SECTION 9. When the name of the consignee of goods shall not be specified in the bills of lading the goods shall be considered as brought to order, and shall be deliverable to the owners on their producing proofs (duplicate bills of lading) of ownership of the merchandize.

A bill of lading shall be considered null and void when it shall not contain any of the following particulars, and the goods to which it refers shall be treated as imported without a bill of lading.

1. Quantity of packages or pieces (excepting goods brought in bulk).

2. Marks and numbers (for goods in packages).

3. Denomination of the goods, and

4. Quantity of goods.

SECTION 10. If on the discharge of a vessel's cargo it shall appear that goods requiring bills of lading have been brought without any, or if the master shall not have made mention of such goods in his report these goods shall be arrested and security given by the shipmaster (section 1,716 of Customs' Code) to the following extent:—(a) Five times the duty if the goods be dutiable, (b) double value of the goods if the goods be of a prohibited nature, and (c) 10 per cent. ad valorem on non-dutiable goods.

SECTION 11. Among the goods indicated in the preceding paragraph, those belonging to the prohibited class shall in every case be confiscated, and the owner of them, or the shipmaster, should he not designate the owner, shall be mulcted in a fine amounting to double their value (section 487).

As regards dutiable and non-dutiable goods, if in the course of a year, reckoning from the time of their landing, their owner shall appear and prove by bill of lading or invoice that they were consigned to him, they shall then be delivered to such owner with the exaction of a payment, in addition to the duty of 10 per cent. "accidence" in the case of dutiable goods and without the infliction of any penalty in the case of non-dutiable goods. At the same time a fine shall be inflicted on the shipmaster to the extent of the duty leviable (section 539), for not entering dutiable goods in his report, on payment of the penalty his security, if the same has been supplied by him, shall be returned to him in full.

If in the course of a year no owner for these goods shall appear, such goods shall be declared as belonging to the shipmaster, and in accordance with the rules respecting goods secretly imported, they shall then, in the case of dutiable goods, be confiscated with the imposition of a five-fold duty, while for non-dutiable goods a fine of 10 per cent. ad valorem (section 542 of the Customs' Code) shall be imposed.

SECTION 12. If goods not designated in bills of lading shall be specified in the shipmaster's report as having been brought addressed or to order, such goods shall be dealt with as follows—

(a) Prohibited goods shall be confiscated according to prescribed rules (section 1,551 of Customs' Code); further, if such goods shall have been brought to the address of any person, and have been entered in the report, the shipmaster shall not in such case suffer any penalty (section 1,554 of the Customs' Code). If, however, these goods be declared by the shipmaster as brought to order, and if he do not indicate any owner or receiver residing in the Empire he shall be fined two roubles per each lb. gross weight of such goods, and when the fine shall have been paid by him, he shall be furnished with a certificate of such payment to enable him to obtain repayment from the shipper or consigner (section 1,555 of Customs' Code).

(b) Non-dutiable goods shall be deliverable without the infliction of any penalty (observations to section 539 of Customs' Code); and

(c) For dutiable goods if the owner appear and prove his claim to them within the period indicated in the preceding paragraph, an "accidence" penalty shall, in addition to the duty, be levied on him, or on the master in his absence, of 10 per cent. Moreover, security for the payment of this fine, as also for that to which the shipmaster shall be liable under point (a) of this paragraph, shall be furnished by the shipmaster.

SECTION 13. If on the discharging of a vessel a package of goods shall be deficient, the nature and quantity of which shall be specified in the bill of lading presented, the shipmaster shall pay duty on the same, computed at the rate to which the highest class of such missing goods is liable, the owner of the goods having his remedy at law against the shipmaster (section 543 of Customs' Code).

