

the outer municipal boundaries of the said two boroughs, and it was expedient that certain other regulations should be made in this behalf :

The Lords of the Council therefore did thereby order, that notwithstanding such provision in the said licence, cattle other than such as may be brought by sea from any place out of the United Kingdom into the port of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, sold in the said market might, until the 30th day of September next, if the said licence should continue so long in force, be moved to any slaughter-house in the borough of Sunderland, in the said county of Durham, but not further, to be there immediately slaughtered under such regulations as the Local Authority for the county of Durham should, from time to time, make and issue in regard to the movement as well as the times, places, and manner of slaughtering of such cattle, and certain other provisions were made, and among others that every person who should contravene that Order, or any regulation of the Local Authority made under it, should be guilty of an offence, and be subject to the like penalty as in the case of a contravention of any regulation in the said Order of the 24th of March last :

And whereas the said Order of the 19th of June last has been continued by the Lords of the Council, by an Order dated the 28th day of September, until the 31st day of December next, and the said licence still continues in force for the said market, and it is expedient to extend the provisions of the said Order of the 19th of June last, continued by the Order of the 28th day of September as aforesaid, in the manner hereafter set forth :

Now, therefore, the Lords of Her Majesty's Council do hereby order, that notwithstanding the said provision in the said Order of the 24th of March and the said licence respectively, cattle other than such as may be brought by sea from any place out of the United Kingdom into the port of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, sold in the said market, may, so long as the said licence shall continue in force, be moved to any slaughter-house in the borough of South Shields, or in the town of Jarrow, in the county of Durham, or in the borough of Tynemouth, or in the town of North Shields, in the county of Northumberland, but not further, to be then immediately slaughtered, under such regulations as the Local Authorities for the respective counties of Durham and Northumberland shall from time to time make and issue, as in the above-recited Order of the 19th of June last.

Provided that such cattle shall be moved by railway only from the borough of Newcastle-upon-Tyne to North or South Shields, or Tynemouth, or to Jarrow, as the case may be ; and provided that nothing herein contained shall allow the cattle to be kept alive for more than four days after exposure in the said market.

Every regulation made by the said Local Authority shall be published in some newspaper circulating in the said borough of Newcastle-upon-Tyne and also in the said other boroughs and town to which it applies respectively ; and the provision of the said Order of the 19th of June last, relating to the penalty for the contravention thereof, shall apply to this Order ; and the said Order and this Order shall be construed as the Order of 24th of March last, except where there would be any inconsistency in such construction.

Arthur Helps.

At the Council Chamber, Whitehall, the 4th day of October, 1866.

By the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

PRESENT,

Mr. Secretary Walpole.

Mr. Corry.

WHEREAS by divers Orders of Her Majesty's Privy Council, duly issued under the authority of the Act, passed in the Session of the eleventh and twelfth years of Her present Majesty's reign, chapter one hundred and seven, intituled "An Act to prevent until the first day of September, one thousand eight hundred and fifty, and to the end of the then session of Parliament, the spreading of contagious or infectious disorders among sheep, cattle, and other animals," and from time to time continued, by divers subsequent Acts, and lastly by an Act of the last session of Parliament, which Orders recited that a contagious or infectious disorder, generally designated as the "Cattle Plague," prevailed amongst cattle in England and Wales; the Lords of the Council have made various regulations for preventing the spread of the Cattle Plague, and among other matters have provided for the movement of cattle upon highways in England and Wales, and for the importation of cattle into England and Wales from Ireland ;

And whereas it is expedient that fresh regulations should be made in respect of cattle imported from Ireland and afterwards moved in England and Wales, and also in respect of cattle moved from Scotland into England and Wales :

Now, therefore, the Lords of Her Majesty's Privy Council do hereby order as follows :—

1. From and after the date of this Order, cattle may be imported from Ireland and landed at any port or place in England and Wales, except in South Wales and Monmouth, and be moved to the place of their ultimate destination in England or Wales, subject to the following provisions, anything in any Order heretofore issued by the Privy Council to the contrary notwithstanding.

2. Previous to such cattle leaving Ireland the owner may obtain a licence for the moving of such cattle in the following form, and cattle imported from Ireland may be moved in England or Wales with such a license:—

IRISH CATTLE.

No.

FORM OF LICENCE.

I, _____, being appointed by the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland for such purpose, do hereby license the person named below to move the cattle described in the annexed Certificate from the port of _____, in Ireland, to _____, in England or Wales, being the place of their ultimate destination, by the route described below, so that the said cattle shall not be driven