*Lord Chamberlain's Office, St. James's Palace,

NOTICE is hereby given, that the State Apartments of Windsor Castle will be open to the public on and after Monday next, the 24th instant.

Her Majesty's Most Gracious Speech, delivered by the Lords Commissioners, to both Houses of Parliament, on Thursday, May 20, 1880.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

I AVAIL myself of the earliest opportunity of meeting you after the recent General Election, and the arrangements required upon a change of Administration.

The cordial relations which I hold with all the other Powers of Europe will, I trust, enable me to promote, in concert with them, the early and complete fulfilment of the Treaty of Berlin with respect to effectual reforms and equal laws in Turkey, as well as to such territorial questions as have not yet been settled in conformity with the provisions of that Treaty. I regard such a fulfilment as essential for the avoidance of further complications in the East.

In accordance with this view, I have deemed it expedient to despatch an Ambassador Extraordinary to the Court of the Sultan.

On the last occasion of my addressing you, I expressed my hope that the measures adopted in Afghanistan would lead to a speedy settlement of that country. Since that period, the gallantry of my troops has continued to be conspicuous, and the labours of my Government in India have been unremitting. But I have to lament that the end in view has not yet been attained. My efforts will, however, be unceasingly directed towards the pacification of Afghanistan, and towards the establishment of such institutions as may be found best fitted to secure the independence of its people, and to restore their friendly relations with my Indian Empire.

The condition of Indian Finance, as it has recently been made known to me, has required my special attention. I have directed that you shall be supplied with the fullest information upon this weighty subject.

I invite your careful notice to the important questions of policy connected with the future of South Africa. I have continued to commend to the favourable consideration of the authorities and of the people in the various settlements the project of confederation. In maintaining my supremacy over the Transvaal, with its diversified population, I desire both to make provision for the security of the indigenous races, and to extend to the European settlers institution based on large and liberal principles of self-government.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons.

I notice with satisfaction that the imports and exports of the country, as well as other signs, indicate some revival in trade. But the depression, which has lately been perceived in the revenue, continues without abatement. The estimates of income, which were laid before the last Parliament, were framed with moderation, but the time which has since elapsed exhibits no promise that they will be exceeded.

The annual estimates of charge, so far as they have not been already voted, will be promptly laid before you.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

The late season of the year at which you commence your labours will, I fear, seriously abridge the time available for useful legislation, but I make no doubt that you will studiously turn it to the best account.

The Peace Preservation Act for Ireland expires on the 1st June. You will not be asked to renew it. My desire to avoid the evils of exceptional legislation in abridgment of liberty would not induce me to forego in any degree the performance of the first duty of every Government in providing for the security of life and property. But, while determined to fulfil this sacred obligation, I am persuaded that the loyalty and good sense of my Irish subjects will justify me in relying on the provisions of the ordinary law, firmly administered for the maintenance of peace and order.

The provisions enacted before the dissolution of the late Parliament for the mitigation of distress in Ireland have been serviceable for that important end. The question of the sufficiency of the advances already authorized by Parliament is under my consideration.

A measure will at an early day be submitted to you for putting an end to the controversies which have arisen with respect to Burials in Churchyards and Cemeteries.

It will be necessary to ask you to renew the Act for Secret Voting.

Among the chief subjects which will be brought under your notice, as time may permit, will be Bills for giving more effectual protection to the occupiers of land against injury from ground game, for determining on a just principle the liabilities of employers for accidents sustained by workmen, and for the extension of the borough franchise in Ireland.

These and all your labours I heartily commend to the blessing of God.

same be taken into consideration by the Privy Council, shall be published in the London Gazette, and shall be affixed on the doors of the churches or chapels of, or on some other conspicuous places within, the parishes affected by such representation, one month before such representation is so considered; provided also, that no such representation shall be made in relation to the burial-ground of any parish until ten days' previous notice of the intention to make such representation shall have been given to the Incumbent and Vestry Clerk or Churchwardens of such parish:

And whereas the Right Honourable Richard Assheton Cross, late one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, after giving to the Incumbents and the Churchwardens of the parishes hereinafter mentioned ten days' previous notice of his intention to make such representation, has made a representation stating that, for the protection of the public health, no new burial-ground should be opened in the undermentioned parishes without the previous consent of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and that burials should be discontinued therein, with the modifications hereinafter specified:

Board of Trade (Harbour Department), Whitehall Gardens, May 20, 1880.

THE Board of Trade have received through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs a copy of a Quarantine Proclamation issued by the Governor of Texas, which is as follows:—

Quarantine Proclamation No. 1, in 1880.

