PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the eighteenth and nineteenth years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act further to amend the laws concerning the burial of the dead in England," it is, amongst other things, enacted that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, from time to time to postpone the time appointed by any Order in Council for the discontinuance of burials, or otherwise to vary any Order in Council made under any of the Acts recited in the said Act, or under the said Act (whether the time thereby appointed for the discontinuance of burials thereunder, or other operation of such Order, shall or shall not have arrived), as to Her Majesty, with such advice as aforesaid, may seem fit;

And whereas certain Orders in Council have been made, directing the discontinuance of burials in the churchyards hereinafter mentioned, from the time mentioned in such Orders respectively; and whereas it seems fit to Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, that the time for discontinuing burials in the said churchyards be postponed;

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice aforesaid, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the time for the discontinuance of burials in such churchyards be postponed, as follows; viz.:

In the churchyard of Christ Church, Saint Clements, Norwich, from the first of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, to the first of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, on the conditions specified in the Order in Council of the twenty-second of February, one thousand eight hundred and sixty.

In the churchyard of Warkworth, Northumberland, from the first of March, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, to the first of May, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two.

And whereas by an Order in Council of the tenth May, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, it was directed that burials should be discontinued, with certain exceptions, in the churchyard of Warkworth, and whereas it is expedient that the said Order be varied, so as to allow, in certain instances, the burial of widowers and widows of those already interred in the churchyard. Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the said Order be now read and construed in the same manner as it would have been read and construed, if the following words, "and in other graves for the burial of widowers and widows of those buried therein," had been inserted in the said Order, after the words "the twenty-sixth of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty," in the 14th line of the paragraph relating to Warkworth Churchyard.

And whereas by an Order in Council of the thirtieth January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, it was directed that burials should be discontinued, with certain exceptions, in West Hackney Churchyard, and whereas it is expedient that the said Order be varied. Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that permission be granted for the use of now existing family earthen graves in the said churchyard, subject to the following conditions:—that the graves when required be opened without exposure of human remains; that one foot of earth be left undisturbed above the previously buried coffin; and that no coffin be buried without a covering of four feet of earth, measuring from the top of the coffin to the general level of the ground; and that the only bodies interred be those of the husbands, wives, parents, unmarried children, and brothers and sisters of persons already buried in the graves above indicated.

Edmund Harrison.
