

and from the day of the date of the publication of such Order in the London Gazette as aforesaid, be assigned to, and be absolutely vested in the said Sir Walter Charles James, the Reverend Henry Byne Carr, the rector or incumbent of the rectory of the parish of Whickham, in the said county of Durham, and John Clayton of the town and county of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, Esquire, their heirs and assigns for ever, upon and for such trusts, intents, and purposes as the said Dame Sarah Caroline James, whether covert or sole, shall by deed or will appoint, and for default of, and subject to, and until such appointment, in trust for the said Dame Sarah Caroline James, her heirs and assigns for ever, to and for her own separate use and benefit, independently of any husband.

“And we further recommend and propose, that nothing herein contained shall prevent us from recommending and proposing any other measures relating to the matters aforesaid, or any of them, in accordance with the provisions of the said Acts, or of either of them, or of any other Act of Parliament.

The SCHEDULE to which the foregoing Scheme has reference.

“The district of Jarrow Grange, being:—

“All that part of the parish of Jarrow, in the county of Durham, and in the diocese of Durham, which is comprised within and is bounded by an imaginary line commencing upon the boundary dividing the county of Northumberland from the said county of Durham at a point in the middle of the River Tyne, opposite to the southern landing-stage of the steam-boat ferry between Willington Quay and West Quay, and extending thence southward and in a straight line to a point in the said landing-stage at or near to the middle of the north-eastern end of the footpath which leads past the eastern end of Palmer's Iron and Shipbuilding Works to the street called Dunkirk Place, and extending thence south-westward along the middle of the said footpath to its junction with Dunkirk Place aforesaid, and extending thence westward along the middle of the said street called Dunkirk Place, to its junction with the street called Drewett Place, and extending thence southward along the middle of the last-named street to its junction with Walter Street, and continuing thence southward along the middle of the last-named street to its junction with Grange Road, and extending thence westward along the middle of the said road to its junction with Ellison Road, and extending thence south-eastward along the middle of the last-named road to its junction with the road leading from Jarrow to Nether Heworth, and continuing thence still south-eastward across the last-mentioned road to a boundary stone inscribed ‘J. G. D., 1868, No. 1,’ and placed at a point in or near to the fence which forms the eastern boundary of the Jarrow Grange Estate, belonging to Dame Sarah Caroline James, wife of Sir Walter Charles James, Baronet, and extending thence first south-westward and then south-eastward along the said estate boundary to a point in the middle of the watercourse called Bede's Burn, and extending thence south-westward for a distance of about a quarter of a mile along the course of the said burn, continuing thereby along the said estate boundary, to a boundary stone inscribed ‘J. G. D., 1868, No. 2,’ and placed at the southern extremity of the fence forming the western boundary of the Jarrow Grange Estate aforesaid, near the western end of the culvert which carries the line of the Pontop and Jarrow Railway over Bede's Burn aforesaid, and extending thence generally northward along the said estate boundary, passing thereby to the west of Road Cottage and Springwell Cottages to a boundary stone inscribed ‘J. G. D., 1868, No. 3,’ and placed near the said Springwell Cottages, upon the southern bank of the River Tyne aforesaid, and extending thence due northward and in a straight line to the boundary in the middle of the said River Tyne which divides the county of Northumberland from the county of Durham as aforesaid, and extending thence eastward along the said county boundary to the first-described point opposite to the southern landing-place of the steam-boat ferry between Willington Quay and West Quay as aforesaid, where the said imaginary line commenced.”

And whereas a draft of the said scheme has in accordance with the provisions of the hereinbefore secondly mentioned Act, been transmitted to the patrons and to the Incumbent of the parish of Jarrow, out of which it is intended that the district therein recommended to be constituted shall be taken.

And whereas upwards of one calendar month has elapsed since drafts of the said scheme were transmitted as aforesaid.

And whereas the Incumbent aforesaid has assented to the said scheme, and all the patrons aforesaid, save one, have likewise assented, and that one patron has offered and taken certain observations and objections to the said scheme which together with such scheme have been laid before Her Majesty in Council.

And whereas notwithstanding such observations and objections, the said scheme has been approved by Her Majesty in Council; now, therefore, Her Majesty by and with the advice of Her said Council, is pleased hereby to ratify the said scheme, and to order and direct that the same and every part thereof shall be effectual in law immediately from and after the time when this Order shall have been duly published in the London Gazette, pursuant to the said Acts; and Her Majesty, by and with the like advice, is pleased hereby to direct that this Order be forthwith registered by the Registrar of the said diocese of Durham.

Arthur Helps.

AT the Court at Windsor, the 19th day of June, 1868.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act passed in the session of Parliament held in the sixteenth and seventeenth years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled “An Act to amend the laws concerning the burial of the dead in England, beyond the limits of the Metropolis, and to amend the Act concerning the burial of the dead in the Metropolis,” it is enacted that, in case it appears to Her Majesty in Council, upon the representation of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, that for the protection of the public health, the opening of any new burial-ground in any city or town, or within any other limits, save with the previous approval of one of such Secretaries of State,