Executive Office, Austin, Texas, April 27, 1880.

BE it known that I, O. M. Roberts, by the authority vested in me as Governor by the laws of this State, do hereby declare quarantine to exist and to be enforced on the coast of Texas, at the stations hereinafter mentioned, to commence from and after the 10th day of May, A.D. 1880, and to continue until closed or modified by direction of the governor.

1. Said quarantine shall be applied to any vessels sailing from or touching at any port or place south of north latitude 25 degrees, and entering any port of the coast of Texas, and also to vessels sailing from ports north of that degree of latitude, so soon as they or any one of them shall have been declared to have infectious disease, liable to be carried in said vessels, their passengers, cargoes, or crews, and should the health officer at any of such of our coast stations be satisfied of the existence of such infectious disease at a port or ports north of that degree before it is so declared, he shall have authority to detain the vessel and report the facts to the governor for his action thereon.

2. The said quarantine is to be enforced under the following rules:—

RULE 1. All vessels arriving at any of said coast stations shall come to anchor, and not be allowed to weigh anchor until boarded by the quarantine officer of the station.

RULE 2. Said vessels shall be detained long enough for thorough and exhaustive sanitary inspection by the medical officer, and shall not move from the station until granted free of by said officer.

RULE 3. It shall be the duty of the medical officer to ascertain every possible fact pertaining to the sanitary condition of said vessel, its crew, passengers, and cargo that might endanger the inhabitants of this State, and in all cases of doubt the vessel should be placed in quarantine twenty days from the date of inspection, and in cases of sickness of infectious or contagious character, said vessel shall be detained in quarantine twenty-five days after all such disease on said vessel has disappeared; and if in any case the health officer should be satisfied that a detention for a longer time than here prescribed was necessary for safety, he must forthwith report the facts to the Governor.

RULE 4. Any contemplated modifications of Rule 3 at any of such ports shall first be submitted to the governor for his action, to be granted only upon such conditions as to expense and under such regulations as may be prescribed, so as to secure positive safety, which action shall govern all ports alike upon similar conditions, regulations, and restrictions as nearly as may be found practicable.

3. All vessels coming from infected ports laden with such articles only as will not convey yellow fever, such as the following: iron and steel, not covered with cloth or paper; bacon in bulk or in hogsheads or boxes; lard in barrels, kegs, or metallic vessels; salt of every description; lime and cement in bulk or barrels; sulphate of zinc, iron, copper, and potassa, or their chlorides and carbonates, may be admitted upon such conditions, regulations and restrictions as may be stipulated beforehand for the admission of such vessels at any port, and proper arrangements made therefor, under such directions as may be sanctioned by the governor.

4. Vessels coming empty from infected ports for shipping cattle may be admitted at any port after complete arrangements have been made to insure positive safety under such conditions, regulations, and restrictions as may be prescribed beforehand upon application therefor.

5. The station at Sabine Pass will be under control for quarantine purposes of such health officer and other agents and employés as may be appointed by the county judge and commissioners' court of Jefferson County; the Pass at Galveston to be under the control of the Board of Health of said city, and such health officer, agents, and employés, as they may appoint for quarantine purposes; the stations at the mouths of the Brazos and Bernard Rivers and San Luis Pass to be under the control of the county judge and commissioners' court of Brazoria County, and such health officer and guards and employés as they may appoint; the station at Pass Caballo to be under control of the corporate authorities of Indianola, and such health officer, agents, and employés as they may appoint. The station at Aransas Pass, and that at Corpus Christi Pass to be under the control of the city authorities of Corpus Christi and such health officer, agents, and employés as they may appoint. The station at Brazos Santiago, and at the mouth of the Rio Grande, so far as Texas has a right thereat, to be under the control of the city authorities of Brownsville and such health officer, agents, and employés as they may appoint; and said city authorities shall also, whenever it may become necessary for quarantine purposes, make provision for guarding and assuming control of all crossings of the Rio Grande leading to said city, of which, however, notice of its necessity shall forthwith be given to the governor for his sanction or disapproval. The municipal authorities of the city of Houston and the board of health appointed by them, if any, to have control of that city, and such other points in the county of Harris as lead to it, and with authority to appoint a health officer and such employés as may be required, whenever it shall become necessary, and not before, to establish a quarantine there for the protection of that city and the country in rear of it, of which notice is requested to be given to the executive.

