

thirty days previously to such first-mentioned animal being placed in or on the same.

5th. It is further ordered, that in order to allow for the breeding of stock, a cow or heifer, if sound, as defined in the last previous order, may be moved with a breeding license on any public highway, for any distance not exceeding three miles to and from any place where a bull is kept; that such license be granted by a member of the Committee appointed for the District, pursuant to "The Cattle Diseases Prevention Act, 1866," which has authority over the place from which the said cow or heifer is to be sent, and that such license be in force for a period not exceeding three days from the date thereof.

6th. It is further ordered, that on and after the 1st day of March next to the 15th day of April next, the order and notice of this Court, of the 9th day of January last, which forbids any cow, heifer, bull, bullock, ox or calf, from being on, or passing along, or across any highway, or public road, shall not be deemed to prohibit the occupier of any field or enclosed land from allowing any cow, heifer, bull, bullock, ox or calf, depasturing in such field or enclosed land, and in the possession of such occupier, from being on, or passing along, or across, any footpath or bridleway in such field or enclosed land.

7th. It is further ordered, that any of the aforesaid orders numbered 4, 5, and 6, respectively, embodying relaxations of the order of this Court of the 9th of January last, is to cease to have any effect in any parish or place, on publication in some newspaper circulating in or near such parish or place, of a notice of the Committee of the District having jurisdiction over such parish or place, that it has deemed it expedient that such order ought to cease to be in force, in consequence of any outbreak, or threatened outbreak of the cattle plague within its jurisdiction.

8th. It is ordered, that on and from the 1st day of March next to the 15th day of April next, no dung, offal, horns, bones, raw or untanned hides or skins of any sheep, cow, heifer, bull, bullock, ox, calf, horse, swine, or of any other animal (except as by the Orders in Council excepted), shall be unloaded within the county from any barge, boat or other vessel, or from any railway truck, or cart, waggon, or other vehicle, or be sent or brought into the said county in any way from the metropolis, as defined in "The Cattle Diseases Prevention Act, 1866," or from any other place in which the cattle plague is existing, or has existed within six months previously.

9th. It is ordered that notice of the aforesaid Orders of Court be published in the several newspapers circulating within the jurisdiction of the said Court in which the county advertisements are usually inserted, and in the newspapers in which the previous orders of this Court relative to the cattle plague have been inserted.

By the Court,

F. Russell, Clerk of the Peace for Kent.

CATTLE PLAGUE.

Durham to wit.

At the General Quarter Sessions of the Peace of our Lady the Queen, holden at Durham, in and for the county of Durham, by adjournment, on Saturday, the 3rd day of March, in the twenty-ninth year of the reign of our Sovereign Lady, Victoria, by the grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith, and in the year of our Lord 1866, before Rowland Burdon (Chairman), John Fawcett, William Scurfield Grey, Esquires, and others their fellows, Justices of our said Lady the Queen, assigned to keep the Peace of our said Lady the Queen, in the said county, and also to hear and determine divers felonies, trespasses, and other misdemeanors done and committed in the said county.

First.—Pursuant to, and in exercise of, the powers and authorities in this behalf conferred upon and vested in them, the said Justices, in General or Quarter Sessions assembled, in and by "The Cattle Diseases Prevention Act, 1866," whereby they are constituted the local authority for the county of Durham, they, the said Justices, do resolve and order, that henceforth, until the 25th day of March next, no bull, cow, ox, or heifer be brought from any other part of Great Britain into any part of the county of Durham over which this Court has jurisdiction, except by sea.

Second.—That, until the 15th day of April next, no bull, cow, ox, or heifer be removed from any place within the jurisdiction aforesaid to any other place within the same jurisdiction; but any person may, with the previously written consent of two Justices, remove any such animals as aforesaid from one part of a farm to another adjoining part of the said farm, within the jurisdiction aforesaid, although, in order to effect such removal, it may be necessary to drive or convey such animals over a public highway for a distance not exceeding 200 yards; or any person may remove any such animals as aforesaid from one farm to another farm bonâ fide in his or her own occupation, however distant from each other such farms may be (the term "occupation" being considered as including the estate of grass or turnips by sheep on a detached farm or pasturage taken), or may, with the similar consent of one Justice, drive or take a cow to or from a bull on another farm within such jurisdiction, and may take or remove sheep or calves in a cart: provided such consent in all the above cases be granted only on proof to the satisfaction of such Justices or Justice, that cattle plague does not exist at or in the neighbourhood of the place from whence such removal is proposed to be made, or along the route on which it is proposed to drive, take, remove, or convey the said animals.

Third.—Provided also, that any person may bring a bull from without the jurisdiction aforesaid into the same jurisdiction, or from one part of such jurisdiction into another part of the same jurisdiction, if a certificate be previously obtained of the perfect health of such bull from two of Her Majesty's Justices of the Peace, and an Inspector acting for the place or district from which such bull shall be brought, and with the consent of two of Her Majesty's Justices of the Peace, and an Inspector acting within the jurisdiction into which such bull is to be brought.

Fourth.—Where a farm is situate partly in the county of Durham and partly in another adjoining county, animals may be removed from such part of the farm as is without the county of Durham to the adjoining part of the farm within the said county.

Fifth.—That it shall not be lawful, without the previously written consent of two such Justices as aforesaid, to bring into any place within the said jurisdiction, or to remove from place to place within such jurisdiction, any raw or untanned hides, skins, horns, or hoofs of any animal, except such as are directly imported into the United Kingdom from India, Australia, South Africa, or America; or the offal or dung of any animal, or
