Valuable Potteries for Sale by Private Contract or Tender.

TO be sold, the valuable pottery called the Grim's Pottery, Whitehaven, Cumberland, known as the Old Works and the New Works, which have been long and successfully carried on by the late Mr. John Wilkinson, and those entitled under him, and whose estate is now being administered in an action of Wilkinson v. Wilkinson, 1878, W., 187, depending in the Chancery Division of the High Court of Justice. The Old Works contain 3,253 square yards, or thereabouts, and consist of dwelling-house, cellar, five ovens, printing, painting, and turning shops, four sagger-houses, clay bank, and fiat kiln. The New Works comprise cottage, house, office, large warehouses, crate shops, three pressing shops, colour shop, two plate shops, dipping house, ovens, packing house, and a 25-horse power horizontal steam-engine, heated by two cylindrical boilers, all in good order, and occupy an area of 1,620 square yards, or thereabouts.

The steam-engine, machinery, apparatus, plant, fixtures, and stock-in-trade to be taken at a valuation.

The works are plentifully supplied with excellent water, and are remarkably well situated as regards competition, there being no works on the northern side nearer than Newcastle-on-Tyne, and on the southern side than Staffordshire. The property possesses the advantage of being for the most part freehold. Its proximity to the port of Whitehaven also affords exceptional facilities for the import of clay, flint, and other necessary materials, and export of the manufactured goods to Ireland, Scotland, and the Isle of Man, with which places a large business is transacted.

The works may be viewed on application. Further information, and printed particulars and conditions may be obtained of Messrs. Denton, Hall, and Fox, 15, Gray's-inn-square, London; of Messrs. Atkinson and Collins, Solicitors, Whitehaven; of Messrs. Bischoff and Co., 4, Great Winchester-street, London, E.C.; and G. L. Whately, Esq., of 17, Lincoln's-inn-fields.

Persons desirous of competing for the said estate are hereby informed that sealed tenders, addressed, under cover, to Robert William Peake, Esq., the Chief Clerk of Vice-Chancellor Sir Charles Hall (to whose Court the said action is attached), and marked private, at his chambers, No. 14, Chancery-lane, London, will be received up to and inclusive of the 4th day of February, 1880, in the form annexed to and subject to the particulars and conditions, and signed by the person or persons proposing to purchase.

Such tenders will be treated as confidential and their contents will not be made public. The 9th day of February, 1880, at twelve o'clock at noon, at the said chambers, is appointed by the said Chief Clerk for declaring the result of the consideration thereof.
