Foreign Office, July 15, 1862.

THE following correspondence has taken place between Earl Russell, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, and His Excellency the Count de Flahault, Ambassador of His Majesty the Emperor of the French, respecting an alleged infraction of the 1st Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, of the 7th of March, 1857, relative to Portendick and Albreda :—

The Count de Flahault to Earl Russell.

MY LORD, Albert Gate, 8 Juillet, 1862.

Je suis chargé par le Gouvernement de l'Empereur d'informer votre Excellence du fait suivant qui a eu lieu devant Portendick au mois de mai dernier et qui constitue une infraction à l'article 1er de la Convention du 7 mars, 1857, relative à Portendick et à Albreda. Il y est stipulé que le Gouvernement de Sa Majesté Britannique renonce au droit que les traités, ont jusqu'à présent donné aux sujets de Sa Majesté Britannique de commercer depuis l'embouchure de la Rivière de St. Jean jusqu'à la baie et au fort de Portendick inclusivement.

Il résulte des informations parvenues au Gouvernement Français, qu'un bâtiment anglais a cherché, au mois de mai dernier, à nouer des relations commerciales avec les Maures, et à déterminer le Sheikh des Trazars à recevoir l'année prochaine deux bâtiments anglais qui viendraient établir sur la côte une escale ou deux.

Le Gouvernement Impérial ne doute pas que le Cabinet de la Reine ne prenne les dispositions nécessaires pour éviter le retour de semblables faits.

Veuillez agréer, &c.,
(Signé) FLAHAULT.

&c. &c.

(Translation.)

MY LORD, Albert Gate, July 8, 1862.

I AM directed by the Government of the Emperor to inform your Excellency of the following fact, which took place before Portendick in the month of May last, and which constitutes an infraction of the 1st Article of the Convention of March 7, 1857, relative to Portendick and Albreda. It is there stipulated that the Government of Her Britannic Majesty gives up the right which treaties have heretofore allowed to subjects of Her Britannic Majesty to trade between the mouth of the river St. John and the bay and fort of Portendick, inclusive.

It appears from information which has reached the French Government, that an English vessel attempted, in the month of May last, to form commercial relations with the Moors, and to persuade the Sheikh of the Trazars to receive next year two English vessels which are to arrive for the purpose of establishing one or two landing places on the coast.

The Imperial Government has no doubt that Her Majesty's Government will take the necessary steps to prevent the repetition of similar occurrences.

Receive, &c.,
(Signed) FLAHAULT.

The Earl Russell.

Foreign Office,

MONSIEUR L'AMBASSADEUR, July 14, 1862.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your Excellency's letter of the 8th instant, calling my attention to an alleged infraction of the 1st Article of the Convention between this country and France, of the 7th of March, 1857, relative to Portendick and Albreda, by a British vessel, which is stated to have endeavoured, in the month of May last, to enter into certain commercial arrangements with the Moors in that quarter.

I have the honour to assure your Excellency, in reply to your representation, that the Convention to which your Excellency refers will be faithfully observed, so far as may depend upon Her Majesty's Government; and I shall not fail to communicate to the proper Departments of Her Majesty's Government the statements contained in your Excellency's letter.

I have, &c.,

A DESPATCH, of which the following is a copy, has been received from Vice-Admiral Sir James Hope, the Commander-in-Chief of Her Majesty's Ships and Vessels on the East India and China Station :

CAPTURE OF THE CITY OF NINGPO.

No. 196.
MY LORD,

Najaor,
May 17, 1862

YOU will be pleased to lay before the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty the accompanying copy of a despatch from Captain Dew, of the Encounter, detailing the capture of the city of Ningpo, by the squadron under his orders, assisted by two French gun-boats.

2. Taking into view the very small force at Captain Dew's disposal for storming the walls, this achievement is of a character which reflects the very highest credit on the conduct of all who were engaged in it, and fully justifies the entire reliance I placed on his judgment and ability when I ordered him on a service which I foresaw would require a very large measure of both.

3. The immediate departure of the mail precludes my bringing, in detail, the circumstances which led to this collision with the rebels, under the review of their lordships—this I propose to do by the next opportunity.

