At the Council Chamber, Whitehall, the 16th day of December, 1865.

By the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

PRESENT:

- Lord President.
- Duke of Somerset.
- Sir George Grey, Bart.
- Mr. Milner Gibson.

WHEREAS by an Act passed in the session of the eleventh and twelfth years of Her present Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to prevent until the 1st day of September, 1850, and to the end of the then next session of Parliament, the spreading of contagious or infectious disorders among sheep, cattle, and other animals," which Act has since been from time to time continued by divers subsequent Acts, and lastly by an Act passed in the session of the twenty-eighth and twenty-ninth years of Her present Majesty, it is (amongst other things) enacted that it shall be lawful for the Lords and others of Her Majesty's Privy Council, or any two or more of them, from time to time to make such orders and regulations as to them may seem necessary for the purpose of prohibiting or regulating the removal to or from such parts or places as they may designate in such Order or Orders, of sheep, cattle, horses, swine, or other animals, or of meat, skins, hides, horns, hoofs, or other parts of any animals, and to make any other orders or regulations for the purpose of giving effect to the provisions of the said Act, and again to revoke, alter, or vary any such orders or regulations; and that all provisions for any of the purposes aforesaid in any such Order or Orders contained, shall have the like force and effect as if the same had been inserted in the said Act; and that all persons offending against the same shall for each and every offence forfeit and pay any sum not exceeding twenty pounds, or such smaller sum as the said Lords or others of Her Majesty's Privy Council may in any case by such Order direct:

And whereas a contagious or infectious disorder now prevails among cattle within that part of the United Kingdom called Great Britain, which disorder is generally designated as the "cattle-lague:"

And whereas with a view to check the spreading of the said disorder, an Order dated the 23rd of November, 1865, has been made under the authority of the said Acts by the Lords of Her Majesty's Privy Council, consolidating and amending certain Orders previously made for that purpose:

And whereas it is expedient to alter and amend the said Order of the 23rd of November, 1865:

Now, therefore, the Lords of Her Majesty's Privy Council do hereby, in exercise of the powers given by the said Act, so continued as aforesaid, order as follows:—

1. So much of the said Order, dated the 23rd of November, 1865, as defines the local authority in Great Britain, is hereby revoked.
2. Subject to the powers reserved by the Order of the 23rd of November to the Clerk of Her Majesty's Privy Council, the local authority within the city of London, and the liberties thereof, shall be the Lord Mayor; in every borough in England or Wales which is within the provisions of the Municipal Corporation Act, the Mayor; in every county, riding, or division of a county, or liberty, having a separate Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in England or Wales, the Justices of the Peace for the said county, riding, or division of a county, or liberty, in General or Quarter Sessions assembled: Provided that no county of a city, or county of a town, or borough, which is within the provisions of the Municipal Corporations Act, shall be deemed for the purposes of this Order part of a county, riding, division, or liberty. The local authority in every burgh or town in Scotland having a Town Council shall be the Provost or other principal magistrate; and in any other place in Scotland, the Justices of the county in sessions assembled.
3. All appointments made, notices given, and other acts done by any local authority under and by virtue of the said Order of the 23rd of November, 1865, or the Orders thereby revoked, shall be valid and effectual until altered, varied, or revoked by the local authority hereby constituted, and such local authority shall have and exercise all the powers given by the said Order of the 23rd of November, 1865, to the local authority therein described.
4. Whenever any local authority declares, by notice published in any newspaper circulating within its jurisdiction, that it is expedient for a time to be specified in such notice, that no cow, heifer, bull, bullock, ox, or calf shall, except under such conditions as such local authority shall think fit to impose with a view to prevent the spreading of the said disorder, be removed from any particular part of the jurisdiction of such local authority to any other part of such jurisdiction, or from any place or places within such jurisdiction, to be specified in such notice, to any other such place or places also to be so specified, or from place to place generally within such jurisdiction, or within any specified part thereof; then it shall not be lawful for any person to remove any such animal in contravention of such notice: provided always, that nothing contained in this clause of this Order shall make it unlawful for any person to send or carry any such animal by railway through or out of such jurisdiction, or to send or carry any such animal if brought by sea from any place out of Great Britain into such jurisdiction, to the nearest convenient railway station, for the purpose of carrying it through or out of such jurisdiction.

5. Any local authority may from time to time renew, revoke, alter, or vary, all or any part of any notice published or to be published by him or them, or any previous local authority within his or their jurisdiction, under the powers given under this or any former Orders, either absolutely or under such conditions as to such local authority may seem proper, by a further notice to be published in the same manner as such notice is required to be published.

6. The notice required by Section 8 of the Order of the 23rd of November, 1865, to be given in England to the Clerk of the Justices acting in and for a petty sessional division of a county, shall hereafter be given to the Clerk of the Peace of such county.

7. This Order shall be in force from the 3rd day of January next until the 1st day of March next, and no longer, unless continued by some further Order.

8. Every person offending against this Order shall, in pursuance of the said Act, for every such offence forfeit any sum not exceeding twenty pounds which the Justices before whom he or she shall be convicted of such offence may think fit to impose.

THE Minister of Public Works in France has given notice, that on and after the 25th day of December, 1865, lights will be exhibited from a light vessel recently placed near the south-west extremity of the Plateau des Minquiers, about midway between St. Malo and the Island of Jersey.

The lights will be two fixed white lights; one on the mainmast 39 feet, the other on the mizen mast 26 feet above the level of the sea. The lights under favourable circumstances will be seen at a distance of 10 miles, but the strength of the tide may sometimes prevent them from being hoisted to the heights stated; they will, however, in clear weather always be visible at a distance of 8 miles.

The vessel is painted black, with a skeleton ball of the same colour at each masthead, and lies in lat. 48° 53' 38" N., long. 2° 17' 29" West of Greenwich. A bell will be sounded during fogs.

By command of their Lordships,
Geo. Henry Richards, Hydrographer.