6. The local authorities thus recognized as taking control of each of said stations are requested to make contracts with said officers and employés, consulting therein both efficiency and economy, and provide such things otherwise as may be deemed necessary for the service, subject to the approval of the governor, and promptly report the same to him, with names of persons, their duties, the prices agreed on, and cost of things purchased, and whenever any addition to or change is required to be made, that is also to be promptly reported.

They will also approve all accounts admitted to be just, and forward them to the governor for his approval, specifying the nature of the service or the object for which accounts have been made, and as soon as practicable furnish him with a rough sketch on foolscap paper of the station of each port, showing by the relation and names of places how the quarantine arrangements have been made and carried on for the safety of the country.

7. All vessels arriving at any port of Texas from any port south of the 25th degree of north latitude should be taken to be doubtful as to the safety of admitting it, unless, in reference to that particular port south of the 25th degree of north latitude, it has been shown beforehand that no infectious disease prevailed at that place when the vessel left it, or a reasonable time before, and it is so authoritatively declared upon full information sent to this office.

8. The respective boards and health officers should give heed to the instructions and advice of the national board of health and its officers, given in aid of the state quarantine, not disregarding, however, the more rigid and restrictive rules herein required, and made necessary by the nearness of our coast to the tropics.

9. Any vessel coming from a port or place north of the 25th degree of latitude, and which has not been south of it during this season, or which has been properly disinfected after being there, and contains a cargo that has recently been brought from a port or place south of that latitude, or from an infected port north of it, which cargo has been properly disinfected, of which satisfactory information must be furnished to the health officer at any Texas port, may be admitted after thorough inspection and no suspicion of danger is entertained; but if there has been no proper disinfection of the vessel when necessary, and of the cargo, the vessel must be regarded as doubtful and treated as such: and passengers or crew recently from south of said latitude would give the vessel the same doubtful character; and when quarantine shall have been declared upon the land-borders of the state, the same precautions must be taken in regard to all tropical productions, and to passengers and employés transported in railroad cars or steamboats or other vessels into Texas.

10. Whenever any preparations shall be made for disinfecting vessels, or vessels and cargoes, at any station on the coast, or on the land borders of the state, they must be submitted with full descriptions to the Governor, who will pass upon them with the aid of the advising physician, who shall have first inspected them, and in all such cases perfect safety must be assured, before they will be taken charge of by the health officer at any such station for use, and then under such conditions, regulations, and restrictions as may be stipulated.

11. The respective boards and officers acting under them will please examine and observe the laws of this state relating to quarantine, both in the Digest of Civil Statutes and in the General Laws of the Sixteenth Legislature, and all civil officers and citizens are respectively requested to aid said officers in the enforcement of the laws and the regulations under them for the safety of the people of the state against the terrible ravages of infectious diseases, and especially of yellow fever, to which we are the more subject from our southern locality and long warm weather in the spring, summer, and fall months.

12. Being invested with the great responsibility of aiding in protecting the lives of the people of Texas from infectious diseases entering our borders on the gulf and on land, with the aid of an advising physician, I respectfully solicit information from any good citizen at any station, port, or place in or out of Texas, in relation to anything relating to quarantine which after investigation may be believed to endanger the safety of the country against contagious disease.

13. In anticipation of the probability of the yellow fever or other infectious disease entering the territory of the United States at some point north of the 25th degree of north latitude, the following directions are hereby requested to be observed, so as to promptly establish a quarantine on the eastern and northern borders of the state, as soon as it may become necessary, and to be then and not until then, put in force and practical operation :

The County Commissioners' Court of Orange County will take control of the station at the railroad-crossing of the Sabine River, near the town of Orange, and of the other crossings of said river leading to Texas, in said county, and appoint a health officer, agents, guards, and employes therefor; the corporate authorities of Marshall will take like control of the station at Waskum, at the crossing of Texas and Pacific Railroad of the Texas line, and of other crossings of said line in Harrison County, and appoint a health officer, guards, and employes in like manner; so the corporate authorities of Texarkana will take control of the station on the railroad at that place, and at such other crossings of Red River and the state line as are in Bowie County, and appoint a health officer, guards, and other employes therefor; and so the corporate authorities of Denison will take control of the station where the railroad crosses Red River near that place, and other crossings, into Grayson County, and appoint a health officer, guards, and employes therefor in like manner, and be ready to take action of themselves. Upon receiving reliable information that the yellow fever has appeared at any place within the interior of the United States, and until more specific directions are given from this office, they will enforce the quarantine regulations as nearly as practicable against any such infected places as are herein prescribed for the stations on the coast of Texas.
