At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 6th day of January, 1862,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, after giving to the Incumbents and the Churchwardens of the parishes hereinafter mentioned, ten days' previous notice of his intention to make such representations, has, under the provisions of an Act, passed in the session of Parliament, held in the sixteenth and seventeenth years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to amend the laws concerning the burial of the dead in England beyond the limits of the metropolis, and to amend the Act concerning the burial of the dead in the metropolis," made representations stating that, for the protection of the public health, no new burial-ground should be opened in any of the undermentioned parishes without the previous approval of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State; and that interments in the same should be discontinued with the following modifications, viz. :—

COMBE FLOREY.—Forthwith, beneath the church; and from and after the first July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, in the churchyard.

CROYDON.—Forthwith, in the churchyard of St. James, with the exception of family vaults and graves, only one body to be buried in each grave; no grave to be re-opened, with the same exception; no grave to be dug except in earth in which no burials have hitherto been made, the grave-spaces for the burial of persons above twelve years of age to be nine feet by four feet, and for the burial of children under twelve years of age, six feet by three feet; and no coffin to be buried without a covering of four feet of earth.

EGREMONT (CUMBERLAND).—From and after the first January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, in the churchyard, with the exception of now-existing family vaults and brick graves, which can be opened without disturbing human remains, and in which each coffin shall be separately entombed in brick or stone work, properly cemented.

NEWCHURCH, IN ROSSENDALE.—Forthwith in that part of the Baptist Burial-ground in Clough Fold, in the parish of Newchurch, in Rossendale, which is within four feet of the west, south or south-west wall, and that in the rest of the burial-ground no new grave be dug within one foot of any other earthen grave, that the earth within one foot of any previously buried coffin be left undisturbed; that no coffin be buried in any grave less than five feet deep, and that no human remains be disturbed; also that all coffins buried in vaults or walled graves be embedded in charcoal, and entombed in an airtight manner.

Now, therefore, Her Majesty in Council is pleased hereby to give notice of such representations, and to order that the same be taken into consideration by a Committee of the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, on the seventeenth day of February next:

And Her Majesty is further pleased to direct that this Order be forthwith published in the London Gazette; and that copies thereof be affixed on the doors of the churches or chapels of or on some conspicuous places within the parishes affected by such representations, one month before the said seventeenth day of February.

Windsor Castle, November 14, 1851.
