

And whereas it has been proved to my satisfaction that the non-textile factories of the classes mentioned in the Schedule hereunder, by reason of the customs and exigencies of the trades carried on therein, require the extension thereto of this exception: Provided that the period of employment on Saturdays shall end as follows:

If not less than one hour is allowed for meals shall end at one o'clock in the afternoon as regards employment in any manufacturing process, and at half-past one o'clock in the afternoon as regards employment for any purpose whatever; and if less than one hour is allowed for meals shall end at half an hour after noon as regards employment in any manufacturing process, and at one o'clock in the afternoon as regards employment for any purpose whatever.

Now I, the Right Honourable Sir William Vernon Harcourt, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by this Order, made under Part 2 of the said Act, extend the said exception to factories and workshops of such classes.

This Order shall come into effect on 2nd September, 1884, and shall continue in force until revoked.

W. V. Harcourt.
