

the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, in the words and figures following, that is to say:—

“We the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England in pursuance of the Act of the third and fourth years of your Majesty chapter one hundred and thirteen and of the Act of the seventeenth and eighteenth years of your Majesty chapter eighty-four have prepared and now humbly lay before your Majesty in Council the following scheme for apportioning the income of the benefice (being a vicarage) of Hambleton which is situate in the county of Southampton and in the diocese of Winchester between that benefice and a certain other benefice namely the benefice (being a perpetual curacy) of All Saints Denmead which said last-named benefice is situate in the said county of Southampton and in the said diocese of Winchester.

“Whereas the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain acting as such Lord High Chancellor on behalf of your Majesty is the patron (in right of the Crown) of the said benefice of Hambleton and also of the said benefice of All Saints Denmead.

“And whereas it has been made to appear to us that the said benefice of All Saints Denmead is at present insufficiently endowed and that the said benefice of Hambleton has endowments of such an amount as that after the apportionments of the same endowments which is hereinafter recommended and proposed to be made shall have become made the said benefice of Hambleton will still be sufficiently endowed.

“And whereas the Right Reverend Edward Harold Bishop of the said diocese of Winchester is of opinion and we are also of opinion that it is desirable that additional provision should be made for the cure of souls within the cure (being a consolidated chapelry) of All Saints Denmead aforesaid by means of that apportionment of the income of the said benefice of Hambleton which is hereinafter recommended and proposed.

“And whereas the said benefice of Hambleton is now full, the Reverend Thomas White Doctor of Laws being the vicar or incumbent thereof.

“And whereas the said Thomas White has consented to the said proposed apportionment in so far as the same is proposed to be immediate.

“Now therefore with the consent of the Right Honourable Roundell Baron Selborne now Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain acting as such patron in right of the Crown as aforesaid of the said benefice of Hambleton and of the said benefice of All Saints Denmead and with the consent of the said Edward Harold Bishop of the said diocese of Winchester acting as such Bishop and with the consent of the said Thomas White acting as such vicar or incumbent of the said benefice of Hambleton aforesaid in testimony whereof they the said consenting parties have respectively signed this scheme and sealed the same (the said Bishop sealing the same with his episcopal seal) we the said Ecclesiastical Commissioners humbly recommend and propose that without any conveyance or assurance in the law other than this scheme and any duly gazetted Order of your Majesty in Council ratifying the same and as from the day on which the same Order shall be so gazetted the following apportionment of the income of the said benefice of Hambleton shall take place that is to say. First. All those the lands and hereditaments situate at Anthill in the parish of Hambleton aforesaid and containing by admeasurement nineteen acres and one pole or thereabouts which are more particularly described in the schedule to this scheme annexed shall be severed from the said benefice of Hambleton and shall (as from the day aforesaid) together with all that the apportioned tithe rent-charge amounting to one pound two shillings and three pence issuing out of or arising in respect of the same lands and hereditaments or some of them be annexed and belong to the said benefice of All Saints Denmead. And secondly all the glebe lands tithe rent-charges and all (if any) other the endowments which after such annexation as aforesaid shall belong to the said benefice of Hambleton or which may thereafter belong to the same benefice shall be charged and for ever thereafter chargeable in favour of the incumbent for the time being of the said benefice of All Saints Denmead with one clear annual sum or yearly charge of thirty-five pounds, the same annual sum or yearly charge of thirty-five pounds to be as from the day aforesaid due and payable to the incumbent of the said benefice of All Saints Denmead and the same annual sum or yearly charge to be apportionable between any outgoing incumbent of the benefice of All Saints Denmead or his representatives on the one hand and his successor in the same incumbency on the other hand, and to be receivable by the incumbent in whose favour it is charged as aforesaid by equal half-yearly payments on the first day of May and the first day of November in every year.

“And we further recommend and propose that as from the day on which from whatsoever cause the said benefice of Hambleton shall be next avoided the following further apportionment of the income of the same benefice shall (without any conveyance or assurance in the law other than as aforesaid) take place that is to say all the glebe lands tithes, rent-charges and other (if any other) the endowments which may then belong or which thereafter may belong to the said benefice of Hambleton shall be charged and for ever thereafter chargeable in favour of the incumbent for the time being of the said benefice of All Saints Denmead with one other clear annual sum or yearly charge of fifty pounds the same to be in addition to and not in substitution for the annual sum or yearly charge of thirty-five pounds hereinbefore mentioned and to be due and payable and to be apportionable and receivable in manner and at the times hereinbefore provided with respect to the said annual sum or yearly charge of thirty-five pounds.

“And we further recommend and propose that the incumbent for the time being of the said benefice of All Saints Denmead shall as to the lands and hereditaments to be annexed to his benefice as hereinbefore mentioned have all such rights and powers of ownership in the same as are now enjoyed by the incumbent of the said benefice of Hambleton, and that as to the said two clear annual-sums or yearly charges of thirty-five pounds and fifty pounds respectively, the incumbent for the time being of the said benefice of All Saints Denmead shall have the following powers for recovering the same two clear annual sums or yearly charges respectively, and each of them, that is to say, power if and whenever any part of either of the said two sums or charges shall at any time be unpaid for twenty-eight days after any of the times appointed for the payment thereof to enter into the receipt of the endowments charged therewith or any part thereof and to receive and take the same until he shall thereby or otherwise be paid and satisfied the same rent-charge and the arrears thereof due at the time of such entry or afterwards to become due during his being in possession of the same premises together with all cost and expenses occasioned by the non-payment.
