

first avoidance of the rectory of Bishop Wearmouth, the glebe lands, tithes, tithe rent-charges, mines, minerals, messuages, tenements, and hereditaments of or belonging to the rectory (including the Rector's Park, and the manor known as the Bishop Wearmouth Rectory Manor, and including the said rents, profits, and proceeds of wayleaves, staiths, and coal, so far as such rents and hereditaments, and every part thereof, and interest therein, were not already vested in the said Commissioners, but excepting the parsonage house and the grounds then occupied therewith, which said parsonage house and grounds were particularly described in the schedule thereto and excepting the parish church of Bishop Wearmouth with its appurtenances) together with all monies and securities for money, and all stock in the Government funds, or elsewhere, standing in the name of the Accountant-General, or in any other name or names, for or to the credit or for the benefit of or in trust for the rector of Bishop Wearmouth and his successors, whether for the purpose of being laid out in land or otherwise, should vest in the Ecclesiastical Commissioners, their successors and assigns for the purposes, and subject to the provisions in the said Act mentioned. And it was enacted (Section 7) that in case the then present rector of Bishop Wearmouth, at any time before his avoidance of the said rectory should signify his willingness to accept a fixed annual sum of two thousand pounds in lieu of his income from the glebe lands and premises aforesaid, it should be lawful for the Ecclesiastical Commissioners to agree with the said rector for the payment to him of such fixed annual sum, and thereupon an instrument (in writing) containing the terms of the said agreement, and under the hand of the said rector, and the common seal of the said Commissioners should be registered in the Registry of the diocese and published in the London Gazette, and from and after the date of such publication the said agreement should be binding, and the glebe lands and premises aforesaid should, without any further conveyance, be vested in the said Commissioners for the purposes, and subject as therein mentioned; and it was further enacted (Section 18) that the annual sums, payable under the provisions of that Act to the rector of Bishop Wearmouth and the incumbents or ministers of the district churches or chapels therein mentioned, should respectively be payable in moieties on the first day of May and the first day of November in every year; and on every vacancy, the then current half-yearly payment should be paid to the successor in full, who should be bound to account to the predecessor or his representatives for a proportionate part corresponding to the portion of the half year before the vacancy took place. And whereas the said rector has signified to the said Ecclesiastical Commissioners his willingness to accept a fixed annual sum of two thousand pounds in lieu of his income from the glebe lands and premises mentioned or referred to in the said recited Act. Now these presents witness, that in pursuance of the power conferred on them by the seventh section of the same Act, the said Ecclesiastical Commissioners do hereby agree with the said rector that they, the said Ecclesiastical Commissioners, will pay to him during his incumbency in the said rectory the fixed annual sum of two thousand pounds, by equal half-yearly payments, on the first day of May and the first day of November in each year, the said annual sum to be payable as from the date of the publication of this agreement in the London Gazette, and a proportionate part thereof to be paid for the period which shall elapse between such date of publication, and the day of payment next ensuing thereafter; and the said rector doth hereby, on his part, agree with the said Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England to accept the said annual sum of two thousand pounds payable as aforesaid, to the intent that the said glebe lands and premises (except as aforesaid) may, as from the date of the publication of this agreement in the London Gazette, be absolutely vested in the said Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England by virtue of, and in accordance with, the provision in this behalf contained in the eighth section of the said Act. It being expressly agreed by the said Ecclesiastical Commissioners, that the said Rector shall be entitled to a proportion of all the revenues arising from the said rectory to the day of the publication of this agreement in the London Gazette.

In witness whereof the said Ecclesiastical Commissioners have hereunto affixed their Common Seal, and the said William Cockin has hereunto set his hand the day and year first above written.
