

up in very good order, and to every Bodies satisfaction. There were the Kings Trumpets, Tymbals, Hautbois, &c. from the beginning to the end. The Company was very numerous, and of the best Quality of Scots and English in Town.

Paris, July 14. The King returned the 9th Instant from Morli. We have advice by the way of Marseilles, that the French Fleet arriv'd the 26th of the last month before Argiers; that the Gallies had taken their Post; and were preparing to bombard the place. The Marechal d'Humières is gone to take the Waters at Aix la Chapelle.

Tarmonth, July 1. This being the Thanksgiving Day for the happy Birth of the Prince, was here Solemniz'd in a more particular manner; The Nine Companies of Colonel Taffin's Regiment, under the Command of Lieutenant Colonel Rupert Billingsley, in the morning were drawn together; and after Church all the Officers went to an Entertainment at the Mayor's House; in the Evening the Companies lined the Walls near the Main-Guard and Market-place, the Lieutenant Colonel having invited the Mayor, Aldermen, and other Persons of Quality, to drink the King's, Queen's, and Prince's Healths, several Volleys of small shot, and all the great Guns from the Main-Guard and Fort were discharged several times. The Company then attended the Mayor to a Bonfire on a Hill near the Guard, of an extraordinary height, the Mast on which it was built being above 70 Foot high, furnished with a number of Pitch Barrels, Raggots, and other combustible matter; where the King's, Queen's, and Prince's Healths being repeated; they all return'd to the Guard, three Tents being pitch'd, where they were entertained with several Fireworks made on the Downs, betwixt the Sea and the Town, for above an hour, and then concluded with several Volleys again, Huzzas, Bells ringing, and all other Demonstrations of Joy imaginable, suitable to so great an Occasion.

Ludlow in Shropshire, July 1. The Mayor, Corporation, and Town's Men, with all Demonstrations of Joy, celebrated the Prince's Birth; drinking the King's, Queen's, and Prince's Healths, with the rest of the Royal Family; the Town Company of Musquetiers firing at every Health, Drums beating, Trumpets sounding, and all other Musick playing, the Conduits running with Wine, Bells ringing, Bonfires, &c.

Durham, July 2. Yesterday, being the Day of Thanksgiving for the Birth of the Prince, was solemnized here in the following manner. About Nine of the Clock in the Morning, the Deputy-Lieutenants, Justices of the Peace, and divers of the Genery, with the Mayor, Aldermen and Common Council came up to the Lord Bishop of Durham's Palace, and from thence they all attended his Lordship to the Cathedral, where the Sub-Dean (the Dean being absent,) and the Prebendaries, with all belonging to the Choir, were ready to receive his Lordship at his Entrance into the Church; then they sung Te Deum in Solemn Procession, and conducted his Lordship up to his Great Seat; afterwards the Form of Prayer and Thanksgiving was read by the Prebendaries; and the Lord Bishop preached a very Excellent Sermon, exhorting all to Loyalty and Obedience to their King; which was highly approved by a numerous Auditory. Then the same Company attended his Lordship back again to his Palace, where he entertained them all very much to their Satisfaction in his great Hall. After Evening Prayers a great Bonfire was lighted upon the Palace Green, where Their Majesties Healths, and the Young Prince's were drunk with great Acclamations: From thence all the Gentlemen went to the Town Hall, where Mr. Mayor performed his part very well towards all the Company, in repeating the same Ceremonies; the City Conduit running with Wine all the while, Bells and Bonfires all over the Town concluded the Solemnity.

The next day the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council, signed an Address, unanimously Congratulating Their Majesties upon this Joyful Occasion.

Gloucester, July 2. The Prince's Birth was solemnly celebrated here yesterday: The day began with the ringing of Bells in all Churches; and all things, by Mr. Mayor's Order, were carried very magnificently, for all the Conduits run with Wine; Bonfires and illuminations were in all the Streets; Rockets, Runners on the Line, Wheels, Reporters, Hercules-Club, and great Guns, with all manner of other Fireworks, were discharged; inasmuch that the whole City seem'd one Grand Mass of Light: And all this performed with such a real unanimity, that by their perpetual Huzzas, they appear'd to have but one Heart. There have scarcely in any place ever been seen truer Signs of Joy; nor, indeed, a more splendid Show. All this was attended (according to the usual manner,) with the Streamers of all the Guilds; the Masters and Members of every respective Guild appearing in their Gowns and Formalities, and the Mayor and Aldermen in their Scarlet; first praying for, and afterwards drinking the King's, Queen's, and Prince's Healths.
