THE FAIRS ACT, 1871.

NEWPORT FAIR, ESSEX.

WHEREAS a representation has been duly made to me, as Secretary of State for the Home Department, by the Justices sitting in Petty Sessions for the Division of Walden, in the county of Essex, that a Fair has been annually held on the 17th and 18th days of November, in the parish of Newport, in the said division of the said county, and that it would be for the convenience and advantage of the public that the said Fair should be abolished :

And whereas notice of the said representation, and of the time when I should take the same into consideration, has been duly published in pursuance of "The Fairs Act, 1871:"

And whereas on such representation and consideration it appears to me that it would be for the convenience and advantage of the public that the said Fair should be abolished :

And whereas William Charles Smith, of Shortgrove, in Newport, in the county of Essex, Esq., as lord or owner of the said Fair, and the tolls thereof, has consented in writing that the said Fair should be abolished :

Now, therefore, I, as the Secretary of State for the Home Department, in exercise of the powers vested in me by "The Fairs Act, 1871," do hereby order that the Fair which has been annually held on the 17th and 18th days of November, in the parish of Newport, in the Petty Sessional Division of Walden, in the county of Essex, shall be abolished as from the date of this order.

Given under my hand at Whitehall, this 19th day of July, 1872.

Civil Service Commission, July 18, 1872.

The Civil Service Commissioners hereby give notice, that at an examination for two County Surveyorships in Ireland, held in Dublin on the 18th June, and following days, the undermentioned candidates obtained the places marked against their names :—

1. Charles Frederic Green.
2. Samuel Alexander Kirkby.

WE, whose names are hereunder written, having been sworn this eighteenth day of July, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, before the Queen's Remembrancer, at Goldsmiths' Hall, in the city of London, have made the Assays and Trials of Her Majesty's Gold and Silver Coins in the Pyx of the Mint, and which, according to accounts produced by the officers of the Mint, were coined in the said Mint from the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one, to the thirtieth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, both days inclusive. We ascertained that the number of coins, both of Gold and Silver, in each packet produced to us, corresponded with the number which the officers of the Mint represented it to contain, and we took a coin or coins from each of such packets of Gold coins, making altogether seventy-one sovereigns or twenty shilling pieces, and six half sovereigns or ten shilling pieces, and we weighed each of the said coins separately, so as to ascertain whether they were within the remedy prescribed in the First Schedule of the Coinage Act, 1870. We found that the amount of variation from the standard of weight specified in the said First Schedule of the said Act was minus one thousandth of an ounce (or 0.001) on the whole of such coins, and that, therefore, they were within the prescribed remedy as to weight. We then melted the said Gold coins, so taken out and weighed, into an Ingot, and assayed such Ingot, comparing it with the Standard Gold Trial Plate produced by the Board of Trade, so as to ascertain whether the metal was within the remedy as to fineness prescribed in the said First Schedule to the said Act; and we found that there was no variation thereof from the Standard of Fineness specified in the said First Schedule to the said Act, and, therefore, that the said metal was within the prescribed remedy as to fineness. We weighed the residue of the said Gold coins in bulk, and we ascertained that they were within the remedy as to weight. We then took from such residue six sovereigns and three half sovereigns and weighed and assayed them separately, and we found that such sovereigns weighed respectively:—the first, 123.374 grains, the second, 123.374 grains, the third Standard, the fourth 123.244 grains, the fifth 123.304 grains, and the sixth 123.124 grains, and that such half-sovereigns weighed respectively, the first 61.687 grains, the second Standard, and the third 61.717 grains. We then assayed the said six sovereigns and three half-sovereigns separately, and we found the millesimal fineness of such sovereigns to be 916.9, 916.7, 916.5, 917.2, 916.6, 916.6, respectively, and the millesimal fineness of such half-sovereigns to be 916.6, 916.6, 916.6, respectively. We also took a coin from each of such packets of Silver coins, making altogether forty florins, thirty-eight shillings, twenty-five sixpences, and of Maunday moneys, one fourpence and six threepences, and weighed each of the said Silver coins separately, so as to ascertain whether they were within the remedy of the said First Schedule of the said Coinage Act, 1870. We found that the amount of variation from the Standard of Weight specified in the said First Schedule of the said Act was fifty-four thousandths of an ounce (or 0.054) on the whole of such coins, and that, therefore, they were within the prescribed remedy as to weight. We then melted the said Silver coins, so taken out and weighed, into an Ingot, and assayed such Ingot, comparing it with the Standard Silver Trial Plate produced by the Board of Trade, so as to ascertain whether the metal was within the remedy as to fineness prescribed in the said First Schedule to the said

Act, and we found that the amount of variation from the Standard of Fineness specified in the said First Schedule to the said Act, was plus .0009, and, therefore, that the said metal was within the prescribed remedy as to fineness. We weighed the residue of the said Silver coins in bulk, and we ascertained that they were within the remedy as to weight. We then took from such residue two florins, two shillings, and one sixpence, and weighed and assayed them separately, and we found that such florins weighed, respectively, the first 17.695 grains, the second Standard, and that such shillings weighed, respectively, the first 87.372 grains, the second Standard, and that such sixpence weighed 43.656 grains. We then assayed the said two florins, the said two shillings, and the said sixpence separately, and we found the millesimal fineness of such florins to be 925.9 and 925.8 respectively, of such shillings to be 926.8 and 926.5 respectively, and of such sixpence to be 926.8.