4. Two hundred of Colonel Ward's Chinese troops detached for the protection of the foreign settlement arrived the day after the action, and five hundred more have since been despatched, which will constitute a garrison sufficient to ensure the safety of the city.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) J. HOPE,
Vice-Admiral and Commander-in-Chief.

The Right. Hon. Lord Clarence Paget, C.B.,
Secretary of the Admiralty.

REPORTING ATTACK AND CAPTURE OF NINGPO.

H.M.S. Encounter, Ningpo,
May 10, 1862.

SIR,

I FOUND it necessary to capture the city of Ningpo and drive the rebels out under the following circumstances.

You are aware, Sir, that the rebel chiefs had been informed that if they again fired, either on our ships or in the direction of the settlement, we should deem it a casus belli.

This morning, at 10 A.M., the Kestrel and French vessels, Etoile and Confucius, were fired on by the Point battery. I cleared for action in this ship, when a volley of musketry was fired on us from the bastion abreast.

The under-mentioned vessels, viz., Encounter, Ringdove, Kestrel, and Hardy, with the Etoile and Confucius, French gun-boats, now opened fire, with shell, on the walls and batteries, which was replied to with much spirit from guns and small arms.

At noon, having silenced the guns and knocked down the battlements, exposing the top of the wall, 25 feet thick, at a point where I intended to scale, I ceased firing and went to dinner. At 2 I landed and installed a party of Marines, under Mr. Alexander D. Douglas, Midshipman, in a house commanding the walls, got scaling ladders ready, and when joined by Lieutenant Kenney, the senior

French naval officer, I scaled the walls, meeting with a most determined resistance; 'twas here the gallant Kenney, one of the first on the wall, was dangerously wounded.

I now advanced and took possession of the Salt Gate, keeping up a heavy fire on the enemy, who under cover of the houses, returned it. At 4 p.m. I sent the Hardy, Kestrel, and Confucius, with orders to cut away the bridge of boats, pass up, and shell the south and west gates: this duty was most ably performed under a galling fire, kept under by the Confucius and Hardy, whilst Lieutenant Henry Huxham landed on the bridge—spiked the guns in battery, there, whilst Mr. Leach, Assistant-Engineer, 2nd Class, cut the chains—then opened the bridge, when the three vessels passed up into position.

In the meantime the enemy made desperate efforts to regain the Salt Gate by front and flank attacks, and in one of these latter, the bayonet and spear nearly met; it was when leading on his men in one of these charges, that Lieutenant Wm. N. Cornewall fell. Words cannot express our sorrow for the loss of this gallant and amiable officer.

At 5 o'clock, owing to the flank movements, all opposition ceased, when we passed on to the North Gate, and joined Commander Robert G. Craigie, who had scaled the walls and taken the gate with some opposition.

From the masthead the rebels were seen to leave the city, so I returned to the Salt Gate, placed the Tao-tai and Imperial soldiers, who now landed from their junks, in charge of the city, and re-embarked our own and the French people.

I was most ably assisted throughout the day by Lieutenant Kenney, and Monsieur Caligny, commanding the Etoile and Confucius respectively, and the men under their orders; the severe wound which deprived me of the services of Lieutenant Kenney is much to be regretted, and the manner the Confucius was handed and fought, reflects the highest credit on her commander.

I esteem myself peculiarly fortunate in having had such able gun-boat commanders, as Lieutenants Huxham and Archibald G. Bogle; the manner they worked their vessels in this narrow river, with a spring tide running, and the beautiful practice of their guns when close under the city walls and exposed to round shot and musketry, is beyond all praise; they speak highly of the conduct of their officers and men.

I have much pleasure in bringing to your notice the conduct of the officers and men under my orders; where all behaved so well distinction would be invidious. Lieutenant Hugh Davis, with Mr. H. H. Rawson, Midshipman, commanded the seamen when Lieutenant Cornewall fell. Acting-Lieutenant E. C. Tinsling, ably assisted by Mr. William Cantlow, Boatswain of this ship, got the howitzer on the walls and into action. Mr. James B. Scarlett, Assistant-Engineer, 2nd Class, a volunteer, was one of the first on the walls; Dr. A. Irwin, Surgeon, of this ship, was continually under fire when attending the wounded.

