THE Board of Trade have received through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs a Despatch from Her Majesty's Minister at Madrid, enclosing the following translation of a Decree, published in the Official Gazette of the 5th June, containing New Regulations as to the Manifests to be presented by Captains and Masters of Merchant Vessels on arrival in Spanish Ports, together with a further Decree on the same subject :—

(Translation.)

DECREE.

THE Government of the Republic considering the reasons brought forward by the Minister of Finance, in conformity with the Council of Ministers, and having consulted the Council of State, has thought fit to issue the following Decree :—

Art. 1. Every captain of a vessel laden or in ballast, coming from abroad, whether he brings his cargo intransit, for deposit, trans-shipment, or immediate consumption, shall have with him the general manifest mentioned in Article 46 of the Ordinances visé by the Spanish Consul at the starting point, or by the Local Authorities if there be no Spanish Consul. Captains coming from the Spanish Free Ports and from the colonies shall bring the manifest visé by the "Intervencion del Registro" or by the despatching Custom-houses respectively. This manifest, as a general one, shall include all the cargo, venture goods (paquetillas), and parcels (encargos), which the ship may bring, and only one manifest can be visé for each voyage.

Art. 2. A fine of 1,000 pesetas shall be imposed on the captain of a vessel of 80 or more metrical tons, who has not his manifest drawn up when he enters Spanish waters, or a Spanish port, or who, having his manifest, has not got it vizé according to the previous article.

Art. 3. The absence of the viséd manifest, in cases of vessels under 80 metrical tons, shall be punished by a fine of from five to ten times the duty on the goods carried, if the fault be discovered within the Custom-house boundary, and the said absence shall be considered as smuggling or fraud, as the case may be, if the discovery be made in Spanish waters.

Art. 4. The same fault, if the vessel is of more than 80 tons, and carries tobacco, woven goods, or colonial produce (sugar, cocoa, coffee, cinnamon, cloves, pepper, and tea), shall be punished by a fine of from five to ten times the duty on those goods, if the discovery be made within the boundary of a Custom-house ; and by the penalties established for the crimes of smuggling and fraud, as the case may be, if the capture takes place in Spanish waters. These penalties do not debar that mentioned in Art. 2. Those who come in on account of "force majeure," duly proved and appreciated by the Customs' authorities, are not liable to the penalties established in Arts. 2, 3, and 4, the Captains being obliged to draw up and present the general manifest within the time that may be given to them.

Art. 5. When packages or cargoes of tobacco, woven goods, and colonial produce (sugar, cocoa, coffee, cinnamon, cloves, pepper, and tea), are declared in the manifest as consisting of other goods, in agreement with the statements in the bills of lading, a fine of from five to ten times the duty will be inflicted. For this penalty the consignees of the goods are responsible, and the captains or masters shall only be answerable when, in drawing up their manifest, they depart from what the shippers have stated in the bills of lading.

Art. 6. The gross weight declared in the manifest shall serve as a basis for the operations, and the plus or minus differences, if they exceed 10 per cent., shall be punished as if they occurred in the nett weight, according to cases 2 and 3 of Art. 209 of the Ordinances. The consignees of goods shall pay if the bills of lading and manifest agree, and the captain if he has departed from the statements in the bills of lading.

Art. 7. Woven goods and clothes shall preserve the Custom-house stamp known as "Sello de Marchamo" for circulating throughout and remaining in the whole nation. Colonial produce (sugar, cocoa, coffee, cinnamon, cloves, pepper, and tea) must be accompanied by a cocket issued by an authorised administration for their circulation throughout the Fiscal Zone.

When woven goods and the other merchandize mentioned in this Article are seized and found wanting in any of the requirements set forth, or with the stamps tampered with, or out of date, or with emendations in the cockets, a fine shall be inflicted of from five to ten times the duty; or the penalties for fraud shall be imposed according as the discovery be made within or outside of a Custom-house boundary.

Art. 8. According to the provisions of the penal law, besides the employés and armed forces and institutions whose special duty it is to prevent contraband and fraud, and to give every kind of assistance for the apprehension of the offenders, authorization to take measures to guard against the commission of those crimes is given to the authorities and volunteers of the Republic, who shall for such services receive the rewards mentioned in Appendix 4 to the Ordinances, viz., the value of the goods seized, or amount of the fines imposed, when both goods and offenders are captured, and the same, after deducting the tariff dues, when the goods alone are captured.

Art. 9. The first part of Art. 292 of the Ordinances shall receive the following addition:—

The captains of vessels coming from the said countries (the Spanish colonies) shall come provided with the manifest mentioned in Art. 46, visé by the Custom-house at the starting point.

Art. 10. Spanish Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and Consular Agents abroad, the administrators of Colonial Custom-houses, and the "Interventores de los Registros" at the free ports, will not place their visa on the manifests presented to them if they are not drawn up in conformity with Art. 46 of the Ordinances, and they shall make a note, authorised by their signature and stamp, of any remarks, mistakes, or emendations in the said manifests, and they shall render useless the lines that remain without having been written on, so as to prevent abuses. They shall keep a register, in which they shall enter with co-relative numeration the manifests on which they place their visa, stating the name, class, nationality, and tonnage of the vessel, the name of the captain or master, the place of destination, and the generic class of goods forming the cargo; and they shall necessarily send advice to the Direction-General of Customs, by the post of the same day on which they hand over the manifest to the captain, on which manifest they shall place the number corresponding thereto, according to the said register. These functionaries shall receive such fees as may be fixed by the Ministry of State.

Art. 11. Cases 1 and 2 of Art. 207 of the Ordinances are abolished, and all those which are opposed to these enactments are suppressed or modified.

Art. 12. The Direction-General of Customs is authorised to reduce or entirely remit the fine of 1,000 pesetas mentioned in Art 2 of this Decree, and those mentioned in cases 3, 4, and 12 of Art. 207 of the Ordinances.

Art. 13. Before putting these orders in force the following spaces of time are allowed to be counted from the day of publication in the Madrid Gazette; one month for vessels from Europe, Asia, and Africa, in the Mediterranean, Africa, in the Atlantic as far as Cape Mogador, and the Canaries; three months for vessels from Cuba, Porto Rico, and the other American ports in the Atlantic, from Greenland to the Gulf of Mexico, inclusive; four months for vessels from all other parts of the globe.

This Decree shall be applied after one month as regards circulation in the Fiscal Zone and in the Interior.

RHEEA OR CHINA GRASS.

AN opportunity having presented itself of obtaining the Rheea—“China grass” or “Ramie”—plant in its fresh state, persons wishing to have a supply of the same for experiment are requested to apply without delay to the Reporter on the Products of India, at this Office, as it is expected that the plants will be ready for delivery by the 20th instant.

The plants will be delivered free of charge in packages weighing about 70 lbs. each, and one or more of such packages can be forwarded to each applicant. Inventors in this country will thus, for the first time, have an opportunity afforded to them of experimenting with the Rheea plant in its green or fresh state. Samples of the dried plant are likewise available for distribution, and it is intended, should a sufficient number of competitors come forward, to arrange for a series of trials to take place with both the green and the dried plant early in November, by which time the autumn crop of the Rheea will be ready.

The prize of £5,000 offered by the Government of India at the Saharunpore trial in August of last year having lapsed, and the proposed trial in England affording so much greater facilities for competition, it is under consideration whether any prize should be awarded on the occasion, and if so, what the amount thereof should be.
