

bearing date this eighth day of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, order and direct that the provisions contained in "The Diseases Prevention Act, 1855," and the Act passed in the 23rd and 24th years of Her Majesty's reign, cap. 77, for the prevention of diseases, should, from and after the date of that Order, be and be continued in force within the whole and every part of England, and all parts and arms of the sea lying within the jurisdiction of the Admiralty, within three miles of the coasts of England, for the period of six calendar months from the date thereof; and that the said Orders of the fourteenth day of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, and the twenty-fifth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, should be renewed accordingly for such period as therein aforesaid.

And whereas it seems to the Lords of the Council expedient, that the provisions made and contained in the secondly hereinbefore-recited Order of the tenth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, should also be maintained and kept in force, and that (so far as is required by any of the said Acts) the said Order should be renewed for the space of six calendar months from the date hereof.

Now, therefore, the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, by virtue of the powers in this behalf by the recited enactments or otherwise in them vested, do order, and it is hereby ordered, that the said Order of the tenth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, so far as it is requisite or necessary to renew the same, shall be renewed for the period of six calendar months from the date hereof, and that—

The term "ship" includes vessel or boat:

The term "master" includes the officer or person for the time being in charge or command of a ship.

The term "cholera" includes choleraic diarrhoea:

The term "Nuisance Authority" has the same meaning as in "The Sanitary Act, 1866:"

2. 3. If at any time a Nuisance Authority is informed that cholera exists, or within three days previously has existed, in a ship within its district, such authority shall cause the ship to be forthwith visited, inspected, and otherwise dealt with (according to the circumstances of the case), in like manner as nearly as may be as if the ship were a house within the district of such authority, and shall give all such medical and other directions with reference to the persons therein, as seem to such authority requisite or proper for preventing the spread of the disease therefrom, and for disinfection or disposal of any thing infected, or that has been exposed to infection therein or therefrom.

WHEREAS by an Order bearing date the tenth day of May last, reciting certain provisions of the Act passed in the session of the eleventh and twelfth years of Her present Majesty's reign, chapter one hundred and seven, intitled "An Act to prevent until the first day of September, one thousand eight hundred and fifty, and to the end of the then next session of Parliament, the spreading of contagious or infectious disorders amongst sheep, cattle, and other animals," duly continued by subsequent Acts, and that the same had been amended and explained by an Act of the last session of Parliament, and the appearance and prevalence of the Cattle Plague amongst cattle in some parts of England, and that divers Orders had been made by the Lords of the Council which had been consolidated and amended by an Order, bearing date the twenty-fourth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, and further reciting certain provisions in the said Order, and particularly one prohibiting until the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, the holding of markets for the sale of cattle without a licence, which term had been extended by an Order of the said Council until the said Lords should otherwise direct, and that a market was held in a place known as the Smithfield Market, in the borough of Sheffield, in the West Riding of the county of York, which had been licensed by the Lords of the said Council under the said Order for the sale of cattle for immediate slaughter, and further reciting that in the said licence it was provided that no cattle should be taken alive beyond the limits of the municipal boundaries of the said borough, the said Lords did make certain provisions and regulations with regard to the movement of cattle sold in the said market to slaughter-houses situate within certain places as therein fully set forth, and among others the hamlet of Masbrough:

And whereas it is deemed expedient that the movement of cattle from the said market to the hamlet of Masbrough should be no longer permitted:

Now, therefore, the Lords of the said Council do hereby order, that from and after the fifteenth day of this present July, so much of the said recited Order of the tenth day of May last, as permits and regulates the movement of cattle sold in the said market to any slaughter-house in the hamlet of Masbrough shall be determined and be no longer in force, except in respect of any matter or thing commenced under the authority of the said Order and not completed, and in respect of any offence committed against such Order and not yet punished.