SECTION 14. If the deficiency of packages occur in such goods as may only be specified in the report and not in the bills of lading, or the nature and quantity of which shall not have been stated in the latter, the Custom-house, on receiving from the Warehouse Inspector and the Visiting Officer of the Customs, a report of the final discharge of the cargo of a deficiency of goods, shall immediately demand from the consignee of such missing goods the original invoice relating to them which such consignee is bound to supply within 48 hours, reckoning from the time when he shall have received an intimation from the Custom-house on the subject, and the said consignee shall in the Board Room of the Custom-house, confirm by declaration that the invoice is in original and that it is not falsified in any way. According to this invoice, the shipmaster shall then pay an amount of duty to which the highest class of the goods deficient would be liable. If the consignee or his authorized agent shall not furnish the invoice within the time prescribed or should he present it and not testify to its authenticity and correctness, or should the consignee of goods declared to be imported to order not appear, a fine of 200 roubles shall be payable by the shipmaster for each deficient package of merchandize as for contents unknown, and until he shall pay such fine or shall furnish a bond given by persons of known standing and trustworthiness rendering themselves fully responsible for him, the vessel shall not be allowed to leave the port (section 544 of the Customs' Code).

Observation.—The testimony of the consignee respecting the authenticity and correctness of the invoice presented in such case binds him in the same degree as if he had made such testimony under oath (observation to section 544 of Customs' Code.)

SECTION 15. If a bill of lading bear an inscription attested by the persons and institutions designated in section 8, to the effect that a dispute arose at the time of shipment between the shipper and shipmaster respecting the number of packages specified in the bill of lading, the infliction of penalties under such bills of lading for a surplus of deficiency of goods shall be regulated according to the quantity of goods in dispute, as recorded in the bill of lading.

In the same manner a shipmaster shall not be liable to a penalty for a deficiency of goods, as compared with the quantity specified in his bills of lading, when a notation respecting such deficient packages shall have been made by a foreign Custom-house, or when the shipmaster shall present other clear and trustworthy proof that the deficient packages of goods were discharged on the voyage (sections 471 and 545 of the Customs' Code), or not taken on board at all, or further, when the shipmaster shall make a statement of average in his report on arrival at the port, and also note and make a protest (section 470 with observation thereto). Subsequent proofs shall not be accepted.

SECTION 16. If goods imported shall be shown in number of pieces (section 7), without specification of weight, and a deficiency or surplus in the number shall occur, the duty penalty provided by sections 11-14 for the deficient quantity shall be computed in accordance with sections 13 and 14, either by the invoice presented by the consignee, or else on the maximum weight ascertained by the Custom-house of the pieces of which the parcel of goods brought consists. In case of a surplus, such surplus shall be dealt with according to general rule; but if in addition to the number of pieces the weight shall also be stated in the bill of lading, a penalty for a deficiency or surplus shall in such case only be exacted when the declared weight, verified by the Custom-house, shall prove, in cases of deficiency less, and in cases of surplus greater, in a degree equalling at least some one of the pieces or packages of the whole parcel, at the same time the amount of the duty penalty shall be computed only on the foregoing difference in weight.

SECTION 17. If in the shipmaster's report of passengers' list any passengers' packages shall not be stated, and if a passenger who may have arrived by the vessel shall claim them, a fine of ten roubles shall be inflicted on the shipmaster for every package of passengers' luggage not declared, if no claim be laid by any of the passengers to a non-declared package, the shipmaster shall be liable to the penalty prescribed in section 11, which provides for cases in which goods in the absence of owners are recognized as belonging to the shipmaster (section 541 of the Customs' Code.)

SECTION 18. The operation of the preceding paragraph shall not extend to packages which on examination shall be found to contain passengers' effects that have been in use, even though if among them may be found a small quantity of dutiable articles evidently appertaining to a passenger and not intended for sale, such packages may be kept in custody during the space of one month, and, if during the same, its owner appear with clear proofs of ownership it shall be delivered to him on payment of duty, if any be due, and without the infliction of any penalty. If no owner shall appear in the course of a month, the articles contained in the package shall be publicly sold at the Custom-house, and the money realized by the sale, after deduction of duty, if any such be due, shall be paid to the Crown.

