TUESDAY, JUNE 30, 1857.

Buckingham Palace, June 20, 1857.

THIS day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen, Recorder, Sheriffs, and Officers, of the city of London, waited upon Her Majesty with the following Address, which was read by Russell Gurney, Esq., the Recorder, and which Her Majesty was graciously pleased to receive upon the Throne.

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons, of the city of London, in Common Council assembled, humbly approach your Majesty, to offer our heartfelt congratulations, on the safety of your Majesty and the Birth of another Princess.

Feeling at all times the most lively and affectionate interest in any circumstance calculated to enhance the domestic felicity of your Majesty and of your Royal Consort, and thus to increase the happiness of your people, we hail with peculiar satisfaction, this auspicious event.

We fervently pray that your Majesty may be long preserved by Divine Providence, to reign over a free, happy, and contented people, and that the Throne may be secured to your Majesty's descendants to the latest posterity.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious answer :

"Your loyal and dutiful Address has afforded me sincere satisfaction, and I thank you for the deep interest which you have expressed, in the domestic happiness of myself and my beloved Consort.

"The loyal and affectionate attachment of my people, affords me the highest gratification, and you may rely upon my constant endeavours to promote their happiness and welfare."

They were all very graciously received, and had the honour of kissing Her Majesty's hand.

AT the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 25th day of June, 1857,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the tenth year of the reign of Her Majesty, intituled "An Act for the more easy recovery of small debts and demands in England," it is among other things enacted, that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order that the said Act be put in force in such county or counties as to Her Majesty, with the advice aforesaid, should seem fit, and to divide the whole or part of any such county (including all counties of cities, and counties of towns, cities, boroughs, towns, ports, and places, liberties and franchises therein contained or thereunto adjoining), into districts, and to order that the County Court should be holden for the recovery of debts and demands under the said Act, in each of such districts, and from time to time to alter such districts as to Her Majesty, with the advice aforesaid, should seem fit ; and, from time to time, with the advice aforesaid, to declare by what name and in what towns and places the County Court should be holden in each district :

And whereas Her Majesty was pleased, by an Order in Council, of the ninth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and forty-seven, to order that the said Act be put in force in the counties and places therein specified, and the same was put in force accordingly :

And whereas by certain other Acts made and passed in the thirteenth, in the fourteenth, in the sixteenth, and in the twentieth years of the reign of Her Majesty, the provisions of the said recited Act have been amended and extended :

And whereas it hath been represented that it would be to the advantage of the public, if certain alterations were made in some of the districts of the Courts, as specified or set forth in the aforesaid Order :

Her Majesty, having taken the premises into consideration, is thereupon pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, that from and after the first day of August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven :

The parish of Sandhurst, now in the County Court of Berkshire, holden at Windsor, shall be
