*Board of Trade (Harbour Department),
Whitehall Gardens, October 13, 1884.*

THE Board of Trade have received through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Ambassador at St. Petersburg, transmitting the following copy of Quarantine Regulations issued by the Russian Government, with respect to arrivals in Russian Black Sea Ports, viz. :—

September 22 (October 4), 1884.

INSTRUCTION for the Sanitary Control over and Systematic Disinfection of Vessels arriving from countries affected by Cholera epidemic.

Confirmed by the Ministry of the Interior on the 12-24 September, 1884.

I.

1. All vessels arriving from a country affected by cholera epidemic shall be subjected to fourteen days observation, as established by the Ministry of the Interior, in a quarantine port.

2. The term of observation shall commence from the time when health guards are stationed on board the vessel.

3. The observation consists in the vessel, the crew, passengers, effects, and cargo being placed under the supervision of the quarantine authorities, and being cut off from communication with other vessels, persons, and the shore, until it be considered entirely safe to allow the vessel pratique.

4. If after a sanitary examination of the crew and passengers, and an inspection of the vessel and cargo by the quarantine authorities, the master of a vessel provided with a clean bill of health expresses his readiness to effect a systematic purification of such vessel on his own account, under the direction and supervision of the quarantine authorities, the observation will only last seven days, including the time employed in putting the vessel into a proper sanitary condition.

5. Must be systematically disinfected: rags of all kinds; clothes and linen, including bed linen,