Observation 1.—A shipmaster having reason to suppose that his cargo has suffered average must notify the same to the Public Notary within the prescribed period of 24 hours, and also report the circumstance in his Custom-house declaration; the protest itself may be made within seven days after his arrival at the port. In order that the Custom-house may know what shipmasters intend protesting or have protested the Public Notary is bound to report weekly to the Custom-house all the protests that have been noted or made by shipmasters, and it shall be the duty of the Custom-house to notify such information to the mercantile body in lists posted at the Exchange or Custom-house.

For every package shown in the master's declaration, and which shall not be found on the discharging of the vessel, and should the quality and quantity of the missing goods be shown in the bill of lading annexed to the master's declaration, the master shall be liable for the amount of duty chargeable on the highest class of such goods, and the merchant may bring an action in the competent Court against the shipmaster for the loss of such goods.

SECTION 544. Should the deficiency occur in goods for which the master shall not have presented bills of lading, or should their nature and quantity not be indicated in the documents presented, the Custom-house, on receipt of a report from the proper officers to the effect that the vessel has been discharged, and that there is a deficiency in the goods as declared, shall demand from the person to whom, according to the declaration, the goods are addressed, the original invoice, which he shall present within 24 hours, reckoning from the day on which he shall be summoned to produce such invoice, and he shall then be called upon to declare before the Board the correctness and authenticity of such invoice.

The masters shall then be called upon to pay on the missing goods the amount of duty chargeable on the highest class of such goods should the owner of such goods, or his agent, not present the invoice within the time above specified, or should he not declare that the invoice which he shall have presented is true and authentic the master shall pay for each missing package a fine of 200 roubles for the benefit of the Crown, and the vessel shall be detained until such fine be paid.

The master shall be liable to the penalties specified in the foregoing paragraphs even should he have entered in his declaration as in dispute the goods which shall not be found on examination, unless an inscription to the same effect shall have been made on the bills of lading, or unless the master be able to produce clear and reliable evidence of the packages not having been taken on board, or of their having been discharged elsewhere on the voyage, or again, unless the evidence which he shall present be considered satisfactory.

All prohibited foreign goods intercepted, found, or detected; also goods, the exportation of which is not allowed, seized while being secretly exported abroad shall be confiscated, and their owners or the persons smuggling them, if they cannot indicate the owners or the seller of them in the interior of the Empire or in the Kingdom of Poland, shall be fined double the value which these goods will realise when sold.

SECTION 1554. A shipmaster, lighterman, or carman who may have brought prohibited goods addressed to some person, and who may have reported such goods in his declaration, shall not be liable to a fine.

SECTION 1555. - (b.) Parcels which cannot be delivered in the United Kingdom for want of a true direction, or by reason that the addressee is dead, or cannot be found, or has refused the same, or has refused to pay any charges thereon, or for any other sufficient reason;

The following provisions shall apply, that is to say:—

- (1.) The Parcel shall, as the Postmaster-General may from time to time direct, be retained at or forthwith forwarded to such place as the Postmaster-General may from time to time appoint, and may, if necessary, be there opened and examined.
- (2.) Where the name and address of the sender can be ascertained from the Parcel or the Declaration accompanying the same, notice shall be given by post to the sender through the Post Office of South Australia or New South Wales, as the case may be, that the Parcel will, in default of any claim on the part of the addressee, be given up to the sender or his agent, upon personal application at such place as aforesaid, or, at the request of the sender, will be forwarded to a corrected address or returned to him by post in either case upon the conditions hereinafter mentioned.
- (3.) Where the name and address of the sender cannot be ascertained from the Parcel notice shall be publicly given (by affixing the same at such place or places or in such other manner as the Postmaster-General may direct), and notice shall also be given to the Post Office of South Australia or New South Wales, as the case may be, that the Parcel will, in default of any claim on the part of the addressee, and upon payment of such charges as are hereinafter mentioned be given up upon the personal application of the sender or his agent, or be returned to the sender by post.
- (4.) In any case the notice shall state that in default of the receipt by the Postmaster-General of an application for the Parcel during a period to be specified in such notice from some person who, in the Postmaster-General's judgment, is entitled to receive the Parcel, it will be disposed of in such manner as the Postmaster-General may direct.
- (5.) The Postmaster-General may, in his discretion, specify in any such notice, or otherwise, the periods during which Parcels may be returned to the senders thereof, and in so doing may have regard to the nature and contents of Parcels.

