

NOTICE.

At a meeting of the Justices of the Peace of the county of Kincardine, held at Stonehaven, on the 30th day of November, 1865, whereof Sir John Hepburn Stuart Forbes, Baronet, Convener of the County, was chairman, it was resolved, with reference to the Order in Council, dated the 23rd day of November, 1865, and the Justices hereby resolve and give notice:—

1. That for the period of two months from the 2nd day of December, 1865, no cow, heifer, bull, bullock, ox, or calf, shall be brought from any other part of Great Britain into any place within the said county of Kincardine.

2. That for the same period, no sheep, lamb, goat, or swine, shall be brought from any other part of Great Britain into any place within the said county without a certificate from the inspector or a Justice of the Peace of the district from which they are brought that said animals are free from Cattle Plague, and have not been in contact with animals suffering from it.

3. That for the like period, no cow, heifer, bull, bullock, ox, calf, sheep, lamb, goat, or swine, shall be brought to any market or fair, or to any place within the said county, for the purpose of exhibition or sale.

And the Justices of the Peace farther give notice that the inspectors have power within their respective districts to cause to be disinfected, and if necessary, destroyed, any fodder, manure, or refuse matter, which they may deem likely to propagate the said disorder.

And notice is hereby given that by the said Order in Council, any person offending against this notice shall, for every such offence, forfeit a sum not exceeding £20.

By order of the Justices,

John H. S. Forbes, Chairman,

A. Gordon Brown, Clerk of the Peace.

Stonehaven, November 30th, 1865.

CATTLE PLAGUE.

Richmond Borough, County of York.

NOTICE is hereby given, that under and by virtue of the power and authority reposed in me as Mayor of the borough of Richmond, in the county of York, by an Order of the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, bearing date the 23rd day of November, 1865, and with a view of preventing the spread of a contagious and infectious disorder now prevailing among cattle in Great Britain, generally described the "Cattle Plague," I do declare that for a period of two calendar months from the date hereof, no cows, heifers, bulls, bullocks, oxen, and calves, shall be exhibited or offered for sale in any fair or market within the said borough of Richmond, but that the same shall be absolutely excluded therefrom.

And I do further declare and give notice, that during the like period no such animals as are hereinafore designated shall be brought from any other part of Great Britain, into or within the said borough of Richmond, without the licence and consent of the inspectors appointed under the said Order, save and except such as may be brought for the purpose of being slaughtered for the food of man, or otherwise provided by the 18th clause of the said Order of 23rd November, 1865.

And I further give notice, that I have appointed Mr. John Stoddard and Mr. John Ward Hedley, both of the said borough, veterinary surgeons, inspectors of cattle, to carry out the rules and regulations of the said Order of the 23rd November, 1865.

Given under my hand this 30th day of November, 1865.

Leonard Cooke, Mayor.

CATTLE PLAGUE.

Brackley Division.

WE, the undersigned Justices of the Peace, acting in and for the Petty Sessional Division of Brackley, in the county of Northampton, under and by virtue of, and in exercise of the powers given to us by an Order of the Lords of Her Majesty's Privy Council, dated the 23rd day of November, 1865, do hereby declare:

First, that it is expedient from this time, until the 1st day of March, 1866, absolutely to prevent the removal of any cow, heifer, bull, bullock, ox, or calf, to any market or fair, or to any parish or place whatsoever within our jurisdiction, for the purpose of exhibition or sale.

Secondly, that it is expedient from this time, until the 1st day of March, 1866, that no cow, heifer, bull, bullock, ox, or calf, be brought from any place in Great Britain, beyond our jurisdiction, into any place within our jurisdiction, that is to say, into any of the parishes or places following, viz.:
