

Five Churches. There are no fresh advices of the Elector of Bavaria's Army, but it is rather guessed, then ascertained that he was to pass the Bridge at Mohatz the third Instant, and it is as uncertainly reported what his Electoral Highness designs; some say he is to join the Duke of Lorraine, whilst others believe, that he is to continue encamped near that Bridge to observe the Enemies motions on that side, and that in the mean time, Major-General Nigrelli, who was left at Mohatz with the new Recruits for the security of that Bridge, was ordered to follow the Duke of Lorraine. Neither is there more to be depended on in the discourses concerning the Ottoman Forces, as that the Grand Visier was passed the Save with 15000 Men only, and was encamped about Peter Waradin: That he intended only to be upon the defensive: That there were but 4000 Men at Essecke, with three Bassa's, but that there were three Camps between that Town and Belgrade. The Duke of Mantua arrived here this evening. We have advice that the Prince of Neuburg, Grand-Master of the Teutonique-Order, was at Buda, and that the Lieutenant of the Ordnance there, was lading several Boats with Powder, Bullets, Bombs, Carcasses, and all other necessaries for a Siege, to be sent down the Danube in all diligence.

Hamburg, July 15. His Royal Highness Prince George of Denmark is arrived at Fredericksburg.

Hague, July 20. The Queen of Portugal arrived at Dusseldorp the 16th Instant, where she was to stay some few days, and it is believed she would be at Rotterdam about the 23 Instant. The Prince of Orange was at Maesricht the 15th Instant, and having there visited the Fortifications and Magazines, and taken a Review of the Garrison, he parted again the 17th. Her Royal Highness is at Loo. The Sieur Hop, Extraordinary Envoy from this State to the Elector of Brandenb<sup>r</sup> parted from hence yesterday on his way to that Court. The States of Holland and West-Friesland are now Assembled, and have resolved to send four of their Deputies (viz.) one of the Nobility, one of Dort, one of Amsterdam, and one of Alemaer to Compliment the Queen of Portugal in their Names, upon her Majesty's arrival in this Province.

Paris, July 23. The last advices from Cadiz say, that the New Spain Fleet was still there, and that the cause of this delay was, that two Ships more had been added to the number, by reason of the great quantity of Goods, that lay ready for Exportation. We hear there has been great damage done in the Province of Poitou by Hail that fell lately there of a prodigious bigness. The Trianon at Verfaulles is pull'd down, and will be soon built up again after another Model. The King goes to Maintenon on Saturday next.

From on Board the Fubbs Yacht at the Briel, July 12. This Afternoon His Grace the Duke of Grafton arrived here with His Majesty's Yachts, after a long Passage, by reason of Easterly Winds, having left His Majesty's Ships under his Command off of Goree, with Orders to follow him.

Windfor, July 10.
