Downing Street, September 12, 1872.

THE Queen has been pleased to appoint Colonel Robert William Harley, C.B., to be Administrator of the Government of Her Majesty's Settlement on the Gold Coast, on the Western Coast of Africa.

Her Majesty has also been pleased to appoint Herbert Taylor Ussher, Esq., C.M.G., to be Lieutenant-Governor of the Island of Tobago.

Whitehall, July 30, 1872.

The Lord Chancellor has appointed Samuel Leech, of Derby, Gentleman, to be a Commissioner to administer oaths in the High Court of Chancery in England.

THE FAIRS ACT, 1871.

KELVEDON FAIR.

IN pursuance of the above-mentioned Act, I, the Right Honourable Henry Austin Bruce, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, hereby notify as follows :

1. A representation has been duly made to me by the Justices sitting in Petty Sessions for the Witham Division of the county of Essex, that a Fair has been annually held on Easter Monday and Tuesday, in the parish of Kelvedon, in the said division of the said county, and that it would be for the convenience and advantage of the public that such Fair should be abolished.

2. On the 12th day of October, 1872, I shall take the aforesaid representation into consideration, and all persons are to intimate, before that day, any objection they may desire to offer to the abolition of the said Fair.

(Signed) H. A. Bruce.

THE FAIRS ACT, 1871.

HENLEY-UPON-THAMES FAIR.

WHEREAS a representation has been duly made to me, as Secretary of State for the Home Department, by the Justices of the Corporate Town of Henley-upon-Thames, in the county of Oxford, that a Fair has been annually held on the first Thursday after the 21st day of September in the said town, in the said county, and that it would be for the convenience and advantage of the public that the said Fair should be abolished :

And whereas notice of the said representation, and of the time when I should take the same into consideration, has been duly published in pursuance of "The Fairs Act, 1871:"

And whereas on such representation and consideration it appears to me that it would be for the convenience and advantage of the public that the said Fair should be abolished :

And whereas Edward Mackenzie, Esq., of Fawley Court, in the county of Bucks, the Lord of the Manor of Henley-upon-Thames, as lord or owner of the said Fair and the tolls thereof, has consented in writing that the said Fair should be abolished :

Now therefore, I, as the Secretary of State for the Home Department, in exercise of the powers vested in me by "The Fairs Act, 1871," do hereby order that the Fair which has been annually held on the first Thursday after the 21st day of September in the town of Henley-upon-Thames, in the county of Oxford, shall be abolished as from the date of this order.

Given under my hand at Whitehall, this 11th day of September, 1872.

(Signed) H. A. Bruce.

THE FAIRS ACT, 1871.

GOOD EASTER FAIR.

WHEREAS a representation has been duly made to me, as Secretary of State for the Home Department, by the Justices sitting in Petty Sessions for the Chelmsford Division of the county of Essex, that a Fair has been annually held on the 17th day of July, in the village of Good Easter, in the said division of the said county, and that it would be for the convenience and advantage of the public that the said Fair should be abolished :

And whereas notice of the said representation, and of the time when I should take the same into consideration, has been duly published in pursuance of "The Fairs Act, 1871:"

And whereas, on such representation and consideration, it appears to me that it would be for the convenience and advantage of the public that the said Fair should be abolished :

And whereas it appears that there is no lord or owner of the said fair and the tolls thereof :

Now therefore, I, as the Secretary of State for the Home Department, in exercise of the powers vested in me by "The Fairs Act, 1871," do hereby
