The Illustrious Houses of Brunswick and Brandenburg have long been associated in the mind of Europe with the assertion and maintenance of civil and religious liberty, and we cannot but regard this auspicious Marriage as a good omen and security for the continuance and extension of these inestimable blessings.

We pray that your Majesty and His Royal Highness the Prince Consort may continue to enjoy that domestic happiness with which Divine Providence has been pleased to bless you, and that your Majesty may long be preserved to reign in the hearts of a free, prosperous, and loyal people.

Signed on behalf of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Councillors of the Borough of Belfast.

In this auspicious Alliance we recognize another instance of that wisdom which has hitherto so remarkably characterised your Majesty's reign, and hail it as an additional evidence of your Majesty's gracious desire to secure, under the blessing of God, the civil and religious liberties of the people of this great Empire.

We rejoice to think that a union, having regard not merely to the best interests of your Majesty's loyal subjects, but based, as we believe it is, also on the mutual affection of your Majesty's Royal Daughter and her beloved Husband, will become a source of renewed happiness to your Majesty and to your Royal Consort; and we earnestly pray that you may both be spared long to enjoy the domestic bliss which this joyful event awakens.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Councillors of the borough of Boston, in the county of Lincoln, in Common Council assembled, desire most respectfully to present to your Majesty and to His Royal Highness the Prince Consort, the assurance of our cordial and heart-felt congratulations upon the Marriage of Her Royal Highness the Princess Royal with His Royal Highness Prince Frederick William of Prussia.

We gratefully acknowledge that by the favour of Divine Providence your Majesty has for a period of twenty years watched over the welfare of your people with more than parental solicitude, and in recalling to our minds the multiplied events which have marked this lapse of time, we find ever-increasing cause to admire the exalted virtues which have uniformly adorned your Majesty's character.

Identified with this country in religious sentiments, and inheritor, together with ourselves, of the blessings which have sprung from the Great Reformation, the name of Prussia awakens within our breasts many kindling recollections. This fresh bond of union with one of the Great Powers of Europe, holds forth to us the bright prospect for our children and our children's children, of a long and peaceful continuance of that prosperity which it is our happiness to enjoy. And in the spirit of devoted reliance upon "Him who seeth not as man seeth," we desire to implore for the Princess Royal and Her Illustrious Husband, for your Majesty and the Prince Consort, the Prince of Wales, and the other members of the Royal Family, and for our country, the choicest blessings of Heaven upon this auspicious Marriage.