- (6.) Where in the case of a Parcel which cannot be delivered for want of a true direction the sender corrects the address of the Parcel, the Parcel shall be forwarded to the corrected address, subject to the following conditions:—
- (a.) Where the sender's name and address appear outside the Parcel and the corrected address of the Parcel is within the same free delivery as the original address and the Parcel is not, at the time of such correction, lying at a Returned Letter Office, no new charge shall be made with respect to the delivery of the Parcel.
- (b.) Where the sender's name and address do not appear outside the Parcel, or where such name and address do appear, but the corrected address of the Parcel is not within the same free delivery as the original address, or the Parcel, at the time of such correction, is lying at a Returned Letter Office, the sender shall pay a new and distinct rate of postage equal in amount to the rate of postage which would have been chargeable on such Parcel as an Inland Parcel.
- (7.) A Parcel shall not be given up or returned by post to the sender except upon payment by him of any charge for redirection or other charge to which the Parcel has become liable under the provisions of this Warrant, or of any such Regulations as are referred to in Section 14 of the "Post Office (Parcels) Act, 1882."
- (8.) Where the sender requests a parcel to be returned to him by post, such Parcel shall not be returned to the sender except upon payment by him of a new and distinct rate of postage, according to the rates fixed by this Warrant, and in such case the said rate of postage and all other charges to which the parcel has become liable shall be prepaid by the sender in stamps before the return of the parcel to him.
- (9.) The Postmaster-General may require proof to his satisfaction that an applicant for a Parcel is entitled to receive the same.
- (10.) Where no application is made for a Parcel within the period specified in any such notice as aforesaid, or an applicant fails to prove to the satisfaction of the Postmaster-General that he is entitled to receive the Parcel, or refuses or fails to pay the charges to which the parcel has become liable, under this Warrant, the Parcel may be dealt with or disposed of in such manner as the Postmaster-General may in his discretion direct or authorize.
- (11.) If at any time while a Parcel remains in the possession of the Postmaster-General, it becomes offensive or injurious to any Officer of the Post Office or other person, or to other Parcels, it may forthwith be dealt with or disposed of in such manner as the Postmaster-General may in his discretion direct or authorize, notwithstanding that the provisions of this Warrant as to the return of such Parcel have not been or have only partially been complied with.

Re-direction of Parcels.

12. Any Parcel may be re-directed from its original address, or any substituted address, within the United Kingdom, to any country or place with which a Parcel Post to or from the United Kingdom and South Australia, or New South Wales is established, and in every case of such re-direction there shall be charged on such Parcel in respect of such re-direction a new and distinct rate of postage according to the rates for the time being payable in respect of the transmission of a like Parcel from the United Kingdom to the country or place to which it may be re-directed, and such postage, if not paid at the time of such re-direction, shall be collected on the delivery of the Parcel to the addressee.

13. Any parcel may be re-directed from its original address, or any substituted address, within the United Kingdom to any other address within the United Kingdom, and in every case of such re-direction there shall be charged on such Parcel in respect of each such re-direction, and (if not previously paid) paid by the addressee thereof in money upon the delivery of such Parcel, a new and distinct rate of postage, equal in amount to the rate of postage which would have been originally chargeable on such Parcel as an Inland Parcel.

Remission of Re-direction Rates.

14. The Postmaster-General may wholly remit the rate of postage for re-direction on any Parcel addressed to the United Kingdom which may, on the request of the addressee thereof, be re-directed by an Officer of the Post Office, and again forwarded by post to the same person at any address within the limits of the same free postal delivery as the address from which such Parcel was so re-directed.

