T HE following Address has been Prefented to the King, which His Majesty received very Graciously.

To the King's Molt Excellent Majesty, The humble Address of the Citizens and Inhabitants that are of the Presbyterian Persuasion in the City of Edinburgh and Canongate.

May it pleafe Your Molt Sacred Majefty,

W E cannot find fuirable Expressions to evidence our most humble and grateful Acknowledgments for Your Majesties late Gracious Declaration, by which we are happily delivered of many fad and grievous Burdens we have long grouned under : And (all Restraints, to our great Joy, being taken off) are allowed the free and peaceable publick Exercise of our Religions, a Mercy which is dearer to us than our Lives and Fortunes.

the free and peaceable publick Ercrife of our Religion, a Mercy which is dearer to us than our Lives and Fortunes. Coold we open our Hearts, Your Majefly would undoubtedly fee what deep Scafe and true Zeal for Your Service, fo furprizing and fignal a Favor hath imprinted on our Spirits; For which we reckon our felves highly obliged (throwing our felves at Your Majelties Feet) to return Your Molt Excellent Majelty our molt humble, dutiful, and hearty Thanks: And we defire humbly to affure your Majefly, That as the Principles of the Proteflant Religion, which according to our Confession of Faith we profess, obligeth us all the days of our Lives to that intire Loyalty and Duty to Your Majeflies Perfon and Government, that no difference of Religion can delidole; fo we hope, and through God's affiltance fhall (till endeavor, to demean our felves in our Practice in fuch manner as shall evidence to the World the Trath and Sincerity of our Loyalty and Gratirude, and make it appear that there is no Inconfiltency betwirt True Loyalty and Presbyterian Principles.

according to our Confession of Faith we profess, obligeth us all the days of our Lives to that intire Loyalty and Duty to Your Majeties Person and Government, that no difference of Religion can diffolve; fo we hope, and through God's adlithance fhall full endeavor, to demean our felves in our Practice in such manner as shall evidence to the World the Trath and Sincerity of our Loyalty and Gratitude, and make it appear that there is no inconstitute betwixt True Loyalty and Presbyterian Principles. GR BAT SIR! We bumbly offer our dutiful and faithful Affurances, that as we have not been hitbers wanting in that graze Duty which our Conficiences bind upon us to pray for Your Majelly; fo this late refreshing and unexpected Favor will much more engage us in great Sincerity to continue ftill to offer up our defires to the God of Heaven, by whom Kings Reign, and Princes decree juitice, to bleis Your Majellies Royal Perfon and Government ; And after a happy and somfortable Reign on Earth, to crown You with an incorruptible Crown of Glory in Heaven, which is molt ardently prayed for, by, Moft Dread Sovereign,

Most Dread Sovereign, Your Majesties most Humble, most Loyal, most Duriful, and most Obedient Subjects.

Subscribed in our own Names, and by Order of the Citizens and Inhabitants of the Presbyterian Persuasion within Your City of Edinburgh and Canongate.

Legorne, Sept. 3. The 31 pall, 4 Gallies of the Grand Duke came into this Port, bringing with them a large Tartane belonging to the Corfairs of Algier, which they took in the Canal of Piombino; She had 60 Men on Board, with 4 Pieces of Cannon, and 18 Petarero's. It is not above a Fortnight fince they came from Algiers, in which time they had taken 5 Prizes, and fant them to Algiet, and one more that they had with them, wherein was a Nobleman of Genoa of the Family of Lercara, with 14 other Chriftian Slaves who are now fet at Liberty : They defended themfelves with good Refolution, and had 4 Men killed, and r5 difabled, before they thought of yielding. The Commander of the faid Veffel reports, That the Algierines had now 8 good Frigats at Sea, which would be follow'd very foon with 10 more, and thofe they intended to divide into two Squadrons; Nor was that the whole Force they had thoughts of patting forth, for that all dilgence was difing to equip feveral other Veffels of all fires. The fame Perfon reports, that the Dey was return'd with his Troops from Oran The fame Gallies wene to Sea again yellerday in flearch of another great Bark that had kept this Corfair company till they were parted by a Storm.

Ratisbonne, Sept. 15. The greatest matter in agitation here, has lay'n in the Debates, concerning a Compliance with the Emperor's Demands of the 100 Reman Months for the carrying on of this War. The Colledge.

