Published by Authority.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1871.

AT the Council Chamber, Whitehall, the 28th day of September, 1871.

By the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

PRESENT,

Mr. Secretary Cardwell.
Mr. Forster.

THE Lords and others of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, by virtue and in exercise of the powers in them vested under The Contagious Diseases (Animals) Act, 1869, (in this Order referred to as the Act of 1869,) and of every other power enabling them in this behalf, do order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows:—

1. This Order shall take effect from and immediately after the twenty-ninth day of September, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one; and words in this Order have the same meaning as in the Act of 1869.

2. Notwithstanding anything in the Order of Council bearing date the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one, (specifying the ports in Great Britain at which foreign animals may be landed,) foreign animals may be landed at the port of Newhaven.

3. All the regulations applicable to the landing of foreign animals at the ports comprised in the Schedule to the said Order shall apply to foreign animals landed at the port of Newhaven.

Arthur Helps.

AT the Council Chamber, Whitehall, the 28th day of September, 1871.

By the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

THE Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, by virtue and in exercise of the powers in them vested under The Contagious Diseases (Animals) Act, 1869, and of every other power enabling them in this behalf, do hereby revoke their Order, bearing date the twenty-sixth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and seventy, defining the part of the Port of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, in the borough and county of that name, within which foreign cattle might be landed for slaughter: Provided that nothing herein shall be deemed to invalidate or make unlawful anything done under the said

Order before the date of this revocation, or interfere with the institution or prosecution of any proceeding in respect of any offence committed against, or any penalty incurred under, the said Order.

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
September 28, 1871.*

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received, from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a Despatch from Her Majesty's Consul at Patras, reporting that all vessels arriving in Greek ports will be required to furnish themselves with bills of health from the Greek Consul at the port from which they departed; and if there be no Greek Consul at that port, then from a Consul of some other nation. If the vessel be furnished with a foul bill of health, she must proceed to one of the under-mentioned ports to perform quarantine; viz.:

Corfu,
Delos,
Sciathos,

Agio Yorghli, in the Bay of Salamis;

if she have no bill of health from the Greek Consul, nor from any other Consul, she will be subjected to a quarantine of observation of from five to eleven days, according to the dispositions of the crew and passengers.

(C. 888.)

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
September 28, 1871.*

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received, from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a telegram from Her Majesty's Chargé d'Affaires at Madrid, to the effect that, in the case of vessels proceeding to Spanish ports, quarantine performed at Gibraltar is equivalent to that performed at Vigo or Port Mahon.

(C. 889.)

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
September 25, 1871.*

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received, from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a despatch from Her Majesty's Consul at Havre, reporting that vessels arriving at that port from the United Kingdom, do not require bills of health.

(C. 892.)

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
September 28, 1871.*

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a Despatch from Her Majesty's Consul at Carthagena, reporting that vessels arriving at that port with clean bills of health from Ireland, Scotland, and Gibraltar, are admitted to free pratique, and that vessels from England are also admitted to pratique after three days' observation.
