while immense stores of grain were destroyed.

5. The grain, plank, and other stores considered as contraband of war, being effectually destroyed, the whole party re-embarked without the slightest accident.

6. Lieutenant Mackenzie conducted this service with excellent judgment; and he speaks in high terms of the judicious manner in which First Lieutenant Macnamara, Royal Marine Artillery, posted the Royal Marines and Royal Marine Artillery under his orders, in presence of a superior force, who were thus deterred from venturing to molest them.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) E. M. LYONS,
Captain.

*Rear-Admiral Sir Edmund Lyons,
Bart., G.C.B.*

No. 2 Enclosure.

*Her Majesty's ship, Miranda,
off the town of Gheisk, June 6, 1855.*

SIR, I HAVE the honour to inform you, that on my arrival here this morning with the vessels under my orders, and the launches of the line of battle ships, accompanied by four French steamers, I sent Lieutenant Commander Horton, of the Ardent, with whom was associated a French Officer, to demand the surrender of the place on the same terms as those offered by us at Taganrog and Maranopol. These terms having been wisely acceded to by Colonel Borsikoff, the Military Governor, whose small force was quite inadequate to defend the town, the marines of this ship, under First Lieutenant Macnamara, R.M.A., and a French party, landed and destroyed a vast quantity of hay, stacked on the beach, ready for conveyance to the Crimea, and several thousand quarters of wheat, &c., &c. During this time Lieutenant Horton and the French officer went through the town, and had all the store-houses and magazines thrown open for their inspection, in order to see that no evasion of the terms was attempted, and that all contraband of war was destroyed.

6. On this as well as on the two former similar occasions, Lieutenant Horton conducted the interview with much judgment and firmness.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) E. M. LYONS,
Captain.

*Rear-Admiral Sir Edmund Lyons,
Bart., G.C.B.*

No. 3 Enclosure.

*Her Majesty's ship Miranda,
off Kiten Bay, Sea of Azof,
June 10, 1855.*

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to enclose a letter from Lieutenant Horton, commanding Her Majesty's ship Ardent, which I received on my arrival here this morning, informing me that he, yesterday, set fire to and destroyed 30,000 sacks of flour, stacked on the beach in Kiten Bay; this flour was the property of the Russian government, and evidently destined for the Russian army in the Crimea.

Lieutenant Horton has performed this service judiciously and effectively.

I have, &c.

(Signed) E. M. LYONS, Captain.

*Rear-Admiral Sir Edmund Lyons,
Bart., K.C.B.*

Sub-Enclosure

*Her Majesty's ship Ardent, Kiten Bay,
June 10, 1855.*

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report that, on my arrival here yesterday, having failed of setting fire to the stores of flour by means of shells and carcasses, I took advantage of a favourable state of weather in the evening, to drop the Ardent's bow close in shore, and to veer Mr. Roberts, the gunner, ashore in the dingy, with two men, under cover of musketry from aloft. I had previously ascertained that no ambuscade was there, and had cleared to a distance the 30 or 40 Cossacks who were watching, by firing round shot in their direction.

Mr. Roberts and his party very quickly and effectually fired all the stacks, and I anchored the Ardent off to watch the fires.

The whole stores are now consumed, estimated by the Lynx at 30,000 sacks.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) W. HORTON,
Lieutenant and Commander.

*Captain Lyons,
Her Majesty's ship Miranda.*

No 4 Enclosure.

*Her Majesty's ship Miranda,
off Temrwich, June 9, 1855.*

SIR,

I CANNOT allow the launches of the line-of-battle ships to return to their ships without requesting permission to bring to your notice the zeal and intelligence of the officers in command, and the excellent conduct and good discipline of all employed in them, which has enabled them to render such important service in the Sea of Azof, and which, if I may be permitted to say so without presumption, reflects so much credit on the ships they belong to.

I should also beg leave to bear similar testimony to the merit of the Commanding Officers of the Danube and Sulina, and those under their command, as well as to that of the Officers of Royal Marine Artillery who have been lent to this squadron during the same period.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) E. M. LYONS,
Captain.
