

Act, was minus fifteen ten-thousandths (or .0015), and, therefore, that the said metal was within the prescribed remedy as to fineness. We weighed the residue of the said Silver coins in bulk, and we ascertained that they were within the remedy as to weight. We then took from such residue one half-crown, one florin, one shilling, and one sixpence, and weighed and assayed them separately, and we found that such half-crown weighed 218.381, that such florin weighed 174.745, and that such shilling weighed 87.572, and that such sixpence weighed 43.656. We then assayed the said half-crown, the said florin, the said shilling, and the said sixpence separately, and we found the millesimal fineness of such half-crown to be 924.8, of such florin to be 923.8, of such shilling to be 924.2, and of such sixpence to be 924.9.
