Venice, May 5.

THE Captain-General Cornaro is arrived before Napoli di Malvasia, in which there is a Garrison of 500 Men. It's believed, he designs formally to attack that place.

Francfort, May 14 The Imperial Commissaries have provided a great Magazine in this City, for the use of the Forces that are to act on this side; and the like Provision has been made in several other places. It's certain, that the Elector of Saxony will march in Person with his Forces towards the Rhine, which are expected in this Neighbourhood towards the end of this Month. The French are drawing together in Alsace, to compose the Army which is to be commanded by the Dauphin; and some of their Troops have begun to Encamp on the Moselle, not far from Trier, where they are to form a flying Camp, to be commanded by the Marquis de Boufflers. The last Letters from Vienna tell us, that the Emperor had not yet named the General Officers that are to command his Forces this Summer.

Cologne, May 12. We have an account from Suisserland, that the Deputies of the 13 Cantons, being lately extraordinarily assembled at Baden, had given Audience to the Imperial, Spanish, and French Ambassadors; The two first represented to them the French King's several Violations of the Peace and Truce, and the barbarous Devastations and inhuman Cruelties committed by his order in the Empire; desired, they would not grant the Crown of France any more Levies or Recruits, but that they would recal their Troops now in that Service; and offered to receive into the Emperor's pay two Suisse Regiments of 2000 Men each, and two more into the Service of the State of Milan. The French Ambassador told them the great regard the King his Master had for the whole Helvetick Body, and the advantages they might expect from his Alliance, and pressed them to a strict observance of it. Upon these matters, the said Deputies took no Resolution, but referred the consideration thereof to the General Dyet, which is to meet the 21st of this Month at Baden.

Cologne, May 16. The Brandenburg Forces are marching to their Rendezvous; and those that remain still on the other side of the Rhine, are ordered to draw together at Nuis. The Electoral Prince Palatine has taken a review of his Troops in the Dutchy of Juliers, and in the Country of Bergs, and is expected here to morrow. We have advice, that the Bavarian Forces are ordered to march towards Francfort, near which place the Imperial Army is to have its General Rendezvous.

Hamburg, May 15. The Letters from Warsaw inform us, that the Dyet of that Kingdom ended very happily the 7th Instant, at 8 in the morning, for which Te Deum was sung, and the Cannon discharged round that City. They write from Canningsberg, that the Elector of Brandenburg would receive on the 23d Instant the Homage of the States of Prussia, at which, according to custom, two Noblemen of Poland are to be present; after which, his Electoral Highness intends to pass by water to Culberg in Pomerania, from whence he may be in three days at Berlin. And by the middle of June he will be at the Head of his Forces. The Troops of Lunenburg are ordered to march, to joyn the rest of the Confederate Forces on the Rhine; whither the 6000 Suedes will likewise begin their march about the 20th of this Month. We are told from Copenhagen, that the King of Denmark intends to take a Voyage this Summer to Norway.

Paris, May 16. The Letters from Brest tell us, that the French Fleet (which parted from Corke the 17th of the last Month) arrived there on the 4th Instant with 5500 Irish, commanded by Lieutenant-General Macarty, who were come ashore, and quartered about Brest, being to be new clothed before they are put into Garrisons. The French Troops that were sent to Ireland, found no Conveniencies provided for them at their landing; and the Air not agreeing with them, many are fallen sick. They say, the General Rendezvous of the Irish Forces was appointed near Kilkenny, but that they cannot take the Field till Forage is plentiful, having no Magazines; And that the late King James has made Monsieur de la Hoguette Lieutenant-General. They write from Toulon, that Monsieur de Chasteau Regnault sailed from thence the 3d Instant with 6 great Men of War, and 3 Fireships, to joyn the Fleet at Brest. The Chevalier de Noailles parted from hence the 11th for Rochfort, to command the 15 new Gallies that are to be employed in the Ocean. The Dauphin will begin his Journey on Wednesday next towards Germany, and intends to be the 29th at Strasbourg, and the first of the next Month at Landau.

Brussels, May 17. Our Governor-General went the last week to Charleroy to visit that Garrison, and returned hither on Friday last, being guarded by a Regiment of Hanouer Dragoons, under the command of the Baron de Vetri. In his way he viewed the ground about Pieton, where it's said the Confederate Army is to Encamp. His Excellency has sent the Sieur de Trimont to Prince Waldecke, to adjust with him divers matters relating to the Campaign. The Dutch Forces are drawing together about Tillemont; And those in the Service of these Countries are, it's said, to Rendezvous between Asch and Ninove. The Marschal of Luxemburg came on Saturday last to Leuse, where he caused a Camp to be marked out; and a Bridge to be laid over the Scheid near St. Antoin: Which the French Troops that were gathered together between St. Amard and