When on the wall, the ship was in charge of Mr. Edmund Swain, Master, and he was of great service with Mr. William Ferns, Gunner, in covering our landing with the pivot gun, manned by cooks and stewards.

Mr. Hewletts, Acting Interpreter, did good service, and in the performance of which, when in company with Mr. John Ashton, Assistant Paymaster, he was repeatedly exposed to the fire from the walls.

I regret that our casualties, a list of which I beg to inclose, are so many; but under the circumstances, considering the vermin nature of these rebels, I felt that if one blow was not followed by another, most serious consequences might result to the foreign settlement, and the shelling having had but little effect, our very safety rested on the capture of the city.

The delight displayed by the Chinese at the fall of the city, and the driving out their hated oppressors, was something extraordinary; throughout the day the bank of the river, opposite the city, was one sea of heads, and though round shot and bullets flew plentifully about them, they never moved.

I enclose a plan of the attack.

I have, &c.,

Captain and Senior Officer.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

(No. 14—NORTH SEA—COAST OF JUTLAND.)

Fixed and Flashing Light on Hirtshals Point.

THE Minister of Marine at Copenhagen has given notice, that before the expiration of this year, or early in 1863, a light will be exhibited from a lighthouse recently erected at Hirtshals, the north-west point of the coast of Jutland.

The light will be a fixed and flashing white light, showing a flash every fourth minute. The light will be elevated 182 feet above the mean level of the sea, and should be seen in clear weather from a distance of 21 miles.

The illuminating apparatus will be dioptric or by lenses, of the first order.

The tower is round, 86 feet high, and built of red brick. It stands in lat. 57° 35' 6" N., long. 9° 56' 38" East of Greenwich.

Amrum Island.

Information has been received at the Admiralty, that the revolving light supposed to have been exhibited from a lighthouse erected at the south end of Amrum island on the coast of Jutland, has not been established, nor is it now intended that any light should be shown on that island.

Hanois Light—Guernsey.

The Corporation of the Trinity House, London, has given notice, that on or about the 1st day of November, 1862, a quick revolving red light will be exhibited from a lighthouse recently erected on the Hanois rocks, off the west end of the island of Guernsey, further particulars of which will be given.

By command of their Lordships,

John Washington, Hydrographer.

Hydrographic Office, Admiralty, London,
3rd July, 1862.

This notice affects the following Admiralty Charts;—North Sea, General, No. 2339; North Sea, Sheet 3, No. 2248; Helgoland Bight, No. 1887; Guernsey, No. 61; Channel Islands, No. 2710; St. Germain to Barfleur, No. 2669; English Channel, Nos. 1598, 2675*b*; River Thames to Mediterranean, No. 1. [Extract from the Dublin Gazette of July 11, 1862.]

College Hall, Dublin,

4th July, 1862.

WHEREAS by the 40th George III, chapter 84, commonly called "The School of Physic Act," it is enacted that it may be lawful for the President and Fellows of the King and Queen's College of Physicians, in Ireland, to direct that any of the Professors shall continue to hold their Professorships for another term of seven years after the expiration of the term for which they were elected, provided that said President and Fellows do give three months' notice previous to the time at which the election of such Professorship would otherwise have been held, in the Dublin and London Gazettes, of such their direction. And whereas one of the said Professorships, to wit, "The Professorship of the Institutes of Medicine," in the city of Dublin, on the foundation of Sir Patrick Dun, now held by Dr. Robert Law, will become vacant on the 28th day of October next. This is to give notice, that the President and Fellows of the said College of Physicians, have, at a meeting held on the 4th day of July, 1862, directed that the said Dr. Robert Law shall continue to hold the said Professorship of the Institutes of Medicine for a further term of seven years, to commence from the 28th of October, 1862 next, pursuant to the powers vested in them by the said recited Act.

Lombe Attkill, Registrar of the King and Queen's College of Physicians in Ireland.
