BRADFORD,
Lord Chamberlain.

Whitehall, May 7, 1868.

THE following Addresses of congratulation to the Queen, in reference to the atrocious attempt upon the life of His Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Gathorne Hardy, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:—

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the borough of Devonport, humbly request permission to express to your Majesty the deep grief and indignation with which we (in common with the nation at large) have heard of the murderous attack which has been made upon His Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh, our cordial sympathy with your sorrow, and our sincere congratulation that your Majesty's anxiety has been partially relieved by more recent intelligence.

Our conviction that the offender must have been actuated by insanity, or by the blindest political fanaticism, in no degree lessens our humble and heartfelt thanks to God for having so mercifully protected the life of His Royal Highness; who will, we trust, ere long, return in renewed health; and we pray that he, and each Member of your Majesty's Family, may long prove a source of happiness to yourself and of blessing to this nation, by emulating the example of that noble life whose virtues have enhanced the loyalty and strengthened the affections of a devoted people.

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her Majesty, chapter ninety-six, for the regulation of the duties of postage, power is given to the Postmaster-General to remit any of the rates of British postage or inland postage for the time being payable by law on the transmission of post letters, newspapers, or other printed papers, to such extent as the Lords of the Treasury shall from time to time direct; and power is also given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury from time to time, by Warrant under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage or inland postage payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant, and from time to time, by Warrant as aforesaid, to alter or repeal any such altered rates, and make and establish any new or other rates in lieu thereof, and from time to time, by Warrant as aforesaid, to appoint at what time the rates which may be payable are to be paid; and it is provided that the power thereby given to alter and fix rates of postage should extend to any increase or reduction or remission of postage.

And whereas further powers are given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, by another Act of Parliament passed in the eleventh year of the reign of Her Majesty, chapter eighty-five, for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post Office.

And whereas it is expedient to reduce the rates of British postage now chargeable upon certain letters transmitted by the post, and to make certain regulations with regard thereto, in the manner hereinafter mentioned and set forth.

Now we, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the power or authority in us for such purpose vested in and by the said recited Acts, or either of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do, by this Warrant under the hands of two of us the said Commissioners (by the authority of the statute in that case made and provided), order and direct as follows:—

1. Every schoolmistress in Her Majesty's army, whether at home or abroad, whilst actually employed in Her Majesty's service, may both send and receive letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight by the post on her own private concerns, at a postage of one penny for each letter.

2. With respect to letters sent by any such Schoolmistress the following conditions shall be observed (that is to say):—

The postage of each letter (unless sent from parts beyond the seas as hereinafter mentioned) shall be paid, or the letter if posted within the United Kingdom shall be duly and properly stamped on being put into a Post Office established under the authority of the Postmaster-General, and upon such letter shall be superscribed the name of the writer and her class, or description in the regiment, corps, or detachment to which she shall belong; and upon every such letter there shall be written in the handwriting of and signed by the officer having at the time the command of the regiment, corps, or detachment to which the schoolmistress belongs, the name of such officer, and the name of such regiment, corps, or detachment.

3. With respect to letters received by the post by any such schoolmistress the following conditions shall be observed:—

The postage of each letter (unless sent from parts beyond the seas as hereinafter mentioned) shall be paid, or the letter if posted within the United Kingdom shall be duly and properly stamped upon putting it into a Post Office established under the authority of the Postmaster-General; and it shall be directed to such schoolmistress, specifying on the superscription thereof the regiment, corps, or detachment to which she shall belong; and the Deputy Postmaster of the place to which such letter shall be sent to be delivered, shall not deliver such letter to any person except the schoolmistress to whom it shall be directed, or to some person appointed to receive the same by writing under the hand of the officer in command.

4. Whenever the letters sent or received by any such schoolmistress shall be sent from parts beyond the seas, without the said postage of one penny being prepaid, every such letter shall be charged to the party receiving the same with a rate of two pence.

5. Any letters received by the post under this Warrant by any such schoolmistress which may have been redirected shall not be charged any postage on or in respect of such redirection.

6. Any such schoolmistress may both send and receive letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight by private ships between the United Kingdom and places beyond the seas and between any two of Her Majesty's Colonies whether through the United Kingdom or not, on her own private concerns, at the like postage for each letter and subject to the like conditions and regulations in all respects as are hereinbefore mentioned in respect of letters sent and received by any such schoolmistress by the post, but whenever the letters sent or received by any such schoolmistress shall be conveyed or be intended to be conveyed by private ships the gratuities payable by law to the masters of such vessels in respect of such letters shall in all cases be paid to the Post Office, in addition to such postage.

7. If in any case the conditions hereinbefore prescribed be not complied with the letter shall be charged with the same rates of postage as if this Warrant had not been signed.

8. All letters which shall be sent by the post under the regulations of this Warrant hereinbefore contained shall be subject in addition to the rates hereby fixed to the payment of any foreign postage which may be chargeable thereon except any foreign postage chargeable on or in respect of redirection on such letters received by any such schoolmistress when such letters shall have been redirected and again forwarded by the post and transmitted or sent through any foreign country.

9. The several terms and expressions hereinbefore used in this Warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects as they would have had if inserted in the said firstly hereinbefore recited Act.

10. And we do further order and direct, that wherever, in any Warrant of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury now in force, provision is made whereby commissioned officers in the army are entitled to send and receive letters on their own private concerns at a reduced rate of postage, such provision shall extend and apply to letters sent to or by superintending or first class schoolmasters in Her Majesty's army on their own private concerns, in such and the same manner in every respect as if such superintending or first class schoolmasters had been expressly named and included therein.

11. The Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury may, by Warrant under their hands, duly made at any time hereafter, alter, repeal, or revoke any of the rates hereby altered or any of the regulations hereby made, and may make and establish any new or other rates or regulations in lieu thereof, and from time to time may appoint at what time the rates that may be payable are to be paid.

12. This Warrant shall come into operation on the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight.

Whitehall, Treasury Chambers, the first day of May, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight.
