FRIDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1866.

AT the Council Chamber, Whitehall, the 5th day of December, 1866.

By the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

PRESENT,

Lord President.

Sir Stafford Northcote, Bart.

WHEREAS by an Order, bearing date the 3rd day of this present December, reciting certain provisions of the Act passed in the session of the eleventh and twelfth years of Her present Majesty's reign, chapter one hundred and seven, intituled "An Act to prevent until the first day of September, one thousand eight hundred and fifty, and to the end of the then session of Parliament, the spreading of contagious or infectious disorders among sheep, cattle, and other animals."

And that a contagious or infectious disorder, generally designated as the "Cattle Plague," had lately appeared, and then prevailed amongst cattle in England and Wales :

And that divers Orders had been made by the Lords of the said Council in relation to the cattle plague, which were consolidated and amended by an Order bearing date the 24th day of March last, which Order had been altered and extended by subsequent Orders :

And that it was ordered thereby that no cattle should be moved on any highway between sunset and sunrise except within certain limits therein specified, being the limits of the Metropolis, inclusive of the city of London, and the liberties thereof, and of any other city or town, and that it was expedient to alter the said Order in the manner therein set forth. The Lords of Her Majesty's Privy Council did alter the same, and ordered that no cattle should during this present month of December, and the ensuing months of January, February, and March be moved on any highway between the hours of six o'clock in the evening and six o'clock in the morning, except within the limits specified in the said Order of the 24th March, being those above specified :

And that the forms of licences and passes issued under any Order of the said Council, which contain any reference to the said prohibition in the Order of the 24th day of March last, should be altered in accordance with that Order :

And whereas forms of licences have been and may be issued through inadvertence without such alteration as aforesaid being effected therein, and it is advisable to make provision to meet such cases :

Now, therefore, the Lords of the Council do hereby order that all forms of licences and passes, whether granted before or subsequent to the issue of the said Order of the 3rd instant, which shall contain the words sunset and sunrise shall be interpreted as thereby signifying the period between six o'clock in the evening and six o'clock in the morning, during the above-mentioned months of December, January, February, and March, and shall not be deemed to be invalid by reason of the same not being altered in accordance with the said Order of the 3rd instant.

This Order shall be deemed to be part of the said Order of the 3rd instant, and shall be construed in like manner as the Order of the 24th of March last ; and the provisions of the said Order relative to the offences in contravention thereof, and the penalties for the same, and otherwise now in force, except so far as they may be inconsistent with anything herein contained, shall be applied to this Order.

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of Postage," power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, from time to time, by Warrant under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof, and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant, and from time to time, by Warrant as aforesaid, to alter or repeal any such altered rates, and make and establish any new or other rates in lieu thereof, and from time to time, by Warrant as aforesaid, to appoint at what time the rates which may be payable are to be paid; and it is provided that the power thereby given should extend to any increase, or reduction, or remission of postage.

And whereas further powers are given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury by another Act of Parliament passed in the eleventh year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post Office."

And whereas certain powers are also given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury by another Act of Parliament passed in the eighteenth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend the laws relating to the stamp duties on newspapers, and to provide for the transmission by post of printed periodical publications."

And whereas it is expedient to reduce the rates of postage now payable upon certain letters and newspapers transmitted by the post between foreign ports in the West Indies, and from and to such foreign ports and certain ports in North and South America, to the extent and in the manner herein-after mentioned.

Now we, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the powers reserved to us in and by the said hereinbefore recited Acts, and every of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do by this Warrant, under the hands of two of us, the said Commissioners (by the authority of the Statute in that case made and provided) order, direct and declare as follows:—

5. Nothing herein contained shall be construed in anywise to annul, prejudice, or affect any of the exemptions and privileges granted by or under the said hereinbefore recited Acts; or either of them, or by or under any other Acts of Parliament, relating to the Post Office, or any of the privileges which officers, seamen, and soldiers employed in Her Majesty's service are by law entitled to, of sending and receiving letters by the post, subject to the regulations and restrictions in respect of the same.