Prohibitions.

15. There shall not be posted or conveyed or delivered by post any Parcel—

- (1.) Consisting of or containing any indecent or obscene print, painting, photograph, lithograph, engraving, book or card, or any indecent or obscene article whether similar to the above or not; or
- (2.) Having thereon or on the cover thereof any words, marks, or designs of an indecent, obscene, or grossly offensive character.
- (3.) Consisting of or containing—
 - (a.) Any explosive substance.
 - (b.) Any dangerous substance.
 - (c.) Any filth.
 - (d.) Any noxious or deleterious substance.
 - (e.) Any sharp instrument not properly protected.
 - (f.) Except with the permission of the Postmaster-General,
 - (a.) Any living creature.
 - (b.) Specie, bullion, gold dust, nuggets, or ostrich feathers.
 - (g.) Any article or thing whatsoever which is likely to injure other Parcels in course of conveyance; or any receptacle in which the same are conveyed, or an officer of the Post Office or other person who may deal with such Parcel.

Any such Parcel, if posted or tendered for conveyance by post may be detained, and either returned or given up to the sender thereof or dealt with or disposed of in such other manner as may be authorized by the Postmaster-General.

16.—(1.) There shall not be posted or conveyed or delivered by post any Parcel consisting of or containing two or more Parcels or other Postal Packets (of the same or of different descriptions) addressed to different persons at different addresses.

(2.) If any such Parcel be posted or tendered for conveyance by post the contents thereof so far as the same consist of Parcels may be forwarded to the addressees of such Parcels charged with new and distinct rates of postage according to the rates fixed by this Warrant, and so far as the same consist of other Postal Packets may be treated and charged as unpaid Postal Packets, or such Parcel may be otherwise dealt with or disposed of as the Postmaster-General may authorize.

Non-compliance with Regulations.

17. In any case not in this Warrant expressly provided for, where any Parcel shall be posted or tendered for conveyance by post which in any respect infringes or fails to comply with the Regulations in this Warrant contained, or any of them, such Parcel may, at the option of the Postmaster-General, either be dealt with as in this Warrant provided with reference to Parcels which cannot be delivered, or be dealt with or disposed of in such manner as the Postmaster-General may in his discretion direct or authorize.

Provision for safety of Parcels.

18. In any case where any officer of the Post Office may find it necessary or expedient for the safety or protection of Parcels that any Parcel should be forwarded or delivered by some later despatch or delivery than that for which the same was posted or despatched, or intended to be posted or despatched respectively, he may delay the despatch or delivery of such Parcel, or make such other and special arrangements as to the despatch or delivery thereof, not, however, involving a greater delay than 24 hours in the whole, as may be deemed by such officer necessary or expedient in the circumstances of the case.

Parcels not to interfere with Letter Post.

19. Where the despatch or delivery from a Post Office in the United Kingdom of letters would be delayed by the despatch or delivery therefrom at the same time of Parcels, such Parcels, or any of them, may be detained in the Post Office until the despatch or delivery next following that by which they would ordinarily be despatched or delivered.

Postmaster-General not liable for Loss or Damage.

20. Nothing contained in or done under or in pursuance of this Warrant shall render the Postmaster-General liable, either personally or in his official capacity, to any action or other legal proceeding in respect or in consequence of any loss or damage of any Parcel, whether such loss or damage be occasioned by or arise from any act or neglect of any officer of the Post Office or any other person.

Customs Regulations.

21. Parcels intended to be transmitted by post under the provisions of this Warrant shall not be posted, forwarded, conveyed, or delivered, except subject to such Regulations as are referred to in section 14 of the Post Office (Parcels) Act, 1882.

Remission of Postage.

22. The Postmaster-General may, in any case in which he may consider it just or reasonable so to do, remit any postage or any sum made payable under this Warrant.
