FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1871.

AT the Council Chamber, Whitehall, the 31st day of August, 1871.

By the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

PRESENT,

Earl Granville.
Mr. Stansfeld.

WHEREAS by an Act passed in the sixth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth, chapter seventy-eight, it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that it shall and may be lawful for the Lords and others of His Majesty's Privy Council, or any two or more of them, to make such Order as they shall see necessary and expedient upon any unforeseen emergency, or in any particular case or cases, with respect to any vessel arriving and having any infectious disease or distemper on board, or on board of which any infectious disease or distemper may have appeared in the course of the voyage, or arriving under any other alarming or suspicious circumstances as to infection, although such vessel shall not have come from any place from which His Majesty, his heirs and successors, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, may have adjudged and declared it probable that the Plague, or any such disease or distemper may be brought, and also with respect to the persons, goods, wares, and merchandize, and other articles, as aforesaid, on board the same; and in case of any infectious disease or distemper appearing or breaking out in the United Kingdom or the islands aforesaid, to make such Orders and give such direction, in order to cut off all communication between any persons infected with any such disease or distemper, and the rest of His Majesty's subjects, as shall appear to the Lords or others of His Majesty's Privy Council, or any two or more of them, to be necessary and expedient for that purpose, and likewise to make such Orders as they shall see fit, for shortening the time of quarantine to be performed by particular vessels or particular persons, goods, wares, merchandize, or any other articles, or for absolutely or conditionally releasing them, or any of them, from quarantine: and all such Orders so made by the Lords or others of the Privy Council, or any two or more of them, as aforesaid, shall be as good, valid, and effectual, to all intents and purposes, as well with respect to the Commander, Master, or other person, having the charge of any vessel, and all other persons on board the same, as with respect to any other persons having any intercourse or communication with them, and to the penalties, forfeitures, and punishments to which they may respectively become liable, as any Order or Orders made by His Majesty, His heirs, and successors, by and with the advice of His or their Privy Council concerning quarantine, notified by Proclamation or published in the London Gazette:

And whereas the Island of Jersey is included in the said Act of Parliament which has been duly registered and has force of law in the said Island.

And whereas Cholera is now prevailing in certain parts of Continental Europe, with which the said Island of Jersey has communication, and it is requisite to take precaution, as far as practicable, against the introduction of that disease into that Island.

Now, therefore, the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, by virtue of the powers in this behalf by the recited enactment or otherwise in them vested, do order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows:—

1. In this Order—

The term "ship" includes vessel or boat:

The term "master" includes the officer or person for the time being in charge or command of a ship:

The term "Cholera" includes Choleraic Diarrhoea:

The term "Local Authority" means the Sanitary Committee of the States of the Island of Jersey, or such person or persons as the said States may appoint from time to time for the purposes of the present Order, instead of or in conjunction with the said Sanitary Committee.

The terms "clothing and bedding" mean and include all clothing and bedding in actual use, and worn or used by a person attacked with Cholera at the time of and during such attack.

2. It shall be lawful for the proper Local Authority in the said Island of Jersey, having reason to believe that any ship arriving at or near the said Island of Jersey comes from a place infected with Cholera, to visit and examine such ship before it enters any port, or lands any person or thing in the said island, for the purpose of