10. For the purposes of this Warrant every printed newspaper transmitted by the post under the provisions of this Warrant shall be deemed and considered a packet, and shall be charged and chargeable with a separate and distinct single rate of postage, or separate and distinct progressive and additional rates of postage according to the weight thereof as hereinbefore mentioned, notwithstanding two or more newspapers shall be enclosed and transmitted in one and the same cover, wrapper, envelope, or bundle, and form only one parcel or bundle of newspapers, and every printed supplement or additional sheet to any newspaper shall, for the purpose of charging the postage under this Warrant, be deemed a distinct newspaper unless sent in the same cover or together with the newspaper to which it is a supplement or addition.

There shall be no paper or thing enclosed in or with any newspaper.

12. The postage of every letter and packet transmitted by the post under the authority of this Warrant shall be paid at the time of the same being posted.

14. The several rates of postage chargeable on letters and printed newspapers transmitted by the post, under the provisions of this Warrant, shall be in lieu of any rates of postage now chargeable by law thereon.

15. The term "weight," used in this Warrant, shall mean British weight; and the several other terms and expressions used in this Warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects as they would have had if inserted in the said Act passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty.

WHEREAS the Local Government Act, 1858, was duly adopted on the 10th day of September, 1866, by so much of the parish of Kingston-upon-Thames, in the county of Surrey, as is not comprised within the limits of the borough of Kingston-upon-Thames, nor within the limits and jurisdiction of the Surbiton Improvement Commissioners, such part of the said parish to be styled New Malden; and whereas notice of such adoption has been duly given, in writing, to me, as one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, as required by such Act; and whereas it has also been duly certified to me that a copy of such notice has been duly advertised, and that copies have also been affixed to the principal doors of the churches and chapels in such district to which notices are usually affixed, and a petition has been presented, praying for the separation of a part of such district, and evidence was adduced in support thereof, at the inquiry held by Mr. Morgan, the Inspector appointed by me for the purpose; and whereas such district is a place with a population of less than 3000 by the last census, but it has appeared to me that, by reason of the special circumstances of the case, it is expedient that the said district should be allowed to adopt the said

Act; I do hereby approve of such adoption, within those portions of the said district of New Malden comprised within the boundaries herein-after described, and shown upon the map accompanying Mr. Morgan's report to me, such boundaries commencing at A, on Combe-bridge over the Beverley stream, the boundary between the parishes of Kingston-upon-Thames and Wimbledon; thence, in a southerly and westerly direction, along the north side of the stream, to B, at Trap's-lane; thence crossing the said lane, and along the north and west sides of the field numbered 91 (as shown on the plan accompanying the said report); thence along the south side of fields numbered 92, 93, 94, 95, 99, and 98; thence along the west side of field numbered 98, to the south-east corner of field numbered 73; thence along the south side of fields numbered 73, 567, and 424, to C; on the boundary of the borough of Kingston-upon-Thames; thence, in a south-westerly direction, along the said boundary, to D, where it joins the boundary of the Surbiton Improvement Commissioners; thence, along the said boundary of the said Commissioners, to E, where the Hog's Mill River crosses under the railway; thence, along the west side of the said river, and including the same, to F, on the boundary line between the parishes of Kingston-upon-Thames and Malden; thence, in a north-easterly direction, along the said boundary, to G, at the point where the parishes of Malden and Merton meet, thence along the boundary line between the parishes of Kingston-upon-Thames and Merton, and along the boundary line between the parishes of Kingston-upon-Thames and Wimbledon, to the starting-point at A; so completing the boundary of the district.

And I do further order that, in accordance with the provisions thereof, the said Act shall, from and after the 10th day of December, 1866, have the force of law within such district, as hereinbefore described.

Given under my hand this 3rd day of December, 1866.