of Electors was foon convinced of the Reafonablenefs of the Supply, and made no difficulty to concur in it. The Colledge of Princes was divided on the Point, fome were for Confenting, others thought themfelves to far exhaufted already, that they could not undertake for any new Payments. And a third fort were of Opinion, That those who had sent Men to the Allistance of the Emperor, should not be indifferently charged with those that had fent none. And when a Majority had agreed to the Imposition, there was a new difficulty in drawing up the Conclusion; For it being a Fundamental Constitution of the Empire, That no State shall be Taxed but by their own direct Confint; Those that were for the Negative, would not allow that the Word Unwumnully thould be made use of in the Inftrument to be drawn up : Wherefore, after fome Altercations how this was to be expressed, all adverbial Additions were laid afide, and it paffed fingly in these words, That it was Agreed; wherein all Parties were fatisfied that they had not given up the Queftion, and accordingly, on Friday laft, the Conclusions were exchanged between the Electors and Princes, and this Week the general Conclusions are to be agreed on, We hear from Vienna, That an Application had been made to the Emperor by fome of the Nobility of Hungary, that the Coronation of the Archduke might be deferr'd till towards Spring, upon pretence that the day prefixed for it in October, is too fhort for making those Preparations in all kinds that will be neceffary on fuch an occasion, and, befides the Palatines, efpecially of the remoter Provinces, could haron the second haron th affift there in the manner they ought de themseles out these Reasons have not been weighty enough to prevail with the Emperor to alter his Resolutions, who is willing to difpence with any smaller Inconveniences that may attend the difpatch of this Affair, rather than that it should be any longer put off, being lefs follicitous about the Cir-cumitances of doing it, provided the Thing be once done. Upon the occasion of the New Fortifications erected at Traarbach on the Moselle, and in other places, fome Writings having been exchanged here, paffing, as it were Incognito, concerning the Explanation of those Words in the late Treaty of Truce concluded between the Empire and France for 20 years, wherein it is pro-vided, that all things shall stand In Statu Quo: The one fide reftraining their meaning to the ftricteft literal Senfe, That no material Alteration is to be made in any Particular within those Places to which there is granted only a polfeffory Right during the subfiftance of the faid Treaty: The other contending that no more can be underflood by them, than that there shall be no enlargement of Jurifdiction, or encroachment made, but that they cannot reach to abridge the exercise of any Act of Sovereignty within the places thus deliver'd up; and the rather, for that when any fuch Limitations have been intended, it hat been usual to make a separate Article in Treaties of the like Nature, Of Forts not to be Erected : Which having been omitted, or rather rejected in this Cafe, implies tacit Confent, that there was a Liberty left to do herein as fhould be thought expedient.

as mount be thought expedient. Cologne, Sept. 13 We have no freth Advices from the Armes either on the Dambe or in Sclavonia, we hear only of Some leffer Advantages that the Imperialith have had about those Towns that they now keep block'd up. At Agria they had fent out 400 of their Garifon to look for Provisions, but those few of them that could get back again returned empty the reft being cut aff, or taken Priget back again fer limited empty this rith being cut off, of taken Pri-biners; which lith report, that t eir Migazine of deferve which they had b confided in, we at all open'd, and it was no fu b great Store these being particular y-but a final quantity in it of Bif Montgarz is now lurrounded with 5 Forts, and yet Teck - ex-periaded 300 Hoffars to attempt the R.lief of it, by curry each of them a Sack of Meal behind him on his Horfe : They pai-fed a good way undiffered bleit bleit on the for the one of our fed a good way undifeover'd... but at laft being feen by one of our Parties as they croffed a little Plain to get from one Wood to an-other, when they were not far from the Tiwn they Rid up to them, but the Hoffars immediately d feharging them? I wes of their Butthen, made themfelves as 1 ght as they could for an Eleape, fome dividing one way, and fome another ; those that made toward the Town were chiefly purfued by the Imperialitis, w' o followed them till they were exposed to short from the walk; and the few that are got in arc ot like to be of much use to them, fince it is sertain they want Provisions more than Men. We are told that the Chriff an Garifons of St. Joh and Fired, had made a Party to furging the four of st. of St job and Btred, had made a Party to furprize the Town of Sclaft at the time of a publick Fair, which was executed by  $6\infty$ Hullars; they were foon Matters of the place, killing forme few that made Refutance at first; they brought away as much Booty as they could charge them. Lives with, befides 56 of the molt fub-hered to be been set of the place. as they could charge them. Lives with, befides 36 of the molf lub-flantial Inhabitants who were molf able to pay for their Liberty, for which they are already offer 3 about 2000 Livres. We hear from the fide of Alba Regaly, that a Letter had been intercepted written from the Buffa commanding there, to the Grand Viller, to give him an account of the prefeat flare of that place, which was, That he neither wanted Men nor Viduals, but his Men began to wait Cloaths, and he Money to fupply them; which they now took upon them with fome Importunity to demand, as all other Pay. and the only to fupper they mould be much longer. Pay, and he, ould not answer whether they would be much longer contented with ut bath.

Vienna, Sept. 18., Here arrived this Week a Courier from the Duke of Lorrain with Letters of the 7th Initant, by which we understand, that the Army continued about Erdendi, opposite to the Month of the Drave, till the end of the last Month : And it having been well confider'd how unfeafonable and violent the Weather was, which was alone fufficient to worft an Army, as was-but too visible in the ill Effects it had both upon Men and Horfer: And that befides the Vifier was much flionger than it was thought he could have been, who had with him at Peter Waradin about 20000 Spani's, and 4000 Janifaries, therefore, upon the whole, it was judg'd more adviteable, to carry off clear that Advantage and Reputation that had been already got, than to leffen, or fully it, by expoling the Army to a fecond Affront in Sclavor and return to Baya, where the Duke of Lorrain was on the 7th Inftant, intending to march the next day to sege-dan, which would take them up fix days to get thither, and then they would have needenough of fome Repole, having contefted with many difficulties of ill weather, bad ways, and a defert Country without wood, befades a conftant alarm in the Rear, there having been 2000 Turkifh Horfe fent to attend the Alary all along their march, who very much increased their fatigue, and have fomething leffened their number; and fo returned again over their Bridge at Peter Waradin. We know nothing of General Duneurald more their that he is paffed the Drabe; there is a Courier lately fent him from hence with Orders (as is supposed) to retire, and put his Troops into Quarters.
